Six Senate Candidates Compare Issues

By DAVID DIETZ

The six candidates vying for the state Senate seat held by the retiring John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, appeared together for the first time today and differences on campaign issues fell for the most part along party lines.

The four GOP contestants have met in the same forum before, but Michael Peevey, the lone Democrat candidate in the June 2 primary, and Esther Anne Smart, American Independent Party representative, joined the Republicans today on radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" program.

Peevey and Mrs. Smart sounded the discordant notes for the most part, Peevey attacking Gov. Ronald Reagan's administration on such matters as tax reform, school aid and preservation of the environment and Miss Smart sharply criticizing campus protestors.

The Republicans — Peter H. Behr, Hugh O. Pessner, Donald Pinkerton and Raymond H. Shone — generally supported the Reagan administration and said they endorsed his reelection. But they did offer minor disagreements on the topics of the Indochina war, state tax reform and aid or tax credits to private schools.

The issues and candidates' remarks were:

THE WAR

Pessner: He said it may have been unwise to become involved in Southeast Asia in the first place, but now that we are, the U. S. should "proceed to win the war militarily and get out." He did say, however, he would support legislation forbidding Californians to fight there without a congressional declaration of war.

Peevey: Nixon was "totally out of step with the rest of the country" in his Cambodia decision. He said he supported the move by Democrats in Congress to cut off war spending.

Pinkerton: Nixon was "much more capable of making the (Cambodia) decision than I" because of intelligence reports. "I say, 'let's give him a chance.'"

Shone: Nixon had acted on sound advice and "that I think people will see the light and realize he's doing the very best he can with a very difficult situation." He also acknowledged initial entry into Vietnam might not have been wise.

Behr: The President was relying on "poor advice" to use military tactics in a situation which is a "political, philosophical and indeed a moral problem."

Mrs. Smart: The U. S. should not "take on a war it can't win." She added she supported antiwar protest but for "entirely different reasons."

TAX REFORM

Pessner: Generally supported Reagan's program but wanted to study it further, saying he felt certain areas could be modified.

Behr: While acknowledging general support of the package, he felt it should be amended to include increased aid to local schools.

Peevey: Didn't support the Reagan program "one iota," instead backing Sen. George Moscone's tax reform plan. Peevey contended the GOP package would "shift $80 million in taxes from business to the individual taxpayer."

Pinkerton: Supported the Reagan program "strictly as property tax relief."

Shone: He hoped for tax relief rather than just tax reform and disagreed with Assembly Speaker Robert Monagan that the issue was No. 1 in the state.

He said the overriding issue is enabling "people to walk safely in the streets, students to walk safely to campus and stopping buildings from being burned to the ground."

Mrs. Smart: Supported the program largely because "nothing better's been offered."

PRIVATE SCHOOLS

Shone, Mrs. Smart and Pessner said they supported some form of aid to parents wishing private instruction for their children or tax credits to such schools, with Pessner contending that "public schools badly need competition." Pinkerton said he had an open mind on the issue, and Peevey urged a "go slow" policy. Behr, disagreeing with the supporters, said private schools should maintain their independence.

Mrs. Smart lashed out at campus turmoil, telling student radicals to "hire a hall for your politicking so that serious students may go back to their studies."

Pessner said "intellectual revolutionaries and anarchists among faculty and students should be removed from the

CAMPUS SITUATION

Kentfield Normal, Sonoma Still Idle

The College of Marin campus regained the appearance of normality today as the three-day antiwar strike ended and regular classes resumed, but the antiwar protest continued to stir below the surface.

At Sonoma State College, where students voted to strike for the rest of the semester, class attendance today remained halved and striking students gathered in groups to plan antiwar activities.

Students Striking At Tam

A student strike at Tamalpais High School moved into its second day today, with between 400 and 500 students boycotting their classes to work against the Indochina war.

Officials at other Marin high schools reported that studests have returned peacefully to classes.

Striking studests at Tamalpais High School claimed 400 to 500 classmates were honoring a call to boycott the school.

Henry A. Marshall, dean of boys at the school, said the strikers estimate of their own strength was a "reasonable estimate."

A spokesman for the school said later the school would end its day at 1:40 p.m. to allow faculty members to draft a position paper. The spokesman was not clear where the paper would deal with student dissent or American involvement in the war.

The striking students today said they have established a "peace center" at a student drop-in house on Miller Avenue just west of the campus and are passing out informational leaflets and petitions on the war and racism which they prepared yesterday.

Early today, Sidney F. Walton Jr., recently fired principal of Sausalito's Martin Luther King School, addressed an audience of strikers and told them "America is the most racist and violent country on the face of the earth."

Walton drew cheers and applause when he told the students "You young people are the only hope this country has."

Students said they plan to continue the class boycott through

FISHERMAN

At Marin, about a dozen students, apparently members of the Marin Liberation Front, continued to block doorways to the business education building and the library, but no confrontation or other incidents was reported.

Thomas C. Place, a chief mover in the Marin strike as president of the Academic Senate, said the campus was "very depressed" as the strike ended.

The faculty agreed yesterday to hold departmental meetings to work out ways students who wish can turn to full-time peace work for the rest of the semester with the least academic penalty.

Place said several options are open, such as letting the student take credit for work done to date, or take an "incomplete" and finish the course later.

At Sonoma State, striking students yesterday set up action committees to take the antiwar message to the public.

Meeting in classrooms emptied by the strike, they held continuous meetings on how to organize antiwar adults into effective organizations that might affect the nation's foreign policy.

Meeting at the Newman Center off-campus, 11 clergymen met with a student committee to schedule student speakers at church events. First meeting was set for 7:30 p.m. Sunday in the Faith United Presbyterian Church, Rohnert Park.

At College of Marin, a spokesman for the Marin Peace Coalition, which directed the strike against the growing Asian war, said the MPC is continuing its work although campus pickets were withdrawn today and classes resumed.

Students will continue through Sunday to distribute leaflets, letters and petitions throughout Marin, with a major effort planned this weekend to cover the entire county.

The spokesman estimated a

Nixon, Family Off To Florida

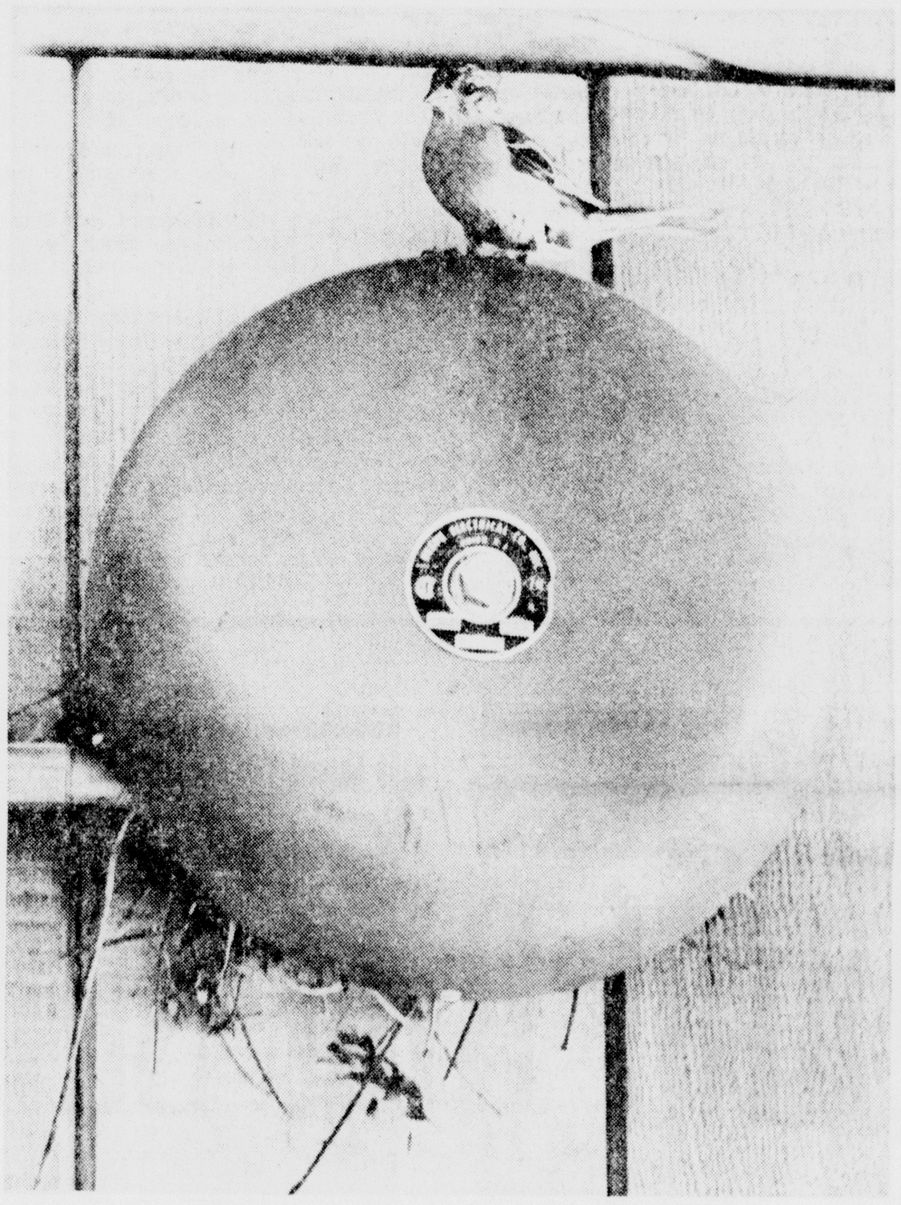
Presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said the President would leave the White House at about 5 p.m. and return from Florida on Sunday.



AN ALARM FOR THE BIRDS

Guard Stands By In Ohio Town As Students And Police Battle

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes today ordered Ohio National Guard units to report to an armory in this city, scene of disorders by Ohio University students Wednesday night.

John M. McElroy, Rhodes' aide, said in Columbus that more than 1,000 troops would go to Athens "for deployment as needed."

The troops will be used at the discretion of Mayor Raymond Sheppard and will not go onto the university campus unless asked by the university administration, McElroy said.

Riot-equipped police dodged rocks and bricks while using tear gas to push 300 demonstrators back to the university campus early today after the students had shouted down university President Claude R. Sowle during a rally.

Police said ten students were arrested on a variety of charges ranging from disorderly conduct to rioting and that one auxiliary officer was injured when the crowd marched to the downtown area, throwing missiles. A few small fires were reported, but were believed set by hot tear gas canisters.

The student strike information center at Brandeis University in Waltham, Mass., reported 257 colleges and universities were on strikes of indefinite length. The center reported 236 schools on strike Tuesday.

A nationwide sampling showed 14 schools officially closed.

The White House announced that President Nixon's daughter Julie and her husband, David Eisenhower, have decided not to attend their graduation exercises at Smith and Amherst colleges. Antiwar protests have been going on at both schools.

Police in Blacksburg, Va., used dogs to help in evicting about 100 war protesters from a building they had occupied overnight on the campus of 9,500-student Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

Later, 200 state troopers formed a ring around the home of the institute's president, Dr. T. Marshall Hahn Jr., to hold off a crowd of 1,250 students who demanded amnesty for those arrested.

In Ypsilanti, Mich., students from 14,500-student Eastern Michigan University broke glass and furniture on campus despite

Cambodian Drives Mean Highs In Allied Casualties

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S., South Vietnamese and Communist combat deaths climbed to new levels last week largely as result of the Allied offensives in Cambodia. The South Vietnamese with U.S. air support opened an 11th offensive today in the Central Highlands area.

The U.S. Command reported 168 American combat deaths last week, the highest in more than eight months. South Vietnam lost 863 dead, the highest in more than two years. And the Communists lost 5,893 dead, their highest in 14 months and many of them in Cambodia.

Today's latest incursion into Cambodia came in the mountainous region 215 miles northeast of Saigon and about 15 miles south of the Se San region where U.S. 4th Infantry Division troops and South Vietnamese 22nd Infantry Division units crossed the border last week.

No immediate fighting was reported in that area, but a South Vietnamese offensive pushing along Highway 1 toward Phnom Penh killed 119 guerrillas Wednesday and U.S. troops pushing into the Fishhook area said they had uncovered "part of" the Communist "Pentagon" in the Cambodian jungles.

The U.S. command said four

SENATE TESTIMONY

Economic Picture Grim, Burns Says

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chairman Arthur F. Burns of the Federal Reserve Board said today the nation's economic picture is admittedly gloomy and predicted that unemployment will continue to rise for the next few months.

Burns testified before the Senate Banking Committee, however, that the jobless situation will improve later in the year.

He foresaw economic recovery "well before the year is over" with prices moving toward stability and the nation treading a narrow line between recession and further inflation.

The nation's unemployment rate rose to 4.8 per cent in April, the highest level in five years. That indicated that joblessness had risen by 1.3 million since President Nixon took office.

In answer to a question at the hearing, Burns endorsed proposed congressional action for standby public hiring programs to put the jobless to work on government payrolls.

Burns said "I would not want to wait before unemployment rises much more before triggering" such a program. But he cautioned that either the government's expenses would have to be cut or taxes would have to be raised to pay for it.

The economic situation, with the stock market at its lowest level in seven years, was discussed also at the White House at a mid-day meeting by Nixon with top advisers.

Burns said the Federal Reserve would make no fundamental change in its monetary policy of permitting a slow growth in the nation's money supply.

"We're traveling a narrow path between recession and inflation," he said of the Fed's policy. "We intend to continue doing that and we won't be diverted from that path."

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., an advocate of a more activist policy in coping with inflation, ticked off a list of economic statistics showing, besides increased joblessness and a declining stock market, a falloff in corporate profits, but a continuing 6 per cent price inflation which he said is likely to get worse with substantial labor settlements later this year.

Burns then cited some hopeful signs including a slowdown in increases in both wholesale and retail prices.

He said they "are signs that finally prices are beginning to respond" to the administration's inflation-fighting program. Burns went on to predict "recovery" toward the end of the year.

Joske Sees Strong Claim For Beaches

Marin County has strong claims for permanent public access to about nine privately owned beaches because of a recent State Supreme Court ruling, the director of county parks and recreation declared yesterday. (Other parks and recreation stories, page 7.)

Pierre W. Joske gave his report at a meeting of the Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission.

On Feb. 19, the California Supreme Court held that if owners of private beaches have ignored widespread public use of the land for more than five yeaars, they "have impliedly dedicated the property to the public."

Joske said the following beaches can be argued to come under the Supreme Court criteria:

China Camp Beach and peninsula; Little Muir Beach directly to the north of the state-owned Muir Beach; Bolinas Beach; Chicken Ranch Beach, fenced off by owner Larry Marks north of Inverness; White House Pool near the intersection of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Bear Valley Road; Walker Creek, between the creek and Highway 1 south of Tomales; Agate Beach shoreline between the county beach and the proposed Point Reyes National Seashore; Estero de San Antonio, the northern boundary of Oceana Marin; and Estero Americano, the boundary line with Sonoma County.

Joske said he presented the list to Acting County Planner Werner Von Gundell and will work to keep public access open to these beaches.

Parks and Recreation Commissioners said they support Joske in his effort to assert the public's right of access to the beaches. Joske said there is always the possibility that someone may contest the public's right to access by taking the case to court.

Nixon Aides, Senators Huddle On War Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration sent a trio of top officials to Capitol Hill today in an effort to persuade Republican senators to oppose efforts to restrict American involvement in Cambodia.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird, White House national security aide Henry Kissinger and Undersecretary of State Elliot Richardson met with GOP senators at a closed session.

The GOP conference and a closed session of the Foreign Relations Committee with Ellsworth Bunker, U.S. ambassador to Vietnam, held principal attention as senators grappled with the Cambodian question.

Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., who supports efforts to curb the involvement, said the administration position remained opposition to all such moves, no matter how modified.

A countermove by GOP Senate Leader Hugh Scott and others is aimed at stopping an amendment by Sens. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and Frank Church, D-Idaho barring funds for retaining U. S. troops in Cambodia and limiting future aid for air strikes, lest Cambodia become another Vietnam.

Scott has proposed amending the Cooper-Church amendment to authorize U. S.-Cambodian operations if the President decides they are necessary to protect Americans in Vietnam.

The Cooper-Church amendment, the first in a series of proposals dealing with U.S. action in Vietnam and Cambodia, is attached to a military sales bill. The Senate formally opened debate on the measure Wednesday in a discussion that likely will occupy it until July.

Meanwhile, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said today that maintenance of South Vietnamese troops in Cambodia after President Nixon's June 30 deadline for withdrawal of U. S. forces would mean the United States would remain indirectly involved in that country.

Noting that South Vietnamese leaders have failed to give a similar pledge, but have indicat-

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

21st Tornado Victim

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI) — A 77-year-old woman, who apparently spent hours buried beneath rubble of her tornado-ripped home earlier this week, died Wednesday, becoming the 21st fatality of the storm.

Authorities said Mrs. Belle Hatch, trapped when the tornado struck her home Monday night, died in the Reese Air Force Base hospital of pneumonia. They said she had been exposed to strong winds and rains that followed the storm that caused an estimated $102 million damage, left 10,000 homeless and injured another 1,000.

Everest Scaled Again

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — A Japanese expedition conquered Mt. Everest on two consecutive days this week placing four men atop the world's highest mountain, the Nepal Foreign Ministry said today.

The ministry, relaying a message received from the expedition, said Neomi Ueomura, 28, and Teruo Matsura, 35, set foot on the 29,028-foot summit Monday morning.

The next morning, the report added, Katasutossi Hirabayashi 36, and a Nepalese Sherpa guide, Chot Tare, 39, reached the top.

Dodd In Hospital

NEW BRITAIN, Conn. (AP) — Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn. undergoes heart tests today in a hospital where he was reported "sleeping peacefully" after suffering chest pains and collapsing at a dinner.

"The doctor doesn't know whether there was any damage at all," Dodd's press secretary, Joe Barbarette, said early today. "They don't even know whether it was a heart attack."

Goldberg On War

NEW YORK (AP) — Arthur J. Goldberg says he counseled against an American military thrust into Cambodia proposed in 1966 when he was U. N. ambassador in the Johnson administration.

Goldberg told of the proposed move Wednesday during an appearance at Columbia University. He said later that the move had been urged by Henry Cabot Lodge, then U. S. ambassador in Saigon.

The former U. S. Supreme Court justice who is now running for the Democratic nomination for governor of New York signed a student petition asking Congress to withhold financing of Indochina military operations.

Sit-Ins Arrested

WASHINGTON (AP) — Police have arrested 21 demonstrators who occupied the office of Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Robert H. Finch for eight hours Wednesday.

The group told Finch they demanded a $5,500 guaranteed annual income and an end to the war in Southeast Asia after invading the secretary's office at noon.

The demonstrators were charged with disorderly conduct.

Finch turned down the demonstrators' pleas that he speak out against the war.

Reds Seen In Laos

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — North Vietnamese forces have approached Saravane, only government-held provincial capital east of the Mekong River, Laotian military sources said today.

The sources said a government patrol saw a small group of the North Vietnamese Wednesday 5 miles west of Saravane and called in artillery support.

Three North Vietnamese were killed and two wounded, the military sources said.

On Bolovens plateau, Phou Luang Noi is still deserted after the government forces withdrew from the position Monday, the sources said. The North Vietnamese have made no move to occupy the outpost in southern Laos. It is an important guerrilla training center with a 3,600-foot landing strip.

Silver Dollar Voted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Coinage Commission has reversed its earlier position and approved a Senate plan to mint 150 million silver dollars commemorating the late President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Asst. Treasury Secretary Eugene T. Rossides said the decision to include the silver came about because the Office of Emergency Preparedness had decided it needed 25.5 million ounces less silver than it had. The commission voted a year ago to mint a nonsilver coin.

The decision to use silver faces a hard contest in the House which voted 267-65 last October to mint a coin containing no precious metal.

No Strike For Bay Teachers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The threat of a Teachers Union strike in San Francisco next week is over.

Wednesday night's vote was 303-227 against a strike proposal backed by the union's officers. If passed, a strike would have started Monday.

Demands, approved in a recent survey of all the district's 4,700 teachers, call for pay raises and fringe benefits, smaller classes, a greater voice in school operations, special help for minority groups and full union bargaining rights to teachers.

Now, according to the plan, the teachers will meet on the eve of school opening in September and vote on whether to strike over the demands.

Coffees Planned By Howard Morehouse

Experts Disagree On Riot Victims

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Coroner Nathan F. Widener says the six Negroes killed in racial rioting here were shot in the back and that five of them had multiple wounds.

The coroner said in a report Wednesday that the size of the slugs which struck all the victims appeared to be about .32 caliber, smaller than the revolvers used by most policemen.

Policemen during the riot Monday were armed with shotguns, and some types of buckshot are about .32 caliber in size, but Widener said he did not think the victims were struck by buckshot. One man had nine wounds, Widener said.

Dr. Joe Caldwell of University Hospital, who examined three of the fatalities and a number of the wounded, said only one of the dead he saw had multiple wounds.

Caldwell said the majority of both dead and wounded had been hit with "small caliber stuff—possibly .22 or .25 caliber." He said one fatality was hit by a shotgun slug which struck the chest from the front.

Late Wednesday, as armed National Guardsmen continued to patrol Augusta's streets and a 9 p.m. to 5 a.m. curfew remained in effect, a written report on only one of the six deaths had been filed by police.

The report said John Bennett, 28, had been shot by police after escaping from a patrol car. Bennett was struck twice, according to the coroner.

Smog Expert Hits Detroit Over Cost, Inefficiency

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A smog expert says Americans have spent nearly $1 billion on auto pollution control devices which don't do the job for which they were purchased.

S. Smith Griswold, former air control officer of Los Angeles County now a smog consultant in Washington, told the American Society of Newspaper Editors Wednesday the automobile industry has been irresponsible in the battle against air pollution.

He accused it of stalling smog fighting efforts, paying only "lip service" to controls, providing inadequate equipment, and trying to transfer financial responsibility for ineffective performance to the car buyer.

He said the industry engaged in "dilatory and diversionary tactics" for years to avoid public recognition it was responsible for most smog.

The auto industry representative on the panel told editors a major victory has been won over automotive air pollution—then asked for more time to meet proposed 1975 federal antismog standards.

Charles M. Heinen, chief of emission control and chemical development for Chrysler Corp., said "the hidden fact is that starting with the 1970 models, the auto industry began to build low emission vehicles."

McInnis, Zucker Invited To Talk

Marin Supervisor John F. McInnis and his challenger on the June 2 ballot, Paul C. Zucker, have been invited to appear at 8 p.m. May 28 at a candidates' night sponsored by the Terra Linda Community Services and Recreation and Park districts.

The event will be held at 670 Del Ganado Road.

Unusual News Conference At College

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Three parties often at odds at San Francisco State held an unusual joint news conference Wednesday, but did not necessarily indicate that their disagreements were over.

Faculty representatives, Third World students, and college president S.I. Hayakawa of Mill Valley, met newsmen. Hayakawa's appearance was unexpected.

Professor Stuart Hyde said that many persons on campus felt Hayakawa had "seriously misrepresented" campus feelings in a hard-line statement he issued Monday.

And, he said, some persons were not convinced that he was committed to maintaining a black studies department at the troubled campus.

Hayakawa seemed conciliatory as he said he had issued the sharp statement Monday because "we were under a more direct threat then."

Some had charged that he wanted "business as usual" and no discussion of war issues and that he was telling those who didn't agree with him that they should quit their jobs.

But Hayakawa replied that he had only "questioned the wisdom" of a faculty meeting of this week and said that "education can never be as usual in crucial times like these."

As for resignations, Hayakawa added that "I only meant to say that if a faculty member is so upset by the war that he can not continue to work, then he is free to resign."

The Third World representatives, speaking before the faculty and administrators arrived, made impassioned pleas for campus commitment to the nation's major ills.

Policeman Tells Jury He Killed Kevin Moran

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — A 31-year-old policeman says it was an unintentional shot from his riot gun which killed a student peacemaker during antiwar violence last April at nearby Isla Vista.

"I was the one responsible for Kevin Moran's death," David Gosselin, a five-year veteran of the force, told a coroner's jury Wednesday.

After hearing Gosselin's account and testimony by a state ballistics expert that the riot gun's safety was defective, the jury ruled that the death of Kevin Patrick Moran, 22, was accidental.

Moran, the eldest of 10 children of Mr. and Mrs. Malachy Moran of Saratoga, Calif., was defending a Bank of America branch in the student-populated community from firebombers when he was shot April 18.

The demonstrators said they were protesting the establishment, as represented by Bank of America. They said they blamed the establishment for the Vietnam war, smog and an oil spill that polluted beaches near the University of California at Santa Barbara last year.

Moran was on the steps of the bank, urging nonviolence to a rock-throwing mob, as fellow students were extinguishing a firebomb inside.

Gosselin said he arrived in a dump truck used as an assault vehicle.

"I ran toward a second dump truck, leaned across the front fender and was sighting the scope of my rifle. I was there to provide cover for other officers arriving in five other trucks," said the 6-foot-3 Navy veteran and onetime demolition expert.

DAVID GOSSELIN
Admits fatal shot

"My first impression was that those on the porch of the bank had been caught and were giving up.

"I had my gloved right hand between the trigger and the trigger guard . . .

"At the time it did discharge I couldn't believe it. I was consciously sure the weapon had fired. But subconsciously I didn't want to believe it . . .

"I had never consciously taken the safety off, and I don't believe I would subconsciously do it."

Gosselin said he then heard a boy on the porch of the bank say that someone had been shot.

"I remember going back to the truck. Then I went into a clump of trees and lay on the ground . . . Just lay there. Many things went through my mind. I can't describe them.

Moran, struck in the right pelvic area, died of wounds from a .30-06 bullet that severed an artery and caused massive hemorrhaging.

Police Chief Alfred Trembly, who suspended Gosselin several days after the shooting, said the officer was being reinstated to duty.

Seed of a hybrid giant begonia sells for $3,500 an ounce, National Geographic says. It takes a million of the powdery granules to make an ounce; a single sneeze could scatter hundreds of dollars worth of seed.

Golf Course Lease Estimate Is Called 'Inadequate, Erroneous'

An appraiser's report that the fair rental value of 162 acres of land leased to the Meadow Club by the Marin Municipal Water District is $5000 was attacked at the district board's meeting yesterday as being "inadequate, erroneous and irrelevant."

The board eventually called for a new appraisal of the rental value of the land.

San Anselmo appraiser David G. Cohn's $5000 figure was criticized by Herman C. Zwart, a candidate for the water district board, and Norman P. Higby of 59 San Marino Drive, San Rafael, a former golf course operator.

Not exactly defending Cohn's report, but challenging Higby's criticism of it was Mary C. Donnelly of 125 Calumet Avenue, vice-president of the Marin Conservation League and a member of the Meadow Club.

Cohn reported to the board at its last meeting that the fair rental value of the land is $5000. The club presently pays $480 a year. It owns some of the property on which it is located, but uses the leased land for its golf course. It has 350 golfing members and an additional 150 junior and social members.

Higby, who called Cohn's report "inadequate, erroneous and irrelevant," said the appraisal should show what the fair rental value would be if the land "were offered on the open market" for use as a golf course.

He said an investigation of the golf course situation in Marin County led him to the conclusion that the fair rental value of the land to the Meadow Club should be $35,000. He said it would be considerably more if offered to competent golf course operators, "but a consideration should be shown to the present renters who have a large investment in surrounding lands."

He suggested the names of two San Francisco firms, which he said were competent golf course business analysists, to conduct the new appraisal.

Higby and Mrs. Donnelly engaged in a short dialogue in which Higby would explain his proposal for determining the fair rental value and Mrs. Donnelly would ask him to explain it, and he would and she would.

While Higby did not suggest that the lease be put on the open market, Mrs. Donnelly said the Marin Conservation League would oppose the move.

Zwart followed a different line of reasoning than Higby and used tax and interest figures to arrive at theoretical land values, and concluded that $25,000 a year would be a fair rental price.

At one point in the discussion, nongolfer Anderson suggested "it would be a wonderful thing to let the public play once or twice a week" on the Meadow Club course.

Higby said that the idea was not feasible, because of the possibility of damage to the course.

Anderson added board member Dr. Leo Stanley to a committee he appointed last month to discuss the lease with the club. Already on the committee are Anderson, board member Jordan L. Martinelli Jr. and Gen. Mgr. William R. Seeger.

The board voted unanimously to acquire the services of another appraiser who will be selected by the committee.

Marin Municipal Water District Board Also:

VEHICLES — Awarded to the low bidders contracts for the purchase of eight vehicles. The district will pay $16,475 to De Long Chevrolet of San Rafael for six of the vehicles, and $16,747 to S and C Motors of San Francisco for the two others. The two firms were the only bidders, and S. and C was the only bidder on the two vehicles it will sell to the district.

CONVERSION — Approved Seeger's proposal that two of the new vehicles be converted to use liquid petroleum gas, which contains fewer pollutants than regular gasoline. The system will be tried for one year. Conversion will cost $300 to $400 per vehicle.

EEL RIVER — Heard Seeger say Jerold Butchert, executive secretary of the Eel River Water Council, would try to appear before the board June 10 to explain the functions of the council.

RELOCATION — Approved plans and specifications, and called for bids, for the relocation of water lines along College Avenue and Corte Madera Creek in conjunction with the flood control project. Estimated cost of the work is $80,363, with the district paying an estimated $16,776 and the county an estimated $63,587. Bids will be opened May 27.

HYDRANTS — Accepted the low bid of $16,747 from the Greniger Co. of Oakland for the purchase of 50 fire hydrants and related materials.

VALVES — Opened, but held for evaluation, bids on the purchase of six butterfly valves. BIF Industries of Walnut Creek had the lowest of three bids with $8,151.

TOILETS — Ratified the action of Seeger in revising the award of a contract for the rental of chemical sanitary facilities. The contract was awarded March 30 to the City Sanitation Co. of Vallejo, whose bid of $13.50 per unit per month was low. However, Seeger told the board, the company did not deliver the units by May 1, as was required by the contract. Because of the need to have the units prior to the opening of fishing season, Seeger awarded the contract to the third lowest bid, Davis Rents of San Rafael, at $17 per unit per month because it was local and had provided "superior" service in the past.

FUNDS REQUEST — Approved an application for state emergency flood relief funds for repair of slide damage to the district's pipeline on Pine Mountain Tunnel Road, about 100 feet in from Bolinas Road, Fairfax; approved Cooper-Clark & Associates of Novato for engineering services in conjunction with the slide repair work; allocated $800 for consultation in preparation of plans and specifications for the project, and $2,500 to $3,000 for inspection and testing during construction.

SCOUR LINE — Authorized Joseph Pell, developer of the Hill Top Apartments in Larkspur, to award a contract for the installation of a scour line for the Escalle Tank to the low bidder, Maggiora and Ghilotti, for $3540.

APPRAISAL — Approved payment of $450 to Edward P. Morphy of San Rafael for his appraisal report on rights-of-way through the Smith Ranch for the district's Fairfax transmission line.

PIPELINE — Approved an agreement with Peninsula Master Builders for a pipeline extension to a new Lucas Valley subdivision. The developer will pay the full $37,074 cost of the project.

TANK — Authorized filing of a notice of acceptance and completion and semi-final payment of $10,305 to the General American Transportation Corp. for the erection and coating of the Rafael Highlands Tank above Fair Hills.

EXCAVATION — Authorized final payment of $865 to Grover Wilson, San Rafael contractor, for excavation of the Rafael Highlands and Indian Fire Trail tank sites.

CHECK — Received notification of recepit of a $694 check representing the district's share of a second distribution of funds resulting from an antitrust suit for copper and brass.

PICNIC — Approved a request from employees of Sierra National Bank in Mill Valley to hold a picnic at Lake Lagunitas Saturday.

GRIEVANCE — Approved in principle a new employees previance procedure. The proposal will be sent to the employees association for its review and returned to the board for final approval.

MEETING — Adjourned to their next regular meeting May 27.

Hurts Shoulder In Highway 101 Wreck

A 46-year-old San Rafael woman complained of pain in her right shoulder after her car skidded into a railing on the Highway 101 bridge across Corte Madera Creek at 9:40 a.m. yesterday.

The California Highway Patrol said Kathryn S. Ambrose of 91 Glenside Way swerved into the rail while trying to pass slowing traffic.

Pessner Plans Talk At School

Hugh O. Pessner, candidate for the GOP nomination for state senator from the Fourth District, will address the San Geronimo Valley Association at 8 p.m. Monday at Lagunitas School.

Pessner's campaign committee also announced reservations are being taken for a second cruise of San Francisco Bay with the candidate Saturday and Sunday. The cruises will start from Dominic's Harbor Restaurant in San Rafael at 1 p.m.

Phone Rate Hike Hearings In June

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The California Public Utilities Commission today set June 15 for the beginning of hearings on a $195 million rate increase request by Pacific Telephone Company.

The hearing will be held at the state building in San Francisco and is expected to last for weeks.

The telephone company said it wanted the additional rates, the largest request in its history, to cover increased costs of providing service and improving service.

Marinite Gets San Diego Post

San Rafael attorney Warren S. Levin has been appointed assistant vice chancellor for business and finance at the University of California at San Diego. Levin, of 78 Crestwood Drive, his wife and two children will move to San Diego next month.

Levin has been an assistant counsel in the legal department of the University of California for five years. He also served in the Army Judge Advocate General's Corps after receiving his law degree from the university's Boalt Hall School of Law in Berkeley.

He is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School, San Anselmo, and is a past president of Northgate Lodge, B'nai B'rith.

Sonoma State Music Canceled

Performances by the Sonoma State College Philharmonic scheduled this weekend have been canceled because of anti-war activities, according to David R. Sprung, conductor.

In a letter to orchestra members, Sprung said three players have flatly refused to play. Others indicated they would not participate unless some statement is made making the concert relevant to the student anti-war movement, while others have said they won't perform if such a statement is made.

"There seems to be no way to bring together all the disparate attitudes. . .," Sprung said.

The orchestra was to have performed Saturday and Sunday.

Larkspur Man Arrested In Smash-Grab Thefts

A Larkspur man was arrested today on suspicion of burglary after two smash-and-grab thefts in downtown stores, Larkspur police reported.

Michael Thomas Hall, 22, of 129 Elm Avenue, was held in Marin County Jail to appear later today in Marin Municipal Court.

At approximately 2 a.m., Sgt. Alasdair W. MacDonald reported, a window was smashed at Fred's Food Center in the 500 block of Magnolia Avenue and eight or nine fifths of whisky taken. A witness reported seeing a young man flee the area.

At 4 a.m., San Rafael policeman Woodrow C. Hoke, who lives in the vicinity, reported a window smash and burglary at Key West Leathers, 482 Magnolia Avenue. Hoke said a young man in a long coat broke the door glass, entered the shop, and emerged moments later and fled.

MacDonald walked down the nearby railroad right-of-way, where the burglar reportedly had fled, and shortly encountered Hall who, MacDonald said was wearing a long overcoat, was very drunk, had glass fragments and pieces of leather on his coat, and had several cuts on both hands.

Police were unable to reach the leather shop owners early today to learn if anything is missing.

Fittings Taken

More than 1,000 copper fittings of various sizes and undetermined value owned by Locke Plumbing, 865 Sweetser Drive, Novato, were stolen between May 1 and yesterday from a locked storage area at the construction site of the Holiday Inn, 1010 Northgate Drive, San Rafael police reported today.

Horse Breeder Denies Felony

Danny Leroy Sedgwick, 30, of Novato, has entered a plea of innocent in Marin Municipal Court to a felony charge of fraud stemming from his alleged misrepresentation of the father of an unborn colt.

A preliminary hearing was set for June 2.

Sedgwick is accused of charging a Fortuna couple $4,000 for a mare which he said had been bred to an Arabian stallion. The Marin District attorney's office said last week, before issuing a warrant for Sedwick's arrest, that the mare had never been near teh stallion and that the new owners were overchargd $2,500.

New Four-Power Talks In Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — The third session of secret Four Power talks on easing tension in and around Berlin began today in West Berlin's former Allied Control Council building.

The British, French, Soviet and U.S. ambassadors to divided Germany arrived at the old Prussian Supreme Court building for the session chaired by Britain's Sir Roger Jackling.

For the first time, France's new envoy to West Germany, Jean Sauvanargues, took part. He replaced Francois Seydoux who retired.

The American ambassador is Kenneth Rush.

Planners Will Air Mobile Homes Views

The pros and cons of allowing mobile homes in the city will be discussed at an adjourned meeting of the San Rafael Planning Commission Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the council chambers at City Hall.

Commissioners and staff members will discuss the possibility of establishing an ordinance on mobile homes at the study session.

Fulbright Says Nixon Has Never Responded

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has never directly responded to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee's two-week old request for a rare face-to-face meeting on Cambodia.

Senior committee members, interpret silence as rejection.

"We have had no reply," said Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., the chairman, "not unless he considers the other meeting to be a reply."

The other meeting was a May 4 briefing when Nixon and several administration officials met members of the Senate panel and the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Fulbright said there was no opportunity then for real consultation with the President.

"That was hardly a conference," said Vermont Sen. George D. Aiken, senior GOP member of the committee. "Apparently the White House was not receptive to the request," he said.

Fulbright said he did not plan to renew the request the committee made of Nixon in a letter May 1, the day after the Cambodian decision was announced.

There were complaints elsewhere in the Senate about communications difficulty with Nixon or his top aides.

One of them came from a source close to the GOP leadership. "We aren't getting through to the White House," this source said. "We have the same problem as Hickel," who wrote Nixon decrying Cabinet difficulties in communicating with the White House.

Israelis Down Two Cairo MIGs

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Two Egyptian MIG21s were shot down today as they attempted to intercept Israeli war planes attacking military targets along the Suez Canal, the military command said.

On the ground, Arab guerrillas in Lebanon fired rockets at two Israeli settlements, defying Israel's massive antiguerrilla sweep through southeast Lebanon that ended only 12 hours earlier, Israeli sources said.

The Soviet-made MIG21s attempted to interfere with Israeli planes raiding objectives on the central sector of the canal, he said.

The dogfights brought to 93 the number of Egyptian planes Israel claims to have downed since the 1967 war.

The Czech-made Katyusha rockets, fired shortly before dawn, caused no damage or casualties to the two settlements—Kfar Blum and Ramot Naftal, they said.

Only a few hours before the latest attack, Deputy Prime Minister Yigal Allon warned Beirut to expect "further and widerscaled Israeli military attacks" unless it stamped out guerrilla activity from its territory.

Israeli leaders said Monday's and Tuesday's 32-hour raid achieved all its obejctives. The military said 30 guerrillas were killed and 15 taken prisoner. Large amounts of arms were destroyed or brought back as booty.

fifth of all Marin homes have been reached so far, and 20,000 petition signatures gathered against the war.

Place said the largly peaceful conduct of the strike was "a very great compliment" to the students and staff.

A few classes were disrupted by militants Monday, and one teacher reported she feared to teach Tuesday and yesterday after liberation front members invaded her classroom Monday.

Place said the strike gave upset students a chance to do something positive. Holding down people who are emotionally upset, he said, can lead to destructive action. "Kids end up throwing rocks and they don't even know why they're throwing rocks."

At Sonoma State, 10 groups were formed to work in Marin, Sonoma and Napa communities to organize and inform residents.

Committees formed include churches and service organizations, communications, local government liaison, education, speakers forum, publicity, research, Third World task force, peace candidates, cultural action, and finances.

Liaison groups were formed to work with junior colleges, high school, labor groups, the military, antidraft groups and the business community.

Clergymen attending yesterday's Newman Center meeting who said they will welcome student speakers included Stanley Gjervik, Good Shepherd Lutheran Church, Novato; Arthur W. Sorensen, All Saints Lutheran Church, Novato; Fred E. Rusk, First Presbyterian Church, Petaluma; Thorval T. Evenson, Elim Lutheran Church, Petaluma; Haven N. a state of emergency declared by Gov. William Milliken Tuesday after two nights of violent demonstrations.

There were 15 to 20 arrests.

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie ordered 1,100 Illinois National Guardsmen into Carbondale because of continued turmoil at the 26,000-student Southern Illinois University.

Although some students had urged the school to remain open, thousands of students sang and danced in the streets when it was announced the university would close for an "indefinite time."

In Hartford, Conn., about 100 adults marched from the Old State House to the State Capitol to call for an end to the Indochina war this year. They carried a sign saying, "Peace is too important to leave to the kids."

The group, made up of business and professional people, was joined by another 200 adults during the march.

Four professional barbers went to San Jose State College and shaved off student beards and gave short haircuts for free. The students were attempting to improve their image while waging door-to-door antiwar campaigns.

Similar neatly dressed and carefully shorn groups of students from Stanford, University of California at Berkeley and other campuses were — with the firms' permission — polling employees of major banks, utilities and other businesses on their sentiments about Southeast Asia.

In Washington, Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., said the federal government should investigate a program at Princeton where students will be given two weeks off prior to the general election to participate in political campaigns.

Some other university officials have said they may follow Princeton's lead.

Thurmond said, "I feel that there is a serious question here as to whether or not Princeton can legally sponsor this project . . . while maintaining tax-exempt status."

In New York City, students at John Jay College of Criminal Justice, about 80 per cent of them policemen, voted 865 to 791 against a resolution to shut the school as an antiwar protest.

Seventy-three midshipmen at the 750-student U.S. Merchant Marine Academy in Kings Point, N.Y., sent their superintendent, Rear Adm. Gordon McClintock, a letter saying they would not march in the Armed Forces Day parade Saturday. They said it was their "patriotic duty to display and dramatize" their opposition to the war in Vietnam.

In Boston, about 200 students, who said they attended the University of Massachusetts' Boston campus, Wednesday disrupted a special board of trustees meeting for the school's newly elected president, Dr. Robert C. Wood.

On the Avenue of the America's (Sixth Ave.), however, about 600 construction workers marched Wednesday in favor of President Nixon's Southeast Asia policy.

Mt. Whitney, rising 14,495 feet as the tallest mountain in the United States outside of Alaska, may see the day when there's no room at the top. Recently 500 hikers were counted on the summit at one time.

ed they will continue their operations in Cambodia, Mansfield said "If they stay in, it means that indirectly we are staying in."

Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., joined the counterattack by announcing today he will seek to bar enforcement of any limit on funds until the North Vietnamese release all American prisoners of war.

Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Armed Services Committee, told reporters Wednesday the Cooper-Church proposal was "unthinkable," especially "while that battle is still going on."

He also said President Nixon might have to send American troops into Cambodia again. Nixon has insisted South Vietnamese troops could handle a second attack, if needed.

Leaders of two major veterans groups appeared in the Senate Press Gallery to denounce the Cooper-Church amendment and other restrictive proposals.

The two national commanders, J. Milton Patrick of the American Legion and Ray Gallagher of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, said the limitations proposed "amount to a declaration of surrender to Communist forces and constitute a stab in the back for our boys in combat."

tomorrow and continue efforts to bring the war issue into the community.

Elsewhere, Dr. Alan Ellsberg of San Rafael High School said classes have returned to normal. He said however that after-school discussion between teachers and students are continuing.

At Terra Linda High School, principal Frank Stocking said his campus is quiet.

"The talks and activities we held last Friday helped a great deal in calming the situation here," the principal said. "Things have been back to normal all week."

Both Redwood and Sir Francis Drake high schools reported no picketing or demonstrations but were unable to determine attendance when called this morning.

Novato, San Marin, and Tomales high schools also report no activity.

sphere of influence." He called "protection of the constitutional republic the overriding issue facing the Fourth District and the people of America."

On the subject of population control, Behr and Peevey differed sharply on whether California should adopt a state land plan, Behr saying that he feared erosion of local control through such a proposal. Peevey said the plan could be similar to one in Hawaii where special zones are set aside for agriculture, residential, commercial-industrial and recreational-scenic uses.

Hearing Scheduled On Marijuana Count

A preliminary hearing has been set for next Tuesday in Marin Municipal Court for Russell Raymond Radcliffe, 24, of Novato, who is accused of possessing marijuana.

Radcliffe was arrested Monday when police who had stopped him in Novato for a traffic violation spotted a plastic bag containing a large quantity of green vegetable matter.

Americans were killed today when Communist gunners shot down an Army UH1 helicopter gunship about 500 yards inside the South Vietnamese border 75 miles northwest of Saigon.

When President Nixon ordered American forces into Cambodia on May 1 he told the American people their mission was to destroy the Central Office for South Vietnam (COSVN), the Communist's jungle Pentagon. So far it has not been found for certain.

Military sources said the Americans had captured more than 200 pounds of documents along with two rubber stamps bearing the name of Pham Hung, a vice premier of North Vietnam and the man believed to have run the COSVN complex.

They also discovered an International Business Machine "readout sheet" with an inventory of the supply complexes. And nearby they found 200 more tons of rice which they were hauling out in captured armored personnel carriers, ammunition trailers and oxcarts.

Shoe Mixup Kills Pot-In-Jail Charge

A charge of attempting to smuggle marijuana into Marin County Jail against James Henry Curtin, 38, of Kentfield, has been dismissed in Marin Municipal Court since it was determined that he had not been wearing the shoes in which the pot was found.

He had been accused of having three pot cigarettes in his shoe when he arrived at the jail to serve a sentence on March 30.

Modern Moonshine Project Backfires

IRVINE, Ky. (AP) — Irvine firemen found the unexpected when they were called to extinguish a blaze in a small outbuilding.

Officials said the building contained a three-gallon moonshine still and that artificial gas used to operate it exploded, touching off the fire.

Stray Hippo Startles Tourists Off Africa

DURBAN, South Africa (AP) — Vacationers on Paradise Island, off the coast of Portuguese Mozambique, were astounded when they spotted a hippopotamus swimming in the sea. The huge beast apparently paddled eight miles from the mainland,

A game ranger shot it after it had swum around the island for about three days. A game expert said the hippo was probably driven from the mainland after a feud with an older bull.

WILLIAM C. HERUP SR.
Marin Municipal Water director

William C. Herup Dies At 81

William C. Herup of San Rafael, longtime director of the Marin Municipal Water District, died today at a local convalescent hospital after a long illness. He was 81.

Herup, a water director for 28 years was appointed to the water district board in 1942 to fill the unexpired term of the late Charles Reindollar.

For the past 21 years Herup and his wife of 39 years, the former Laura Leonardi of San Rafael, have resided at 505 Fifth Avenue.

A native of Denmark, Herup moved to New York in 1907 and the following year moved to San Francisco. In 1928 he came to San Rafael where he opened the Laurel Grove Creamery on Fourth Street which he operated for 32 years before retiring in 1960.

He served on the San Rafael City Council from 1930 to 1942 and was foreman of the 1957 Marin County Grand Jury. He served as a San Rafael fire commissioner from 1958 until last year.

Herup was a member of San Rafael Aerie Fraternal Order of Eagles No. 256, the Marin Rod and Gun Club and the American Water Works Assocation.

Survivors include his wife, three daughters, Elna Meyn of Burlingame, Dorothy Sjoberg of Redwood City, Audrey Laurenti of San Anselmo; a son, William C. Herup Jr. of Fremont and a brother, Knud Herup of Corning, Tehama County.

Funeral will be held Saturday at 10 a.m. at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael with entombment at Mount Olivet Cemetery. The Rosary will be recited tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the Keaton Chapel.

CHARLES HOWELL

Charles L. Howell of San Rafael, former manager and a director of Marin County Savings and Loan Association, died yesterday at a local convalescent hospital after a long illness. He was 88.

A native of Tennessee, Howell came to San Rafael before World War I and was associated with the Grojean Grocery on Fourth Street before becoming manager and a director of the savings and loan association in 1929.

He and his wife, Estelle T. Howell, resided at 32 Juniperro Serra.

He retired as manager of the firm in 1953 and as director six years later.

Howell was formerly a Marin Junior College District board member.

He was a member of the San Rafael Elks Lodge.

Survivors include his wife, a daughter, Mrs. Virginia Tracy of Kansas City, Mo. and three grandchildren.

Funeral will be held tomorrow at 11:15 a.m. at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael with burial at Mount Olivet Cemetery. The Rosary will be recited today at 8 p.m. at the Keaton Chapel.

PETER NEWTON

Rosary for Peter A. Newton of San Rafael, former equipment superintendent for Marin County, will be recited tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary in San Rafael. There will be no funeral and burial will be at Oak Grove Cemetery in Laton, Fresno County.

Newton died Tuesday in a local hospital after a long illness. He was 65.

A native of Michigan, Newton moved to Los Angeles in 1911, coming to San Rafael 44 years ago. For the past 32 years he had resided at 26 Washington Street.

A former heavy duty mechanic, Newton became equipment superintendent for the county in 1943, retiring seven years ago.

He was a member of the Marin County Employees Association.

Surviving are his wife, Alice M. Newton; two sons, Arthur A. Newton of San Rafael, Robert D. Newton of Santa Rosa; two sisters, Vera S. Newton and Mae Newton, both of Laton; a brother, John Newton of Seaside; and seven grandchildren.

MRS. GOODALE

Katharine H. Goodale, retired Sausalito restaurant owner and member of an early Sausalito family, died yesterday at a local hospital after a short illness. She was 87.

Born in San Francisco, Mrs. Goodale moved to Sausalito at the age of 6, and had resided at 505 Bridgeway for the past 37 years.

Mrs. Goodale operated the Sea Spray Inn at the same Bridgeway address from 1933 until retiring nine years ago.

Mrs. Goodale's husband, George Goodale, a Boston newspaper reporter, died about 60 years ago.

She was a member of the Sausalito Women's Club and a past member of Christ Episcopal Church in Sausalito.

Funeral will be at 11 a.m. Friday at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael. Friends may call at the mortuary Thursday evening.

MOTORCYCLIST HURT

An injured motorcyclist is prepared for a trip to the hospital by a Novato policeman while a California Highway Patrol officer and two helpers free his crumpled motorcycle from a dented pick-up truck. James R. Flott, 23, of 1625 Lauren Avenue, Petaluma, stopped his motorcycle for a red light on Highway 101 south of Lamont Avenue in Novato faster than Walter M. Whiting, 47, of Santa Rosa stopped his truck at 4:29 p.m. yesterday. The impact threw Flott onto the divider strip. He was treated for injuries to his right leg at Novato General Hospital. Whiting was cited for following too closely.

Parents Resist Sausalito Recall

A small group of parents whose children attend Sausalito schools today called for a repudiation of the recall of two members of the Sausalito School District Board. The group, which claims a total membership of 25, was organized last weekend "to provide a moderate voice in the district."

Five members of the organization, People to Preserve Public Education, said at a press conference today in the Sausalito Art Center they will work prevent the recall of trustees David E. Freedheim and Martha Freebairn-Smith in the June 2 election.

Although Mrs. Freebairn-Smith resigned her board post last week, Mrs. Charles F. Lester, cochairman of the new organization, said her seat should be preserved in the election.

"I feel it would be much healthier for the district is many people can file for this seat to give voters much more of a choice, Mrs. Lester said.

She noted that Delta Christ, research chairman for Citizens for Excellence in Integrated Education, is now the only person running for the Freebairn-Smith seat. "We do not support Mrs. Christ or her group," she said.

The group's other cochairman, Mrs. Alvin C. Bynum of Marin City, said the organization does not support either the black or white extremists and said both groups have "simplistic, narrow and unrealistic solutions for complex social and education programs."

Mrs. Bynum praised the board for its "courageous" action in the recent firing of Sidney F. Walton Jr., black principal of Martin Luther King School. "We commend the board for the steps it has taken to create a proper academic atmosphere at MLK," she said in reference to Walton's removal.

In a prepared statement, the group repected any proposal of a "separate-but-equal" dual school system which Walton proposed at a Marin City community meeting last week.

Mrs. Bynum said five black a school system would definitely be divided along racial lines. "We want an integrated school district," Naomi Miller of Sausalito, another member of the group, said.

Mrs. Bynum said five black persons from Marin City attended the organizational meeting of people to Preserve Public Education, but said she believes many other Marin City residents are supporting the moderate cause "but don't want to be identified because they fear harassment."

School Told To Fly Flag At Full Staff

The White House has informed Sausalito's Martin Luther King School that it is not appropriate to fly the American flag at half-staff to mourn those killed in the Vietnam War.

The flag issue has divided school and community since the flag was lowered three weeks ago in what Principal Sidney F. Walton Jr. said was the result of request by students that it fly at half-staff until the war is over.

After Walton was ordered by Supt. Phillip W. Schneider to raise the flag, he announced he had written President Richard M. Nixon to ask permission for continuing to fly it at half-staff.

A reply has been received, not from Nixon in person but signed by L. Niederlehner, acting attorney general, writing on behalf of the President.

The letter pointed out that in all this country's wars, the flag has been flown in conventional manner. It said the children "have adequate opportunity to honor those who have died in the nation's service" by lowering the flag on Memorial Day, Armed Forces Day and Veterans Day.

The letter was on display at the school today along with pictures of war dead under the heading, "This is not the only way to solve our difficulties."

450-Foot Warehouse Rejected By Planner

A long metal warehouse that would look like a row of railroad cars, planned along railroad tracks in the Corte Madera tidelands, was rejected today by Acting Planning Director Werner Von Gundell.

The planning director ruled against Romac Pacific Co. of San Rafael on grounds that the structure would not meet the standards of the county's design review ordinance. The ordinance provides that buildings must "not be unsightly or create substantial disharmony with its locale and surroundings" and must minimize or eliminate adverse physical or visual effects.

Von Gundell pointed out that the general plan for Corte Madera, the county's balanced transportation program, and the Golden Gate Bridge District all recommend that the railroad right-of-way be reserved for a future transit route.

Alan W. Rosenberg, representing Romac Pacific Co., asked for a metal warehouse on Northwestern Pacific right-of-way on the bay side of Highway 101 between Industrial Way and Corte Madera Creek. The building would be 25 feet wide, 13 feet high and 450 feet long the length of a football field and a half.

Romac Pacific may legally appeal Von Gundell's decision to the Marin County Planning Commission.

Two Are Injured As Autos Collide

Two women were slightly injured yesterday during a three-car accident on Highway 101 just south of the Pacheco Creek overpass at 1:30 p.m. yesterday.

The California Highway Patrol said Mary Ann Nauman, 25, of 244 Bolling Drive, Hamilton Air Force Base and Norma J. Miller, 40, of Pacifica, San Mateo County, were injured in collisions with a car driven by William J. Ferguson, 19, of 365 Burton Avenue, Rohnert Park.

The highway patrol reported that Ferguson's car hit the rear of the Nauman car, skidded into another lane and was hit by the Miller car.

The two women said they would see their own doctors for unspecified injuries.

Bids Asked On Truck To Haul Cuttings

Bids for a garbage truck to collect garden cuttings and other burnable debris have been called for by the Tamalpais Community Services District Board, director Glenn Lambacher reported today.

The board will hold an adjourned meeting May 19 at 9 p.m. in the community services district office, 305 Bell Lane. The meeting will be preceded by a closed session to discuss hiring of new district employees, Lambacher said.

Kentfield Fire Budget Is Approved

Kentfield Fire District directors last night approved a preliminary 1970-71 budget totaling $217,696, which includes a 6 per cent across-the-board pay increase to employees.

Fire Chief Kenneth T. Kamp said the proposed budget represents a $5,438 decrease from this year's budget and should allow a 6 cent drop in the tax rate, now 92 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

A breakdown of the preliminary budget shows $123,696 for salaries and benefits as compared with $112,884 this year, $36,000 for district maintenance, $25,000 for reserve, and $33,000 for capital outlay items.

Kamp attributed the reduction to a decrease in capital outlay requirements. This year $53,000 was budgeted for the payment of the new fire station, while next year $33,000 is projected for the purchase of a new pumper truck and equimpert, Kamp said.

The budget will be considered again during budget hearings in June, he added.

Man Is Booked For Car Theft

A 27-year-old San Rafael man was booked into Marin County Jail today on a warrant issued in San Mateo County and was held in lieu of $6,250 bail.

The man, Hilton Joseph Guillory of 1508 Lincoln Avenue, was arrested today at 5:50 a.m. by San Rafael police on suspicion of grand auto theft and car theft.

According to the Pacifica Police Department, which issued the warrant, Guillory failed to return a panel truck rented from the U-Haul Rental Co. of Fremont.

Apartment Plans Approved In Hub

Plans for a three-unit apartment at 17 Ancho Vista Avenue submitted by George Geramoni were approved last night by the San Anselmo Design Review Committee, secretary Thelma Foster reported. Geramoni will be required to widen the street and install sidewalk, curb and gutter in carrying out the project.

The committee also approved plans for free-standing signs requested by Senor Alfredo restaurant, 115 San Anselmo Avenue, and Chapel of the Hills mortuary, 330 Red Hill Avenue.

Petition Pays Off; Park Improvements Are Urged

A petition by Madrone Canyon residents paid off last night when the Larkspur Parks and Recreation Commission recommended a list of eight improvements to expand the use of Dolliver Park.

A petition signed by 400 residents was presented to the city council last week asking that the park be improved and opened year-round.

Last night, reported Recreation Director Harlan Barry, the commission recommended these steps:

Topping of bay trees to let more sunlight into the playground area; removal of three trees which threaten adjoining property; a new merry-go-round; extension of a fence to improve neighbors' privacy; a more flexible opening schedule to allow the park to be opened earlier in the year if weather is good; a fence along Madrone Avenue to protect children from traffic, and a marked crosswalk across the street; swings and some picnic tables should be left out all year and two garbage cans should be cemented into place and left all year; rest rooms should be painted a neutral color, or possibly with a mural if the mural design is approved by the commission.

The commission set aside a request for ground cover until a cost study is made.

The commission also recommended the city council expand the commission to seven members to allow seating two young people as voting commissioners.

Two Report Sprains After Auto Rolls

Two men were treated for sprains at Marin General Hospital yesterday after their car skidded down an off-ramp and rolled over an embankment at the Sausalito Lateral at 9:40 p.m., according to the California Highway Patrol.

The hospital reported that Dale L. Davis, 22, of 2221 Shelter Bay, Mill Valley, and Ronald Ganz, 31, of San Francisco, were treated for a sprained right ankle and a sprained back respectively.

Meeting Set

A group of Marin City residents has called a community meeting to discuss the Sausalito School crisis and the firing of Sidney F. Walton Jr., Martin Luther King School principal for today at 8 p.m. in the Manzanita Recreation Center in Marin City.

The San Rafael High School Chamber Orchestra, shown here in a prior performance, will be among eight groups to be heard Sunday on "The Young Sound, Srping 1970," at 7 p.m. on Channel 7 television. The one-hour program, produced by Gordon Waldear, is sponsored by Pacific Gas and Electric Company and will be presented without interruption.

Redwood High Plans Annual Spring Concert

The Redwood High School music Department will present its annual spring concert at 8 p.m. next Thursday at the Redwood student center. The school orchestra, A Cappella choir and band will perform.

The "Egmont Overture" by Beethoven and Arensky's "Variations on a Theme by Tchaikovsky" plus works by Bach, Brahms, von Suppe and Virgil Thompson will be included in the orchestra's lead-off performance.

The A Cappella choir will follow with "Planets, Stars and Airs of Space" by Bach and William Billings' "When Jesus Wept." The choir will conclude with "Bless the Lord, O My Soul," by Ippolitof-Ivanof.

The band will feature "Elijah Rock" by Jester Hirston and "Jericho" by Morton Gould. It will also play works by Bach, Wagner, Vaughn Williams and Giovannini.

The choir is directed by J. D. Nochols; the orchestra and band by Sidney Y. Gordon.

I-J Series On Safety Honored

Two Independent-Journal employees have been nominated for the Alfred P. Sloan Award for their series of full page displays in the I-J stressing the need for highway safety.

Ray M. Rogers, promotion and research director, and artist Jack P. Lucey were nominated April 22 by James M. Hall, secretary of the state's Business and Transportation Agency, in a letter to the award's sponsor, the Highway Users Federation for Safety and Mobility.

The series, which coincides with major holiday driving periods, uses original drawings and copy designed to jolt the public into awareness of its own resonsibility on the highways.

Fire District's Budget Up, Tax Rate To Hold

A $566,529 preliminary 1970-71 budget was adopted last night by the Novato Fire District board, according to Fire Chief Jack Kidder.

The vote was 4-0 with Chairman Peter J. Ferrarese absent.

The budget is up $80,975 from this year's $485,554, but the tax rate will remain at 50 cents per $100 assessed valuation, because of increased assessed valuation in the district, Kidder said.

The budget includes 6 per cent for salary increases, but that has not yet been formally approved, he said.

Maintenance was $60,505, down $2,859 from the current $63,364.

Capital outlay was budgeted at $73,000, up $41,000 from the current $32,000.

The board voted to buy eye shields for the firemen for $358 and paid $10,506 in bills.

Some 50,000 miniature planets called asteroids orbit between Mars and Jupiter. The largest, Ceres, is only about a fifth the diameter of Earth's moon. One with an orbit that brings it close to the Earth is named Geographos, after the National Geographic Society.

Strawberry Annexation Is Opposed

The Strawberry Recreation District board has urged the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission to deny Mill Valley's application to annex 110 acres of land surrounding the Strawberry Town and Country Village Shopping Center to the city.

Clerk Jeanne Heick said land with an assessed valuation of $1.5 million would be removed from the district if the annexation is approved, and as a result 15 per cent of the district's budget would be lost.

"Residents of a sizeable portion of the Strawberry Peninsula would be unable to use recreational facilities here if their land becomes part of Mill Valley," Mrs. Heick said.

Loss of the income would force the district to curtail services to the rest of the district, she said.

The Strawberry Recreation District board also:

EASEMENT — Accepted a grant of easement for a strip of land along Strawberry Lagoon to allow public access to a wildlife refuge there.

BUDGET — Approved a preliminary budget for 1970-71 of $57,508, which would retain the tax rate at its present 50 cents per $100 assessed valuation. A final budget hearing will be held July 1 at 8:30 p.m. at Strawberry Point School.

Educators Back Proposition A

The Marin Association of School Administrators yesterday announced support of Proposition A on the June 2 ballot, the referendum on a proposed low-rent housing program for the elderly and low-income residents.

The association also pledged cooperation with the California Medical Association and Marin County Public Health Department in their immunization program against rubella, reported John F. Plank, superintendent of San Rafael School District.

Charles E. McCully resigned as secretary-treasurer and the group elected Thomas A. Anderson, Ross district superintendent, to succeed him.

Clothes Stolen

Clothing valued at $150 and including baby shirts, coveralls, blankets and a women's slacks and blouse, owned by the family of Alan Onizuka of 246 Union Street were stolen yesterday from a dryer at Collettes Coin Wash, 347 Fourth Street, San Rafael police reported today.

Corte Madera Workers Get Pay Hike

Four department heads were excluded for unspecified reasons last night from a 10 per cent pay hike granted town employees by the Corte Madera Town Council.

Excluded from the council's 4 to 1 approval of the $45,000 pay boost package were the police chief, who makes from $905 to $1,100; the director of public works, paid $1,155 to $1,405; and the building inspector and finance director, both ranging $862 to $1,048.

Councilman Harold B. Wagstaff, in voting against the measure, said the increase was insufficient to meet the financial needs of town employees, but agreed department heads should be excluded.

"I don't understand what's going on," exclaimed City Mgr. Ronald L. Usher.

"I may have some reservations about the amount paid department heads," responded Wagstaff. "And I don't mean by this that they all should get more or less either."

Following the meeting, Wagstaff told the Independent-Journal he felt some department heads may be entitled to a salary increase but others were near what he considered the top of their bracket. "I want to judge them on an individual basis," he said.

City workers, who filled the town hall chamber, sat quietly through the entire four-hour council airing of their pay requests and those proposed by the city manager.

Usher's proposals, which he said were based on requests submitted by employee representatives, called for a fiscal 1970-71 pay boost of 12.5 per cent for all city workers except three. The fire chief, recreation coordinator and city manager were omitted because of salary contracts still in effect.

Approval of the measure came after a series of motions disclosing the position of councilmen.

A motion by Councilman Robert P. Simmons to grant a 10 per cent across the board increase was defeated 4 to 1.

A motion by Wagstaff to grant Usher's 12.5 per cent increase proposal was similarly defeated.

A motion by Councilman Holmes S. Norville to grant a 10 per cent increase was defeated 3 to 2, Simmons supporting Norville.

A motion by Simmons that a 10 per cent increase be granted all employees except department heads died for lack of a second.

A motion by Norville that a 10 per cent increase be granted all employees except the police chief, building inspector, public works director and finance director was approved 4 to 1.

A motion by Simmons to grant the four department heads a 10 per cent increase was defeated 4 to 1.

A motion by Norville to table the discussion of raises for department chiefs until the next budget hearing was approved 4 to 1 with Simmons dissenting.

They had remained seated quietly through the entire meeting relying upon their spokesmen to represent their views.

Paul V. Weichel, president of the employees association said recommendations of his group were based on study of salaries in 13 other Bay Area cities, as well as those in Marin County.

The fire department employees asked for a 10 per cent increase as parity with other nearby departments.

The police employees asked a 20 per cent increase in order to match other Bay Area cities and to prevent turnover of personnel.

The public works employees called for a total increase of from 12.5 to 15 per cent.

Clerical workers requested a 7.5 per cent increase to cover the rising cost of living.

Councilman Byron D. White told the council he had "tried to keep up with what other areas paid."

"We have a tight budget this year," Dimmons agreed, "but I don't think we should short the employees."

"Usher's recommendation for a 12.5 per cent increase is nice but unrealistic," he continued. "I think that all except the department heads should get a 5 per cent cost of living increase and a 5 per cent merit raise."

Council White said he was bothered by across the board increases but would rather see merit increases at shorter periods.

The council shortly thereafter entered upon the series of motions leading to the general pay hike.

Greenbrae Wants Large Signs Down

A step against visual pollution was taken by the Greenbrae Property Owners Association yesterday.

The association board ruled that large election signs on Greenbrae homes are illegal, and that residents will be asked to remove them, reported secretary Beth Reilly.

The board also agreed to support Proposition A on the June 2 ballot, the referendum proposing low-income housing in Marin for elderly and low-income residents.

Discussing restrictive covenants in Greenbrae deeds, the board asked Stewart N. Boxer to investigate further how they can be removed. At present, a two-thirds vote of residents would be required, Mrs. Reilly said. The convenants are unenforceable, she said, but the board felt they should be removed anyway.

The board agreed to give Ace Letter Service a contract to mail association letters, pamphlets and other literature to residents.

Corte Maderan Leaps To Death

A Corte Madera man jumped to his death from the Golden Gate Bridge at about 1:20 p.m. yesterday.

The coroner's office in San Francisco identified the man as Charles Carroll, 25, of 116 Walnut Avenue.

The California Highway Patrol said a bridge painter saw him jump from a point near the south tower. The body was found shortly afterwards in the water with $7 and an address book.

Carroll had been under psychiatric care, the coroner's office said.

Split Vote Kills 'Cool It' Petition

The usually affable Marin county parks and recreation commissioners clashed angrily yesterday and voted 4 to 3 to reject a resolution that would have urged Gov. Ronald Reagan and other state officials to tone down "intemperate rhetoric" toward youth. (Another parks and recreation story, page 1)

The swing vote came from only teen-age member of the commission, Raymond Bresnan of Novato High School "I feel this should be more in the hands of the Youth Commission than us," said Bresnan. "I don't think the parks and recreation commission should act on this."

Chairman Lothar Salin introduced the resolution, pointing out that the Marin County Board of Supervisors on Tuesday approved a resolution urging the Nixon Administration to communicate with and listen to youth. "It's no use having President Nixon tell Vice President Agnew to cool it if the same thing goes on at the state level," said Salin.

Commissioners Melton Ferris and Helen E. Newman supported Salin. But Commissioners Albert J. Boro, Herber C. Leney and Leroy M. Gerner blasted the resolution.

"I see it as a publicity seeking resolution," stormed Boro. "I think we are trying to one-up the county supervisors. It talks of intemperate rhetoric of the Governor but does not talk of intemperate rhetoric of youth."

He said a resolution of this type is outside the jurisdiction of the parks and recreation commission. "This in essence is saying that only the governor and the state government are not listening."

Salin's proposal was to recommend to the county supervisors "to call on Governor Reagan and other state officials to follow the example set by the National Administration in de-escalating intemperate rhetoric directed towards dissenting youth and, instead, concentrate on resolving their legitimate grievances."

"You talk about legitimate grievances but how about illegitimate grievances," asked Gerner. He said he cannot conceive of President Nixon or Governor Reagan not listening to reasonable representatives of youth. "I am 100 per cent with the President and the governor!"

Salin and Ferris argued that resolution concerning youth is within the jurisdiction of the parks and recreation commission, because the commission took the lead in encouraging communication with youth.

"Why single out Governor Reagan?" demanded Gerner. "Why don't you mention youth. They're the ones who call people pigs. You're just giving the Governor a slap on the wrist."

"I wouldn't mind adding a paragraph telling youth to cool it," said Salin.

"Who are you going to mail it to?" asked Boro.

Ferris moved for the resolution and called for the question, noting that minds were made up and further discussion was useless.

The 4-to-3 vote killed the resolution.

Murderer Given Execution Stay

A Los Angeles man convicted of murder has been granted a stay of his May 27 execution date by United State Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, James W. L. Park, associate warden at San Quentin Prison reported yesterday.

Johnny Milton, 24, was granted the stay. His partner in the murder and robbery of a Los Angeles bus driver in 1967, Barry Floyd, 23, is still scheduled to die on May 27, but Park said Floyd probably will receive a stay of execution as well until the supreme court settles questions before it concerning the death penalty.

A third inmate, Daniel A. Roberts, 46, convicted of killing his San Francisco landlady in 1962, has a May 21 evecution date.

Novato Kindergarten Registration Slated

Registration for kindergarten children for next school year will be held from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. May 21 at each of Novato's elementary schools, according to Assistant Supt. Paul Mobley.

Parents should register their children at the school nearest their home, according to Mobley. Parents need a birth certificate or other proof of age, he said.

'Miracle Worker' Staging Set In San Geronimo

"The Miracle Worker," the story of how deaf and blind Helen Keller was taught to communicate with the world, will be presented at 8:30 p.m. May 22-23 and 29-30 by the San Geronimo Valley Players at San Geronimo School.

Kelly Slattery will play Helen Keller and Barbara Scott will play Annie Sullivan, the nearly-blind Irish girl who taught her.

John Hancock will portray Captain Keller, Helen's father, Charlene Sutton will play Mrs. Keller and Joe Patton will play James Keller, Helen's half-brother.

Stuart Rasmussen will direct the William Gibson play. Admission price will be increased at the May 30 performance to raise funds for the Family Art Center in the old San Geronimo School.

Talk Critical Of War Is Canceled

WASHINGTON (AP) — Illinois Constitution Convention officials have canceled a speech critical of the Vietnam war by former Secretary of Health John W. Gardner on grounds it was not germane to the convention's purpose.

Gardner was to have delivered the speech in Springfield, Ill., Wednesday. But his invitation was withdrawn after officials read an advance text in which Gardner said the United States "cannot—as the President believes—be the peacekeeper in the Asian world."

Samuel Witwer, president of the convention, said Gardner had been invited to talk about constitutional reform and the urban crisis.

Park-Rec Commission Plans Try To Blunt Bruce's Economy Ax

Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission yesterday mapped strategy to win back at least a part of the nearly half-million dollars which County Administrator Alan Bruce lopped from the parks and recreation budget.

The commission had asked for $902,000 for the parks and recreation budget for 1970-71. The county administrator had chopped it down to $432,000, recreation director Pierre W. Joske reported.

The commissioners decided to fight for restoration of the following items that were pared by the administrator:

A total of $2,100 for reimbursement to commissioners for expenses. This comes to $25 per meeting for each commissioner.

A fund of $1,440 for conferences and conventions instead of $640 recommended by the administrator. "Are we being singled out, or is this an honest cut?" asked Melton Ferris. "How does this compare with the amount set aside for the county administrator and his staff to attend conventions?"

A budget of $20,000 for bicycle trails.

A $50,000 fund for acquisition of a north bay front park somewhere between Las Gallinas Creek and Petaluma Creek.

A $100,000 fund for the Corte Madera bayfront park in the tidelands east of Highway 101. Albert J. Boro and Herber C. Leney argued for this item. Ferris wanted this dropped because Corte Madera had opposed a county park in the Corte Madera tidelands, where the parks and recreation director proposed a fill and cover operation to build up the tidelands for a park.

Chairman Lothar Salin suggested a compromise, which was accepted by the commissioners. The $100,000 for a Corte Madera bayfront park will be placed at the bottom of the demand list when Salin appears before the Marin County Board of Supervisors during the June budget sessions. How much of a battle Salin will put up on this item will depend on how the other requests are received by the supervisors.

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—The one-room schoolhouse has not yet disappeared in Kentucky. Latest statistics show that 100 of the one-teacher, eight-grade structures still operating.

Three Drivers Draw Sentences

Three persons have been sentenced by Judge Peter Allen Smith of Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving.

Patricia Mary Mestas, 45, of San Francisco, who was arrested May 9 on the Golden Gate Bridge, was placed on probation for one year and fined $225.

Louis John Ottone, 49, of Salinas, who was arrested Jan. 29 on Highway 101, was also placed on probation for one year and fined $250.

Edward John Sexton, 46, of Sebastopol, was placed on probation for one year and fined $250. He was arrested May 8 on Highway 101.

Conference Set On Preserving Marin Open Space

A conference on means of preserving open space in Marin will be sponsored May 23 by the Marin Planning Group of the Sierra Club's Bay Chapter.

Six speakers are scheduled in the morning hours and panel discussions and workshops in the afternoon. The conference will start at 9:30 a.m. in the supervisors' chambers at the Civic Center.

Speakers will include Margaret Azevedo of the Marin County Planning Commission, who will be moderator; Huey Johnson, western regional director of the Nature Conservancy; Reverdy Johnson, vice president of the Planning and Conservation League; Seymour Kashin, former director of the Marin Transit District; Robert Twiss, associate professor of natural resources planning at the University of California at Berkeley, and John Williamson, author of the California land conservation act.

Correct Year

An April 29 article in the Independent-Journal, reporting Marin Hospital District's forsaking of its master plan, erred in saying addition of new facilities would cost $14 million in 1973. It should have read 1972.

Charges Against Union Are Heard

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Testimony was concluded yesterday before an independent trial examiner into two complaints brought by the National Labor Relations Board against San Francisco Typographical Union Local 21, which has been on strike against the Independent-Journal since Jan. 7.

The complaints, which originally had been combined, charge the local with coercing an I-J composing room foreman in violation of accepted labor practices and with conducting a secondary boycott at a San Francisco pier in an attempt to halt delivery of newsprint for the I-J.

The complaints, although separated last Thursday at the local's request, were heard the same day since the same parties are involved, said David Smullin, NLRB attorney.

The coercion complaint alleged that foreman Gordon Dixon had been charged by the union with violating its constitution and by laws in performing his duties in October; was fined in January for carrying out those duties and was charged with violating the union constitution by working at the I-J after the strike began.

Following filing of briefs by June 15, Smullin said, a decision should come within four to eight weeks.

Integration Writs Hit Education Board

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A Los Angeles civil rights attorney served a restraining order on the State Board of Education today to prevent final repeal of the board's school desegregation guidelines.

Samuel Sheats interrupted the opening of a two-day meeting, as State Schools Chief Max Rafferty gave an opening report, and served the order issued Wednesday by Superior Court Judge William M. Gallagher of Sacramento.

Rafferty and board chairman Howard Day ignored Sheats and an associate, Daniel Visnich, a Senate Democratic caucus consultant. Rafferty continued the reading of letters and routine business as the papers were served on him and each board member.

The board took preliminary action last March 12 to repeal the guidelines, presumably because they were cited as a basis for the controversial court ruling that the vast Los Angeles school district must desegregate. Officials say the only way is through a busing program.

Final action had been scheduled for later today.

Visnich said before the meeting that if repeal of the guidelines is "taken up in any way we will inform them that we'll get a citation for contempt of court."

In a related matter, Sacramento civil rights attorney Nathaniel S. Colley filed a suit in Sacramento charging the board acted illegally March 12 in repealing the desegregation guidelines.

Colley asked the court to reinstate the guidelines to establish business as a constitutional right. A hearing was set for May 26, when the Board of Education must answer Colley's complaint.

Judge William Gallagher also ordered the board not to hold the public hearing scheduled for today on the repealed guidelines.

Colley's complaint charges that repeal of the guidelines was "nothing more than an unmasked, naked invitation extended by the State Board of Education to every local school district to practice discrimination whenever the only way to avoid it is use of a bus."

Mill Valley Human Rights Panel Urges War's End

The Mill Valley Human Rights Commission last night passed a resolution urging President Richard M. Nixon and Congress to bring an immediate end to the Indochina conflict and withdraw all troops immediately, according to chairman George R. Pohlmann.

The resolution — passed by a 3-2 vote — also urged the Mill Valley City Council to adopt a similar resolution, Pohlmann reported.

A unanimously passed second resolution urged the city council to declare a moratorium on all residential and commercial development in Mill Valley until the sewage treatment plant has the capacity to handle the present and planned sewage flow, Pohlmann said.

The resolution also urged the city council to increase efforts to form a unified sanitary district in Southern Marin and to implement a sanitary plan by Brown and Caldwell.

The Brown and Caldwell reports call for a unified sewage district or takeover by the Marin Municipal Water District.

Mrs. Lynn Jessup and Robert J. House opposed the Indochina resolution. Mrs. Iniece Bailey, Roger J. Fleischmann and Pohlmann favored it.

Non-Election Nod Sought By Board

With only three candidates for three board seats, the Ross Valley Sanitary District Board last night asked the Marin County Board of Supervisors to appoint the three instead of spending money on the June 2 election.

The candidates are A. N. Nipper and Eugene A. Ostaggi, incumbents, and George Davison.

The board also agreed to detach three acres of residential property in College Park from the district, manager Ralph C. Noah reported. The district had been subject to taxes both from the district and the city of Larkspur, and will now fall under Larkspur's sole jurisdiction.

The board hired engineer Edward Nute to represent the district at a May 28 meeting of the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board on a resolution to ban effluent discharge into Corte Madera Creek. Nute was also told to study means of complying with such a ban.

The board also agreed to hire three students in summer work programs as equipment operators.

Pickets Halt Press Run For City Paper

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Teamster pickets today prevented distribution of the first edition of the San Francisco Examiner when circulation drivers refused to cross the line outside the San Francisco Printing Co., plant.

Executives of the printing company, which prints and circulates both the Examiner and the Morning Chronicle, said a taken press run of about 2,000 was made but presses were stopped when it became evident the 500 circulation truck drivers would not cross the 75-man line.

Fenton To Head Tomales High School

Neal Fenton, who has been acting principal of Tomales High School since the resignation of Robert Reeder in February, last night was named principal by the Shoreline Unified School District board.

Fenton has been vice principal of Tomales High School for the past two years and since the resignation of Reeder has continued the teaching program in which students proceed at their own pace.

A native Californian, he spent four years in the Air Force and then completed his education at Chico State College. He taught in Woodland and Willows and in the teacher training program at Chico State. He was a junior high school principal in Chico and Yuba City. He has taken graduate work at Chico State and Stanford University.

Fenton, 48, is married and he and his wife Margaret have two daughters. Terri, a senior and Karen, a freshman, both at Tomales High School.

The Shoreline Unified School District Board also:

COORDINATORS — Named five teachers as coordinators in the education program. They were: Myron Conway, West Marin School; Garland Anderson, Jay Armstrong and Charles Billings, Tomales High School; and Joseph Feth, Tomales Elementary School.

DIPLOMAS — Names trustees to award diplomas: Roy Parks, Tomales High School; N. Louise Passalacqua, Bodega Bay Elementary School; LeRoy Erickson, Tomales Elementary School; and Robert Gallagher, West Marin Elementary School.

Richardson Bay Turning Bright Green

A bright green growth of algae was lying in portions of Richardson Bay today, visible enough to attract the attention of commuters and other passers-by.

Paul Lobato, station manager for the Marin County heliport located on the bay, said he has been watching the algae increase rapidly over the past 10 days. "It's almost a grass green now, especially when the tide is out," Lobato said.

Craig Hansen, director of the College of Marin Marine Biology Laboratory in Bolinas and G. B. Talbot, director of the Tiburon Marine laboratory, said they were unaware of the growth, but would check into the situation immediately.

"It's not surprising," Talbot said, "because a number of sewage treatment plants dump their wastes into the Bay and, even though they are treated, the wastes are very high in fertilizing qualities which make the algae bloom."

College Board To Study Budget

A tentative 1970-71 budget of $4,480,836 will be considered by the Marin Junior College District board when it meets at 8 p.m. today in Olney Hall Auditorium.

The board also is to receive a bulky planning report on the north campus situation, prepared by staff of Marin and Sonoma junior college districts and the office of the chancellor of California Community Colleges.

The study concerns feasibility of a Novato campus for College of Marin and the possibility of joint use of the campus with the Sonoma district.

Tests Planned For Scholarships

A test for high school students interested in competing for four labor scholarships has been scheduled for May 23 at 9 a.m. at the Carpenters Hall, 647 Lindaro Street, San Rafael.

The scholarships — three of $750 each sponsored by the Carpenters Building Association of Southern Marin and one of $500 sponsored by the Marin Central Labor Council — will be awarded on the basis of an essay exam on a labor-related topic.

High school seniors who are sons or grandsons, daughters or granddaughters of members of Carpenters Local 35 or Millmans 2095 or of locals affiliated with the Marin Central Labor Council are eligible if they plan to attend college next school year.

County Files Charges Over Spilled Chemical

The Marin district attorney's office yesterday filed a criminal charge against the Marin Municipal Water District in connection with the killing of approximately 3,000 fish in creeks in Samuel P. Taylor State Park Tuesday.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said that the company had been charged with a section of the fish and game code which makes it a misdemeanor to discharge substances harmful to fish into creeks.

The offense carries a maximum penalty of a $100 fine or 15 days in jail, Bales said.

The water district has been notified by letter to appear in Marin Municipal Court Monday.

Fish and game officials estimated that about 3,000 salmon and steelhead trout were killed Tuesday when alum from a broken line poured into Lagunitas and Paper Mill creeks.

After water district employees discovered the leak, they pumped 10,000 gallons of water into the creeks to dilute the chemical and prevent further killing.

William R. Seeger, general manager of the water district, said the district has released 15 to 20 million gallons of water a day into the creeks for dilution purposes and is now looking for about 2,000 fingerlings to restock the streams.

Seeger said the State Fish and Game hatcheries can't spare any, but private hatcheries are being approached.

Tests done on the water yesterday showed there is a negligible amount of alum in the streams now, Seeger said, but crews are roaming the banks looking for stray alum.

Bar Official Denies Role In Marin Judgeship Ballot

An attorney for the California State Bar Association has denied that he helped prepare a ballot sent to Marin attorneys for their rating of candidates in the Marin Municipal Court judgeship race.

In a letter to San Rafael attorney William G. Corrigan, who had originated the questionaire to determine which candidates are believed by their fellow attorneys to be qualified for the office, Herbert Rosenthal denied that he had indicated there was need for such a questionnaire.

The ballot sent to Marin members of the bar association also contained a letter which said that both were "the result of the cooperation of Mr. Herbert Rosenthal, attorney for the State Bar of California. . ."

Rosenthal said that he had not seen the letter nor the ballot until he himself received one in the mail. He also said that after a telephone call from Corrigan he had only given him the "qualifications of judges generally."

Corrigan has asked that Marin lawyers rate the candidates in the June 2 election because his office (Bagshaw, Martinelli, Corrigan and Jordan) had made a decision there were "definitely certain candidates lacking the qualifications for judgeship."

The ballots are due to be tabulated May 15.

Woman Injured In Tiburon Accident

A 22-year-old Tiburon woman was injured yesterday when her car hit a parked car on Tiburon Boulevard near the East Strawberry Frontage Road at 6:45 p.m. yesterday.

The California Highway Patrol said Cynthia H. Hamilton of 263 Diviso Road was taken to Marin General Hospital after her car hit one owned by Albert R. Koehler of 231 Richardson Drive, Mill Valley. She was treated for a bruised and sprained left hand, the hospital reported.

Students Will Play Beethoven Quartet

Four high school students, all members of the Chamber Music Scholarship Program sponsored by the San Francisco Conservatory of Music, will present Beethoven's String Quartet Opus 18 No. 4 Saturday at 11 a.m. at the Tiburon Community Congregational Church.

Members of the group are Celia DeMartini of Tiburon, Rodney Gehrki of Oakland and Donald Schlasser and Stephen Stiller of San Francisco.

Right Address

WENDOVER, Ky. (AP)—The address on a letter delivered to the Frontier Nursing Service here read simply: "Angels of Mercy, Somewhere in Ky."

Utility Director Appointed

Edwin Cadogan, a retired College of Marin professor, was appointed last night to the board of Bolinas Community Public Utility District, according to secretary Jane Boyer.

The board named Cadogan to fill a seat vacated last month by director James E. Kerr who resigned for personal reasons, and accepted the resignation of director George F. West, also leaving the board for personal reasons.

A letter from the Stinson Beach County Water District, announcing the district's intention to merge with an annex to the Marin Municipal Water District, was read at the meeting, Mrs. Boyer said, but no action was taken.

The two districts have signed a joint powers agreement to build and maintain a sewer system for both communities, according to Mrs. Boyer, who said she had no idea how the merger would affect that plan.

The board also appointed a committee to screen applications for a district field manager who will corrdinate the district's water and sewer operations and approved installation of a water hydrant on Terrace Avenue for additional fire protection.

Mariner Cove Votes Gavel To Leney

Herber C. Leney was elected 1970 president of the Mariner Cove Improvement Association last night, reported secretary Mrs. Donald C. Ralston.

The board also elected Howard C. Harvey vice president and reelected Raymond Nann treasurer and Mrs. Ralston secretary.

By MARY LEYDECKER

A former Novato High School teacher on trial in Marin Superior Court on marijuana charges testified yesterday that anonymous students used to leave pot cigarettes for him in his desk drawer because "they liked the knowledge I was sharing with them."

James D. Kimmel, 34, said, however, that he felt his arrest in November, 1968, was the result of a frameup by persons who wanted to get him fired, which he subsequently was.

Kimmel, who taught science at the school for a little over a year, is accused of using minors to obtain marijuana for him and possessing pot as well as resisting arrest on Nov. 15, 1968, at the high school.

OFFERED LID

Kimmel yesterday described how a student came to him and told him of a source of marijuana and asked if he wanted to buy a lid for $5. The teacher gave the youth the money but said he later became suspicious of the deal when he was told that an adult had to be present for the exchange, which was set for an evening when Kimmel was going to be at the high school.

He added that he usually bought marijuana only from "true brothers and sisters."

Earlier yesterday, the student, Chris Arend, now 18 and a College of Marin student, told of the arrangement with Kimmel. In his testimony the youth estimated that 60 per cent of Novato High students had tried marijuana once and about 20 to 30 per cent used it more than once.

The youth and Kimmel both told of a meeting in a walkway at the school which they did not know was watched by a policeman from the roof of a nearby building.

No marijuana exchanged hands, according to both, but they agreed a bargain had been made. The officer, William Cann, who was a sergeant in the Novato Police Department at the time, also took the stand yesterday.

HE RESISTED

He told how he attempted to arrest Kimmel after seeing him from the roof smoking a cigarette. He said that Kimmel had to be forcibly restrained after he attempted to walk away and that the teacher threw an object onto a roof.

The officer said he later retrieved a marijuana cigarette butt from the ground and metal box from the roof which contained marijuana residue.

Kimmel denied smoking a pot cigarette that night and Arend said that he did not think the teacher had.

Kimmel, however, described how students left marijuana cigarettes for him when he was out of his classroom. He said that he had gone into teaching after years of work with "atomic secrets" so he could share his knowledge with students.

The trial was to continue today before Judge E. Warren McGuire.

Cockfight Haul

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — State police made one of their largest hauls in years while raiding a cockfight at nearby Versailles. They arrested and charged 110 persons, including a number of women.

Pollution Risk Hampers Petaluma Ecology Park

The Petaluma Recreation, Music and Parks Commission last night agreed to study the possible use of undeveloped city property for ecological and environmental studies.

Al Walker, principal of McKinley School, told the commission that elementary classes had been making field trips to the Point Reyes National Seashore, but that shorter trips to the city land on Sonoma Mountain Road would also be beneficial.

Richard W. Shollenberger, recreation director, said he understood that there's been a problem with water contamination on the land and that the water commission should be consulted before allowing students to study wildlife there.

The commission said it would meet with the water commission to determine the problems and see if they can be solved.

The Petaluma Recreation, Music and Parks Commission also:

RETARDED — Agreed to the request of the council for retarded children to provide a recreation supervisor for two hours two days a week at the McNear School. The program will be held June 15 through Aug. 19. The organization said it would provide aides for the supervisor.

CLASSES — Agreed to the sponsorship of guitar classes by Michael Irwin for the summer at La Tercera School and basic art classes to be offered by Scott Barbour at the same school.

PARKS — Heard a request from residents of East Petaluma that a park be established at either La Tercera School for the future Miwok Valley School on St. Francis Drive. The commission said it would study the costs of aquiring land adjacent to the schools.

Helicopter Ride Will Cost More

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A fare hike of $1 for commute and excursion helicopter rides between Marin and San Francisco has been approved by the state Public Utilities Commission.

The new fare will affect rates for all service between Marin County Airport, San Francisco International Airport, Oakland International Airport, downtown San Francisco, Berkeley Heliport and Palo Alto Airport, the commission said.

A $2 increase for the San Francisco-Oakland Helicopter Airlines was also approved for its routes between San Francisco International Airport and Sunnyvale.

The increases become effective May 17.

Reagan, Demos Spar Over Fate Of Tax Reform; Recess Slated

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Assembly Democrats are welcoming challenge by Gov. Reagan that he might campaign against them personally to get across the message that they are blocking his tax reform program.

One of the quickest reactions to Reagan's remarks at a press conference Wednesday came from Assemblyman Jess Unruh, seeking the Democratic nomination to run against Reagan this fall.

"I will be glad to meet Ronald Reagan and the people, face to face, in every Assembly district and talk about what Reagan really wants to do with taxes," said Unruh. "I will tell the people who refused real relief for property taxpayers, who blocked more state money for schools and who is all too willing to give the oil industry special tax breaks. That man is Ronald Reagan."

Reagan had opened his news conference with a hand-written statement blaming Assembly Democrats for the stalling of his prized tax reform package.

The $1 billion in tax cuts, increases and shifts has been defeated twice in the Assembly because every one of the 39 Democrats refuse to vote either way on it.

Reagan noted that, at one point, six Democrats had voted for the bill, but switched to not-voting before the official vote was announced.

HEALTH PLAN HIT

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Reagan's proposed reorganization of state health agencies is not a reorganization but merely a consolidation and should be delayed for further study, witnesses have told an Assembly subcommittee considering the measure.

Reagan's proposals would create a new State Department of Health with a budget of $1.65 billion and more than 21,000 employes. It would be the second largest state agency after the University of California.

The new department would be formed by consolidating three branches of the present Department of Human Relations along with three other departments—public health, mental hygiene and health care services (medical).

Various other smaller agencies would also be transferred into the new department.

In a hearing before the Assembly subcommittee on efficiency and cost control Wednesday, witnesses repeatedly urged that the proposals be delayed for more discussion and study.

RECESS SET

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Assembly has voted 64-2 to recess for five days just before the June 2 primary election for last-minute campaigning. Approval by the Senate is also needed before either house can stay out of session. The upper house last month rejected a similar proposal.

The plan approved Wednesday by the Assembly would begin the recess at the conclusion of business Thursday May 28 and would reconvene the house Wednesday June 3 at 2 p.m.

METHADONE GAINS

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A 67-0 vote has sent to the Senate an Assembly bill that would allow wide use of methadone treatment to free heroin addicts of their habit.

The measure, approved Wednesday, specifically authorizes the program in California and lays down guidelines for its operation.

The treatment involves using the artificial chemical methadone in stronger and stronger doses until it eliminates the addict's desire for heroin.

This means that the addict still must have regular doses of methadone, but the difference is that he can function in a reasonably normal way while on methadone — something the heroin addict cannot do.

FLAG BILL DIES

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Assembly Government Administration Committee has killed a bill intended to make it easier to prosecute persons who desecrate the flag.

Authored by Assemblyman E. Richard Barnes, R-San Diego, the measure died Wednesday on a split voice vote. It would have made the state definition of a flag conform to the federal definition.

ANTI-VD VOTE

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Following testimony that gonorrhea is "No. 1 communicable disease" in California, a bill allowing the sale of prophylactics to minors has won approval by the Senate Health and Welfare Committee.

The measure by Sen. Anthony C. Beilenson, D-Beverly Hills, was sent to the full Senate on a unanimous voice vote Wednesday.

Gov. Ronald Reagan, who vetoed the same bill last year, has indicated he will sign it this year if it reaches his desk, Beilenson said.

Young Burglar Given Choice Of Uniform Or Jail

A Marin Superior Court judge has given a 19-year-old youth a choice between going into the Armed Forces or serving a year in jail and has given him to June 8 to make up his mind.

After John Edward Brown of Petaluma pleaded guilty Tuesday to two charges of burglary, Judge E. Warren McGuire ordered him to jail for a year but said he would stay execution of the sentence if Brown enters the service. He also placed Brown on a year's probation.

The youth had admitted burglarizin¼ a San Anselmo residence in October and a San Rafael business in August. Other charges against him will also stand until he decides whether to enter the service.

Marinwood Boy Hurt In Car-Bike Crash

A 10-year-old Marinwood boy suffered minor cuts on the left leg and ankle when his bicycle hit a car at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday at Heatherstone and Johnstone drives in Marinwood.

The California Highway Patrol reported that Richard C. Nichols of 28 Johnstone Drive rode his bicycle into a car driven by Marion A. Kuebelbeck, 54, of 295 Johnstone Drive and was taken to Hamilton AFB Hospital for treatment.

Candidates View Drugs, Youth

Seven of the 12 candidates for the Marin Municipal Court judge's seat on the June 2 ballot yesterday gave views on drug abuse in Marin County and student unrest.

(The other five candidates in the race had given opinions on the same subjects last week before the same group, the San Rafael Lions Club, at a similar luncheon.)

After giving brief resumes of their backgrounds and views on the judgeship, the candidates were given one minute each for the two subjects.

DRUG ABUSE

Charles R. Best: "We are employing the same techniques we used in trying to enforce prohibition," he said, adding that they are not working now either. He suggested getting drug education quickly to young people before they become "enmeshed in the drug scene."

A. Leonard Bjorklund: "Too many courts are not enforcing the laws as the Legislature intended," according to Bjorklund. He thought that punishment should be used as a deterrent and that "pot-users should be punished at least to the extent that parking meter violators are."

Jack Blaine: "With children, punishment is not the answer," he said, suggesting education at the primary level. He recommended, however, punishment for pushers and adult users of drugs and said he thought that interpretation of search and seizure laws "has been stretched too far."

Howard Morehouse: Noting that punishment for serious narcotics crimes takes place in superior, not municipal courts, Morehouse said that the pusher must be punished and that the addicted person should receive treatment in addition to punishment. He suggested, however, that the person who "has experimented with one marijuana cigarette" should be looked at individually.

Harry E. Rice: He recommended more education in schools and homes and said that addicts should receive more medical treatment as well as psychiatric help if that is needed. He added that "the pusher should be imprisoned for a long, long time."

Donald Rosenberg: "The answer is education and punishment," he said and added that he did not feel marijuana is harmless. "Users are both criminals and victims," he said, and should be referred to psychiatrists or groups like Center Point, which was started by ex-drug addicts.

Robert A. Smallman: "The municipal court neither deals with the user or pusher," according to Smallman, who decried the amount of the welfare budget which goes to aged alcoholics, saying that "we can't afford" the same kind of expenditure for young drug addicts.

STUDENT UNREST

Best: "They're living in a much more complex age than we did," he said about youth, "but the campuses should not be sanctuaries for lawbreakers." He felt that lawbreakers should be convicted whether they are students or not.

Bjorklund: "We are not electing a sociologist or a psychiatrist but a judge," according to Bjorklund. He added that he would not treat college students coming before him as a judge any differently than any other law violater. "Only if we enforce the law equally, will we restore confidence in the courts," he added.

Blaine: "As a juvenile court referee I refused to accept any 18 to 21-year-olds in juvenile court who had been involved in a campus riot," he said. He thought that persons so involved should receive equal justice regardless of their age.

Morehouse: "I believe in peaceful protest but abhor violence and the destruction of property," Morehouse said. "There comes a point when a policeman has a right not to have rocks thrown at him," he added, saying anyone involved in violence should be prepared to pay the penalty.

Rice: Pointing out that some people feel justified in breaking the law in the name of a cause, Rice said that persons involved in violence should be appropriately punished "regardless of the cause."

Rosenberg: "Rebellion within the scope of the law is fine," he said, but decried violence, saying that courts should step in when this occurs and that judges should pick sentences which will deter the offender and others.

Smallman: "We shouldn't paint all youth with the same brush," he said, adding that it is "better to be concerned with Vietnam than who's going to win the football game next week.' 'He said, however, that at "the trial level I would be more interested in whether a person did commit a crime than why."

Petaluman Quits Leadership Post

William Paulson has resigned as president of the East Petaluma Civic Association because he is moving out of the state.

Paulson, a salesman for Rheem Water Heaters, told the board of directors Tuesday he is being transferred to the company's main office in Chicago, Ill., where he will head the national sales organization.

The association directors said a special meeting will be held next Tuesday at 8 p.m. at La Tercera School to elect a new president.

First Aid Course

A basic first aid course will be taught by Peggy Flax of the American Red Cross from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. next Tuesday and Thursday and May 26 and 28 in Room 15 at Tamalpais High School. The course, open to the public, is sponsored by the Tamalpais High School Adult School.

This is the story of Brian Perkins, 13 years old, who did the kind of things you like to read about, doing his job day by day as an I-J newspaperboy

Winner $250 scholarship as an outstanding Newspaperboy

You have to be better than "good" to win a California Newspaperboy Foundation Scholarship. For you're up against 80,000 other carriers in this statewide competition. But Brian Perkins, "general manager" of his own I-J route, had something which really impressed the judges—himself.

Brian first met the challenge of six other I-J newspaperboys, each chosen for exceptional performance on the job. Then, in the state-wide finals, his record—both as a carrier and in school—was matched against the other blue-ribbon selectees. They judged his handling of business affairs, deliveries, collections, his general attitude. They checked him on school activities, grades, initiative, citizenship—all attested to by his own school principal.

Brian came through. And that is how this $250 scholarship "came through" to Brian. He simply couldn't be overlooked—not with his qualifications and performance. About as elated as Brian were the supervisors in the I-J circulation department. Brian had been a prize pupil in the newspaperboy training program, proving again that the self-reliance and initiative it encourages were not just words but a pretty good description of Brian himself.

What they said in "grading" Brian

BY THE I-J: How punctual is he? "Very." How polite is he? "To a fault." How many complaints in past 12 months? "Zero." Describe any outstanding achievements or contests he has won. "Carrier-of-the-Month and Salesman-of-the-Month six times." Evaluation of boy's salesmanship? "Excellent." How cooperative is he? "Very cooperative." General attitude? "Excellent."

BY THE SCHOOL PRINCIPAL, Hanlon P. Tharp—Davidson Junior High School, San Rafael. "An outstanding young man at school—very interested and curious in all phases of learning. A serious, concerned student—directs energies toward positive causes." Is this boy college material? "Very much so." Brian received highest commendations in the quality of his work, leadership, dependability, initiative, cooperation, popularity, appearance and citizenship.

San Rafael's June 2 Sewer, Rec Center Votes Explained

San Rafael voters will be asked on June 2 to approve, among other things, bond issues for sewer system improvements and construction of a community recreation center.

The sewer proposition will ask for approval to allow the city to incur a 15-year bonded indebtedness of $1,107,000. The other asks for $558,000 indebtedness for the recreation center.

There is no ballot argument against nor any organized opposition to either of the propositions.

The sewer improvements scheduled if Proposition B is approved are limited to two older areas of the city, where some of the sewer lines date back to 1874, Norris M. Rawles, city public works administrator, said.

A small area south of the intersection of San Pedro Road and Sea Way, and most of downtown San Rafael, bordered by Clorinda Avenue, Reservoir Road, Embarcadera Way and Mission Avenue, are included.

Rawles said the work has to be done, whether or not the bond passes. Passage of the bond, he said, would make it possible to complete all the work at one time and save the city — and taxpayers — money.

The sewer lines are old and inadequate, especially during heavy winter rains when the result is raw sewage bubbling up onto San Rafael streets, he said.

Regardless of passage of the bond, Rawles said, the improvements have to be made because the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board has already warned the city that if they are not, all future construction in the city might be ordered halted and the city liable to a $6,000 per day fine for each day it is in violation of requirements for waste water discharge into the San Rafael Bay.

If the bond issue fails to pass, Rawles said, the city will have to replace the old lines anyway, or the water quality control board could form its own assessment district, do the work itself, and bill the city. In either case, he said, the city council would be forced to raise the city tax rate to pay for the work.

Mity Mgr. James H. McCown said the $1,107,000 figure breaks down into $35,000 for sewer easement acquisition; $910,000 for construction, labor and materials, and $162,000 for other costs such as engineering services, soil tests, and miscellaneous supplies.

The sewer system improvements would add 8.65 cents per $100 assessed valuation to the city's tax rate for 15 years.

The present tax rate is 86 cents per $100.

Approval of Proposition C, for the construction of a community recreation center, would add 4.29 cents per $100 assessed valuation to the tax rate, again for 15 years.

However, Andrew J. Snyder Jr., the city's director of parks and recreation, has worked out an evaluation system for the cost per year to city property owners.

The owner of a $20,000 lot would pay an additional $2.15 in taxes per year for construction of the center, he said, and added that this could buy the taxpayer one pint of liquor or eight weeks of tumbling lessons at the new community center.

Similarly, the owner of a $50,000 lot will pay an additional tax of $5.36 per year, which could buy one ticket to the theater, Snyder said, or five oil painting or folk guitar lessons at the new center.

The $558,000 needed, Snyder said, includes $345,200 for construction of four buildings; $161,100 for land acquisition; $35,000 for site preparation, and $16,700 for parking area.

The design of the proposed center, to be constructed at Albert Park, earned San Rafael architect Robert W. F. Severin a first honor award from the California Council of the Society Of American Registered Architects.

The plan calls for an administration building, club building, social hall and arts and crafts building to be built around a central courtyard on an 11,480 square foot site.

Snyder said the center would house both formal and informal activities and programs for youth, teenagers, adults and senior citizens in such areas as arts and crafts, drama, music, dance, games and sports, hobbies, social recreation and special events.

The city has been using rented sites for the community recreation center since 1963, when it was housed in the American Legion Hall at 37 Union Street. That building was sold, and in 1965 the center set up shop in the old PG&E building at Second and Brooks streets. The building was leased, for more money, last month to an automotive spray paint business, and the center moved again — this time to the old San Rafael Courthouse annex, which is being rented from the county for a minimal sum. However, the courthouse annex can be only a temporary home as well, since it has already been sold by the county.

When the sale of the building is completed, and the new owners finalize their plans for the site, the community center will again be looking for a new home.

Snyder pointed to the increasing use of the center as proof of the need for a community center in San Rafael. In 1963, the center was used by about 100 persons a week. Last year, he said, average weekly attendance was approximately 800 persons.

University's Statue Bombed

NEW YORK (AP) — A bomb exploded on the "Alma Mater" statue in the center of the Columbia University campus early today, causing hundreds of pajama-clad students to rush from their dorms. There were no injuries.

"Alma Mater," the symbol of the university, is a 10-foot-tall statue of a woman seated in a chair. The 4:15 a.m. explosion blasted a one-foot hole in it and shifted it five inches off its base, police said.

Police cordoned off the area. They said it was not immediately determined what type of explosive device had been used.

Police Curbed On Witness Record

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The State Supreme Court has ruled that police may not discredit witnesses by bringing up their records of minor crimes.

The high court reversed Wednesday a Los Angeles County court decision permitting police to introduce the misdemeanor arrest records of one witness and the wife and son of another witness against two officers sued for shooting a man to death.

Associate Justice Stanley Mosk wrote that only felony convictions may be used to impeach witnesses.

Supporters of Paul C. Zucker, candidate for Marin County supervisor at the June 2 election, will sponsor a "Paul's People Party" at 8:30 p.m. Saturday at the Unitarian Fellowship Hall in Terra Linda. Music, food and punch are on the bill.

Chamber's Feelings On College Head

Expressing "grave concerns and reservations with regard to the current situation at Sonoma State College," the Marin County Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Bureau has set forth what it considers essential qualities of a new Sonoma State president.

The chamber of commerce in the form of a resolution recommended that the successor to Dr. Ambrose R. Nichols Jr. be chosen because of "his proven ability as a strong, well-balanced and objective administrator and manager."

The resolution placed emphasis on past experience with management systems and "ability in relation to basic strategies and the procedures in effecting change."

The new president's definition of academic freedom and the role of the faculty in the state college system are primary, the chamber of commerce claimed.

It called for a man "highly articulate and energetic in communicating with the surrounding communities as requisites for the tasks of ending the alienation of the college from its constituency."

"Re-establishment of the administration of the college to its necessary position of authority is essential. So is the acceptance of the inherent right of the concerned taxpayer to have a meaningful voice in the policies of the college," the chamber of commerce concluded.

Sublett Attacks Tax 'Privileges'

A candidate for the state Board of Equalization from the Third District has attacked the board for granting "special tax privileges" to private utilities.

Harry Sublett, West Sacramento businessman, said that assessed valuations of utilities decreased more than $10 million last year in 7 of the 25 counties in the Third District.

"California homeowners and taxpayers have been carrying more than their fair share of the tax load because large utility properties have been consistently under-assessed," Sublett charged. He said he was unable to explain the drop in assessments.

Awards By McInnis

Sponsors of the Bicycle Fair scheduled for May 24 and 31 at Albert Park in San Rafael erred in reporting to the Independent-Journal that San Rafael Mayor C. Paul Bettini would award prizes. The sponsors said yesterday Marin Supervisor John F. McInnis will make the awards.

MUSIC REVIEW

Opera Suffers From Tiny Studio Theater

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

"Albert Herring," Benjamin Britten's three-act comic opera, offered a challenge which the College of Marin Opera Workshop met so successfully last night that it was the best production I have seen by the workshop.

However, it is too elaborate musically for performance in the tiny Studio Theater. As a result, the 13-member orchestra conducted by the workshop's able musical director Scott Merrick was far too much accompaniment in volume for the singers. It belongs upstairs in the main theater of the Fine Arts Building, where the splendid work of the orchestra could be heard to full effect without having to be held down.

Fortunately, most of the singers had strong voices so that most of the words could be understood most of the time.

The high quality music, good voices, good casting and lively staging by H.J. Susser added up to an entertaining, smoothly flowing performance, but the timing needs to be tightened up somewhere because three hours is too long. Act II seemed to have the best pacing.

Top honors in singing and acting were shared by soprano Robin Miler as the puritanical Lady Billows, though makeup made her face too young for "an elderly autocrat," and tenor Robert Grant in the title role. He is the mama's boy hero of the unlikely plot centered around his being chosen May King, since no girls could be found virtuous enough for May Queen, and his subsequent fall from grace after being tricked into drinking spiked lemonade.

Miss Miler had a powerfully expressive voice of wide range and very good diction. Grant's diction was even better, and besides a good strong voice of pleasing quality he had a special flair for comedy based on facial expression and subtle timing.

Kathleen Nitz's clear, crisp soprano and manner were just right for Miss Wordsworth, head teacher at the church school, and Arlene Adams was a lovely ingenue with a very attractive mezzo soprano voice.

Two basses I had heard often before, John Graulich as Superintendent Budd and Clay Roni as Sid, a butcher's assistant, turned in their usual good performances, especially Roni, since his role gave him more opportunity than he has had previously to show what he can do with his powerful voice.

Of the three school children, soprano Clairellen Waldeck, soprano Jean Goodman and boy treble Jack Packard, Miss Waldeck was outstanding because of her naturally good voice and talent for comedy.

Singing actress Marjorie Broughton was in her element as Florence Pike, Lady Billow's prissy housekeeper, but could not always be understood because of pursed lips that added to the characterization but not clarity.

Others portraying their roles well were tenor Joseph Van Pelt as Mr. Upfold, the mayor, and mezzo soprano Nora Gohl as Mrs. Herring, Albert's mother.

Simple staging making use of a balcony and stairway was adequate and costumes were correctly suggestive of the 1900 period in a rural setting.

The opera will be performed again tonight, tomorrow night and Saturday night at 8 o'clock, regrettably in the Studio Theater.

Chamber Music Concerts Set

The second of two chamber music concerts under the auspices of the San Francisco Conservatory of Music will be presented Sunday at 1:30 p.m. at the Mill Valley Public Library.

The program is performed by young musicians from high schools all over the Bay Area who are enrolled on scholarships in the conservatory's chamber music preparatory department.

Sutdents from Marin performing Sunday will be Laura True of Ross, viola; Celia De Martini of Tiburon, viola; Carma Romano of Kentfield, violin, and Jed Barahal of San Rafael, cello.

Works to be played are the Hayden String Quartet, Opus 76, No. 2; the Beethoven String Quartet, Opus 18, No. 4, and Brahms Piano Quartet, Opus 25, in G. minor.

Guinea pigs do not come from Guinea and are not a member of the pig family. They are related to the cavia and can be traced back to the early Inca Indians who used them for food.

County Bars Dogs From Two Beaches

No dogs will be allowed hereafter at the county's Paradise Beach Park in Tiburon and in the newly-acquired McNears Beach near Peacock Gap, the Marin County Parks and Recreation Commissioners decided yesterday.

Pierre W. Joske, director of parks and recreation, reported that dogs are creating a problem at congested Paradise Beach Park by littering the lawn and bothering children.

On a motion by Melton Ferris, the commissioners voted 6 to 1 to outlaw all dogs at the two beaches. Chairman Lothar Salin, the lone dissenter, said he voted "no" because he thinks such a ban would be unworkable.

Commissioners also authorized Joske to refuse permits for group activities at the two parks on weekends and holidays, if, in his judgment, the parks will be jammed with normal users.

One Revision Fumbled, And One Fielded Well

The California Constitutional Revision Commission, in its series of proposals for constitutional changes this year, fielded well but dropped the ball once.

It dropped the ball on what has become Proposition 5 for the June 2 primary.

This proposition deals with — of all things! — amending the constitution.

CALIFORNIA'S CONSTITUTION contains a provision for calling a constitutional convention for its revision. But it leaves so vague how this convention would be called, and how its members would be elected, that the legislature, after years of argument, gave up the whole idea and appointed the Constitutional Revision Commission to do the job instead.

Yet when it came to amending the very section of the constitution (Article XVIII, Sec. 2) that gave the legislature so much trouble it abandoned calling a convention, the commission wound up with an even more vague substitute.

THE REVISION proposed in Proposition 5 does not say how a constitutional convention should be set up, how its members should be elected, whether there should be two or 2,000, what would be the time limits on its existence, whether its members could be paid, whether they should be elected in partisan or non-partisan elections. It says only that delegates to the convention "shall be voter selected from districts as nearly equal in population as may be practicable."

A legislature that found the existing provisions too vague would certainly be hamstrung by the proposed substitute. This is like substituting dishwater for skimmed milk.

The remainder of Proposition 5 provides for some noncontroversial changes in the Civil Service section of the constitution. But these can wait until a workable provision for a constitutional convention is developed.

A "NO" vote is indicated on Proposition 5.

THE COMMISSION tried to compromise a longtime controversy over state vs. local selection of school textbooks in what has become Proposition 6.

The constitution now provides that the state shall provide free textbooks in the elementary schools; selecting them in series and having them printed by the state printing office.

Proposition 6 leaves selection to the state, but on an individual basis rather than in series. It abolishes the requirement that they be printed in the state printing office (which has kept California from using the texts of some publishers). It provides for alternate selections from which local school districts could choose.

This preserves some state uniformity in texts, which probably is necessary with such a mobile population as that of California. And it gives some choice to the local districts.

Proposition 6 also does two other things: It gives the legislature power to make county schools superintendents appointive if it so wishes, and to make the state board of education elective if it so wishes. It does not deal with the state superintendent.

Proposition 6 deserves a "YES" vote.

Tyrannus Skunkus

We have been observing wild skunks in their natural Marin habitat for a number of years. Reluctantly, we have come to believe that skunks, especially when they are small, are not the unflappable, gentle creatures we once thought them to be.

Recent experience has shown a couple of them to be rather tyrannical little monsters. We put out food for the raccoons every night and skunks are welcome too. But the skunks bully the raccoons. They will stand over a food dish and gobble away, tail up, business end aimed at the closest coon. If a raccoon dares to try and share the food dish, the skunk lets loose its weapon.

Perhaps our skunks just have rotten personalities. We hope that's it. Because we used to think they were rather charming little creatures.

'Right' To Higher Education Really Much-Abused Privilege

By HENRY C. MAC ARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The subject of the right to education comes up frequently during these troubled times on the nation's campuses. Seemingly it is assumed that the young people in colleges have some sort of a God-given title not only to attend univiersities, but also to dictate the manner in which they should be operated.

Here may lie tehe seat of the trouble with universities of the present day. Capitulation of administrators in the first place to the demands of spoiled brats attending colleges, some innocent enough and others clearly out of line, has brought the situation to the point where it can't be controlled even if the administrators knew how to control it, wheich apparently they don't.

FOR INSTANCE, it was reported that Chancellor Roger W. Heyns of the University of California "would do all he could to help those who miss classes because of the strike, and told faculty and staff who don't want to work, to ask for leave without pay."

It's unfortunate that such weaseling words creep into the administration of the universities, especially a great university like Califorinia. Such an attitude undoubtedly makes the alumni who are paying the bills slightly sick to the stomach.

Had highly-paid Heyns been endowed with any type of intestinal fortitude, he no doubt would have said that members of the faculty who don't want to work and carry out the provisions of their contracts could get out and not come back. That is something the taxpayers could understand and respect.

And if students don't want to attend classes, very well, move them off campus, close it to their return, and let them go their own ways without impugning the students who really want to complete their college work.

ALL OF WHICH brings us back to the subject of the "right" to an education. Someone has misled the students, not only in California but apparently all over the nation. No one has any "right" to education. They do have a privilege to seek an education, and it's a rare privilege, not to be trifled with or abused.

It's being abused now by an estimated 10 per cent of the students, who are creating havoc and disrupting the privileges of those who want to attend classes and complete their studies, in which they are investing four or five years of their lives.

If officialdom has any intention of cleaning out the colleges, it might do well to start at the top, and find out whether the top administrators are living up to the oaths of office they supposedly took when they started to work for the educational system.

However, it may be too late.

Slain Kent State Students Hoodlums

The despicable attempt by your staff to portray the Kent College hoodlums that were shot in the light of martyrs by the cartoon in the May 7 issue of the editorial section has decided me to discontinue subscription to your publication.

I note that when your establishment was attacked and damaged by the same type hoodlums you referred to them as vandals engaged in criminal acts of vandalism, which they were, but no cartoons glorifying them as martyrs.

Pro-Nixon Student Speakers Booed

In regard to your front page article of May 8 concerning the discussions at Drake High School on the Southeast Asian war, I beg to differ with a statement you made. You said, and I quote, "An attempt to find student speakers who would support the Nixon administration's conduct of the war was to no avail." This statement is completely false. On the contrary, there are students who support President Nixon's policies.

During the meeting in which your picture was taken, there were students present who had attempted to speak in favor of President Nixon, however, they were booed off the podium. Had your photographer been standing 10 feet back, he would have included some students displaying American flags. The picture that was printed was not a fair representation of the student body at Drake High School.

This day was devoted to the discussion of the Southeast Asian war, to let both sides air their differences. This was successful in small or class size groups, but when students attempted to speak in front of a large group in favor of President Nixon, it was nearly impossible. . .

School Convocation Not Student-Sought

In your May 11 issue you stated that classes at Redwood High School would be suspended on May 12 as a "student-sought convocation." I question the validity of this phrase since the group of student protestors who advocated this proposal numbered at most, in my estimation, 100 people. If 100 or 2,500 students can influence the faculty into voting overwhelmingly (80-11) for suspention of classes can Principal Donald Kreps honestly call this a "student-sought convocation"? Classes were to be suspended for a mandatory rally in which speakers from U. C. Berkeley were to appear. Yet there was no definite answer from the organizers of this rally to the question of both sides of the issue were to be presented. Did the faculty consider the students who would have rather remained in class or did their own personal feelings decide their vote??

Minister Offered Comfort In Tragedy

On April 10 our nephew Mark Dilger was one of the two young men who were swept away by waves at Elephant Rock, McClure's Beach.

The shocked and sorrowing young companions of Mark who came to notify Mark's parents found comfort only in the fact that "out of nowhere came a young minister who offered prayers (in which they all joined) on the spot." The boys were then invited to the minister's home and given warm food before leaving to tell the parents the sad news.

In their distress the young men did not get the name of the minister and upon returning the next day they were unable to locate his address.

The family greatly appreciates this genuine kindness and uses this means to express its gratitude.

In tragedy we are all brothers — one in faith and one in purpose. What could be a better example?

City-Bought Lot Should Be Park

The City of Mill Valley has recently acquired a tax sale lot on Azalea Drive, being parcel A, Scott Valley, Unit No. 1. This lot should now be officially taken into the parks and recreation commission inventory, labeled as a park and signed as such. This should help to prevent a future council declaring this land surplus and selling to the highest bidder as has happened before with tax deeded lots.

Prosecutors, Yes But Not Solely

In re Mr. Clifford S. Lund's letter, (April 24), pertaining to the qualifications of a prosecuting attorney for the judiciary: Mr. Lund was correct, as far as he went, when he mentioned that four of our judges were at one time with the district attorney's office. What he failed to mention was the fact that these four men also had broad, liberal educations and extensive experience in private practice before becoming judges, experience which broadened their horizons to a great extent. Mr. Zunino has the specialized education in criminology, and since his admission to the bar, a short six years ago, has practiced law only in the prosecutor's office.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Chanting On The Ellipse– And Attack Of The Hard Hats

WASHINGTON — The last of the litter is being cleaned up, the last of the stragglers have departed. It was a famous victory for peaceful — or relatively peaceful — protest. But, like such victories in the past, the end result is as transitory as the shouted chants of the huge crowd on the elipse.

What matters far more is the beginning of a movement on the campuses to use the political process to change the policy of the government from war to peace. Princeton University started it with the decision to grant all undergraduates two weeks in October to work for congressional candidates. This does not mean that the semester will be shortened, since the term will begin in the fall a week earlier and a week will be taken off the Christmas vacation.

The student body of Haverford College, along with most of the faculty and service employes, came to Washington to try friendly persuasion with members of Congress. They had even cut their hair and cleaned up to show that they were ready to work through the electoral process. The same signal is coming from other campuses around the country.

THIS HAS COME, it must be said, very late. The alienated young have stirred profound underlying prejudices in Middle America.

For many of the young, copping-out has been a passive protest. Long hair, preferably dirty, bare feet, an Indian head band, drugs — these have been limp symbols of rebellion.

Most of these young could not say how they would change the system if they had it in their power to do so. There is, however, a small minority of activists bent on bringing the system down.

Perhaps the most charitable tag to apply to these activists is romantic anarchists. They are for destruction for destruction's sake. The likelihood is that they will destroy themselves first of all. An analogy out of the past suggests what the peril really is in the counter reaction that these wild romanticists are creating.

IN THE EARLY '30s the weak Weimar Republic in post-World War 1 Germany was beset by a variety of ills. The Communists were out to destroy this feeble government that had seen the middle class wiped out by ruinous inflation. They were aided and abetted by wild-eyed young revolutionaries who in manner and dress seem to have been definitely hippie types before hippie and yippie came into the vocabulary.

You could hear them in their cellar rendezvous predicting the revolution they were about to bring on. But, while they were boasting of what they would do on the barricades, the real revolution was being highly organized with the help of big money from German industrialists. Hitler and the Nazis were ready to take over. The young revolutionaries who did not flee the country were shortly in concentration camps.

NO ONE WOULD for a moment suggest that this is where we are today. Yet, ominous signs make plain the polarization that is taking place and the deep currents of prejudice and hatred below the surface.

The attack of the construction workers, the hard hats, at high noon in Wall Street was the most ominous of these signs. Peaceful young demonstrators against the war and in memory of the four Kent State dead were assaulted mercilessly by some 200 hard hats from nearby construction sites. At least 70 persons were injured, some of them bystanders who tried to stop the assault. Trinity Church became a dressing station for the wounded, with the hard hats twice trying to break into this refuge and to tear down the Episcopal flag which they apparently thought was a Viet Cong flag.

So much is still unknown about the assault and the subsequent attempt to storm City Hall. How was it organized? Who determined the timing? Was there a common ideological motive or was it simply a blind hitting-out at the long hairs?

These questions deserve some answers. Above all, the romantic anarchists should be concerned about the answers. They are a tiny minority capable of generating not their kind of revolution but a violent counterrevolution of the right.

Devaluation Looms Again In Inflation-Beset Britain

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG

LONDON (UPI)—The word "devaluation"—a dirty word in the lexicon of economics—has hit the headlines in Britain again. It has sent shock waves through the political lobbies of a country facing national elections.

The Daily Mail said in a recent editorial, "If the increased costs due to pay rises are not absorbed by increased productivity, output and efficiency, then we are back to square one, with a big balance of payments deficit and—dare we think of it?—another devaluation of the cards."

THIS AND similar warnings stemmed from the biggest pay stampede in British history, currently under way.

Up to five million British workers are demanding—and in most cases getting—pay hikes unheard of in this country before.

Some demands have been for 50 per cent boosts.

The overall increase this year is expected to be between 8 and 10 per cent and possibly as much as 15 per cent, compared with the 4 1-2 per cent ceiling set by the government only six months ago and now abandoned completely.

THE INTERNATIONAL Monetary Fund, to which Britain is still heavily in debt from the time of the pound's last devaluation in November, 1967, warned just over a month ago that the breakdown of the Labor government's wage curbs policy is a threat to the nation's continued economic recovery.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson, who faces the voters within the next 12 months, concentrated on pointing up the fact Britain's foreign business, until recently deeply in the red, now is in the black again with a large balance of payments surplus.

But the Conservatives have latched on to steeply rising prices and mounting inflation as a major election issue. They accuse the government of sidestepping any action to curb wages and prices in an election year.

They have warned that if the present inflationary splurge continues unchecked, Britain soon will price itself out of foreign markets again, lose the advantages gained from the 14.3 per cent devaluation of the pound in 1967 and make another devaluation inevitable.

Consternation On Capitol Hill: Students Work Within System

WASHINGTON — For years now, our congressmen on Capitol Hill have been urging students to "work within the system." You can imagine their surpise and consternation last week when the students took them up on it.

Congressman Halyard Hoakum was just putting some balls in his golf bag when his secretary came in and said, "Sir, there's a delegation of students outside from your district and they want to see you."

Congressman Hoakum said, "For heaven's sakes, it's Friday. Don't they know we don't work on Friday?"

"I told them that, but they still insisted on seeing you. They said they're from Fairweather State, your alma mater."

"ALL RIGHT, show them in," Congressman Hoakum said, "but be sure and interrupt me in 20 minutes. You can say the White House is calling."

The secretary showed 10 students in.

A young girl said, "Congressman Hoakum, we've come to discuss with you what is going on in Vietnam."

CONGRESSMAN HOAKUM said "Of course you have. Say, let's pose for a photo together." He buzzed his press man. "Jack, you want to bring in the camera and take some shots of me talking to a group of fine, dedicated Americans from Fairweather State? We could air mail it out there for Monday morning's papers. Good."

Congressman Hoakum said, "Now gather around the desk here and pretend like you have something really serious to say."

"WE DO HAVE something serious to say," a boy said. "Congressman Hoakum, the students at Fairweather State are concerned over the way the President has been . . . "

"Say, how's the football team going to be?" the congressman asked. "Coach Fogel told me he might get a bowl invitation this year."

A girl pursued the subject, "We are fed up with rhetoric and pablum. We want our representatives in Congress to do something."

"I know exactly how you feel," Congressman Hoakum said. "When I was a student I felt the same way. I said, 'Why can't we change things?' But since I've been in public life, I've taken a more realistic view. But you're too young to know that, and I envy your idealism. If I were your age, I'd be doing the same thing you're doing."

"HOW CAN WE change things, Congressman Hoakum?"

"By working through the system. That's the American way. Our government with its checks and balances provides for everyone to have a voice in this country. And no one believes in the right of peaceful dissent more than I do. You getting all this on tape, Jack?"

"Congressman Hoakum," the girl spokesman said, "you have been a great help to us and have shown us what we have to do."

"It's wonderful that we can still communicate. What are you going to do?"

"WE'RE GOING to get all the students at Fairweather State to work for your defeat in November."

"We'll see that it's your last one."

The students marched out singing. Hoakum, his head in his hands, said to his pressman, "Jack, call J. Edgar Hoover and tell him to find the SOB who's trying to get the kids to work within the system."

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Bureaucrats Ignore Results Of Votes

In Mr. (George) Nevin's report in the Independent-Journal on low income housing, he states that the proposal for an additional 600 units is on the June ballot despite a ruling by a three-judge federal court that the approval of the voters is not necessary in order to apply for a federal hand-out.

This comes as no surprise, as it has been known for some time that once the central planners decide on a program, it will be carried out regardless of the desires of the voters:

For example:

1. The people of Marin County failed to approve a bond issue for a new Civic Center. We now have a new Civic Center.

2. The voters of Marin turned down a county charter. We now see our elected officials participating in ABAG, which is desperately trying to become a regional government.

3. In 1964 the wheat farmers of the Midwest voted approval of a referendum to remove government controls. The controls have remained, and have even been increased.

If the bureaucrats believe they can win approval for their schemes, they like the voting public to indicate their desire for more socialism.

Campaigner Doubts Behr Involvement

Mr. Peter Behr knows the importance of being a Republican in a primary election when only Republican votes can help him. His campaign biography states "he was highly involved in the Kuchel for Senator campaign of 1962 and 1968." Yet in explaining to the Marin Republican organization why he had been inactive in Republican affairs since 1961, Mr. Behr stated as county supervisor he had to be nonpartisan. Both Kuchel campaigns took place while he was supervisor. Question: Which one of these two conflicting statements would Mr. Behr have Marin Republican voters believe?

As county chairman for the Kuchel campaign of 1968, I vividly remember the June primary. My records show no involvement whatsoever of Mr. Behr in the Marin battle. The Northern California Kuchel Headquarters files show no record of his involvement . . . The former campaign personnel there, including the senator's local staff man, have no recollection of Mr. Behr's involvement at any level.

Question: In what sense would Mr. Behr have Marin Republican voters believe that he was "highly involved in the Kuchel campaign of 1968?". . .

'Smart Shopper' No Mathematician

Smart Shopper Arthur E. Rowse sure should have put his foot in his mouth before he wrote his column which appeared in your paper May 6.

He would have saved himself and your paper much embarrassment, since he betrayed his irresponsible reporting in a way that any school boy can easily check by the use of a simple "compound interest table."

Art Smart-Shopper said that $24,000 saved in buying term life insurance instead of whole life would grow to $61,900 in 20 years invested at 4 per cent interest. Even if he had the $24,000 at the beginning of the 20 year period to invest at 4 per cent compound interest, it would accumulate to only $52,584. The $24,000, however, could be invested only as it was saved over the 20-year period. If we assume the average of $1,200 per year is invested at 4 per cent compound interest, it would grow to $37,163. This is $9,537 less than the $45,700 for the "whole life" policy which was used in the illustration.

Mr. Rowse has miscalculated by a total of $24,737, which should be enough to disqualify him for serious consideration by anyone and certainly by a newspaper purporting to purvey truth in the purest form possible.

Warning From The Younger 'Silent'

When I sent what follows to the President today, I think I spoke for more middle-class Americans than Nixon appears to realize are in what he calls the "silent majority."

"Dear Mr. President: I am urging you to effect America's immediate withdrawal from all of Indochina. And I just as urgently implore you to put more money and effort into cleaning up America's polluted environment. I'll pay my share of extra taxes to those ends, uncomplainingly.

"Do not underestimate the silent generation of the 1950's. I doubt that it will let its sons go to wars such as the one in which we are now so foolishly engaged. A silent man when he finally speaks is usually heard, usually expects a response, and usually gets one. If you think you have troubles now, wait until my generation foresees that its offspring are surely going to be poured down the rat hole of a presidential war."

Chaos Demonstrated By Board Meeting

The Frankenstein monster of complete chaos that the Sausalito School Board has created, made another appearance last night (May 4) at a regular board meeting.

Trustee C. Gerald Clear read a statement which stated that Sid Walton, principal of Martin Luther King School, should be relieved of his job because of the manner in which he is using the children to further his political beliefs. Not long after this statement was read, Brian Beard, school recall candidate, occupied, uninvited, the chair of absent Trustee (Martha) Freebairn-Smith next to Trustee James Muldoon. All at once, Brian Beard made an attempt to violently shove Mr. Muldoon out of his seat to the floor. Mr. Walton's special assistant, Mr. Tolliver, brought his Doberman with him and at times the dog growled fiercely. A man standing against the back wall was surrounded by a group of verbal antagonizing people whose actions almost resulted in an all out confrontation. . .

Hosmer Says It For The Women

I would like to compliment the I-J for recently printing the literate, enlightening (to most), well researched and absolutely accurate series on Woman's Image" by Barbara Hosmer.

Amen; Amen; Amen!

It is the first time I've actually waited for a newspaper to arrive for any reason other than to check copy.

Particular thanks to Barbara Hosmer for telling it like it is; so lucidly. Laugh as men will, it is strictly no fun to do twice the work for half the pay while the privileged male arrives late, leaves early, and slaves over the three-martini-lunch in the interim.

Fine Performance By Youth Orchestra

It was most unfortunate that you were not able to have your music critic in attendance at the Marin Youth Orchestra concert last Sunday. . .

In what surely was the finest performance in its 16-year history, the Marin Youth Orchestra, under conductor Hugo Rinaldi, won a standing ovation from a near-capacity audience at San Rafeal High School. The spontaneous and unusual acclaim followed a surprisingly mature and finely executed performance of the Beethoven Fifth Symphony, which occupied the second half of the program.

Opening the concert of this talented and well-trained group of 70 high school (and some elementary school) musicians was the seldom heard "Requiem for Celli" by Popper, a lovely and sonorous work for three celli, supported by a woodwind and bass ensemble. In this performance the solo parts were doubled, using six celli, all of whom played from memory, with a very satisfying result in tone quality, intonation and phrasing. Soloists were Jan Gauder, Debbie Davis, Jed Barahal, Joan Franzini, Monica Maguire and Susan Rose.

Soloist Joanne Gaizutis, a 15-year-old student at San Domenico School, closed the first half of the program with a poised and thoroughly competent rendering of the first movement of the Grieg Piano Concerto in A Minor. . .

Highlight of the concert, however, was an extraordinary performance of the Beethoven Symphony No. 5 in C Minor. it was superb. . .

The concert was preceded by a demonstration performance of the "Workshop for Strings" under Conductor Robert Jacobson, also sponsored and supported by the Marin Symphony Guild. . .

If Founders Sat For Civil Service

I dreamt last night that the astral spirits of Jefferson, Franklin, Washington and their 56 collaborators sat for civil Service posts.

The legal papers of the year contained questions on our Declaration of Independence, U.S. Constitution and our even more arncient Bill of Rights (1689).

All answered very badly.

Because, although all had profound knowledge of the Institutes of Hammurabi, Rome, Justinian, Blackstone, et al, not one could comprehend the Institutes of Warren — whom they formally abjured.

Armed Forces Day Display Slated At Base

Low-level flights of Convair F-106 Delta Darts and a display of various types of aircraft will highlight Armed Forces Day from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday at Hamilton Air Force Base.

The theme of the program is "Forces For Freedom". Planes displayed will be the F-100, F-101, F-102, F-105 and F-106.

Trainer planes on display will include a T-33, a T-37 and a T-38. Cargo planes to be shown are the C119, C-47, C-124 and C-141 "Starlifter."

LOW-LEVEL FLIGHTS

The 84th fighter interceptor squadron of the First Fighter Wing will stage the low-level flights. Other types of aircraft also will take part in an aerial show.

The 41st Aerospace Rescue and Recovery Squadron will demonstrate its technique of picking up people from hard-to-reach areas.

The 573rd Air Force Band will perform several concerts and provide background music for a style show to be given by Air Force Women.

Pre-World War I and World War II planes will be displayed by the American Air Historical Society. Among them will be a Ford Bushmaster, a tri-motor plane.

SENTRY DOGS

Other displays will be put on by the Civil Air Patrol, the Aero Club and base fire department.

A demonstration of sentry dogs also will be given.

The schedule of events:

11:15 a.m., concert by the band at base operations.

11:15 to noon and 1 to 1:35 p.m., model airplane demonstration.

Noon to 12:30 p.m. and 3 to 3:30 p.m., model rocket firing.

1:35 to 3:30 p.m., aerial demonstrations.

3:30 to 4 p.m., sentry dog demonstration.

No Night Cash At Gas Stations

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Standard Oil Co. of California says its gas stations in the West will not be allowed to give change at night.

Attendants can't keep even personal cash between 10 p.m. and 6 a.m.

A spokesman said Wednesday the plan, aimed at reducing robberies, begins Friday in Northern California, Nevada and Arizona and May 31 in the Pacific Northwest.

Night customers will be asked to make purchases with credit cards, exact change or checks. Cash will be dropped immediately through one-way slots in burglar-proof safes.

Marinwood Firemen Set Annual Barbecue

The Marinwood Firemen's Association's annual chicken barbecue will be held on Memorial Day from 4 to 7 p.m. at the firemen's picnic area between Quietwood Drive and Miller Creek School.

Irving L. Schwartz, president of the association, said proceeds will be used to improve the barbecue area. Last month, the firemen completed eight new picnic tables and a large serving table.

Charter To Establish Bank Sought By Women

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Nine women who say their sex for too long has gone untrained in matters of finance are seeking a state charter to establish and operate a bank.

The First Women's Bank of Florida would be near the retirment center on the southern end of Miami Beach.

"We hope our bank would be used as a proving ground to train women to take care of their financial matters," says Mrs. Mal Englander, a 45-year-old grandmother and chairman of the board for the proposed facility.

"We realize that all women would like to predecease their husbands but the facts of life are that we don't. And whether women handle any of the financial matters or not, we would like for them to be able to face it calmly and with knowledge.

"Many women fear just the word 'bank.' We would like to make bank a household word."

In Tallahassee, state Banking Commissioner Fred O. Dickinson Jr. said the application for a charter listed capitalization of $1 million. He said the women's request would be handled routinely, with a decision later this year.

"If this application is approved," Dickinson said, "it would be to my knowledge the first such bank in the country."

Mrs. Englander, wife of a former Miami Beach city councilman, and eight other women were listed as directors.

"We've had limited banking experience," Mrs. Englander said, "but I believe you will find that most men who establish banks also did not have prior banking experience."

"We have lined up women with intensive backgrounds who will be in charge of the bank itself. All the top officers will be women," she said.

Men also will be employed by the bank, and their accounts would be welcomed, Mrs. Englander said.

Director Phyllis Cole, 32 and a divorcee, is vice president of the Florida Consumers Association, Inc.

Mrs. Cole noted that much of the wealth in the Miami Beach area is controlled by widows but she added: "Men build it up and a lot of women are bilked out of it because they find themselves in a muddle."

MAXIMUM FREEDOM for the body was the message from Rudi Gernreich once again. He showed this outfit built around a black jumpsuit, featuring removable print pants below a micro-skirt, which eventually reverts to a plain jumpsuit as part of his collection, which featured tunics and removable sleeves and topless evening gowns on Tuesday in New York.

'The Body Is Free'—Gernreich

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — Baby, when it's cold outside next fall, hope it's warm inside — if you're wearing Rudi Gernreich's nearly-topless evening gown.

The inventor of the topless bathing suit, covered to his neck in a black tunic and matching trousers, beamed at the applause for his evening gowns Tuesday.

"THE BODY is free," he said. "That's very important. We arrived at this point during the last 10 years. It is very important that we don't revert back."

Maxi-freedom for the body was among fashion statements made by the award-winning West Coast designer some months ago when he returned from a year's leave.

The statement included a nude male and a nude female model — each with shaved heads.

Gernreich's collection for Harmon Knitwear distinguished itself further by ignoring the midi —the maxi-cover engulfing designer collections all over the nation's garment district here and depressing girl watchers worldwide.

HIS KNIGHT costumes came off, layer by layer. A long sleeved tunic became sleeveless when the sleeves wre tugged off. Long pant legs came off the same way to reveal the black legs of a black knight jumpsuit.

Then the tunic itself came off to reveal the jumpsuit — accented by a belt that hung holster-fashion at the hips.

The jumpsuit fit like a second skin.

"We've arrived at this point of body consciousness through diet, sports, outside living," Gernreich said. "Clothes like these are so basic, so free. Once you have them on you can forget them."

His "second skin" collection included versions of the micromini skirt into which bikini pants were stitched. The pants keep the skirt from riding up. The skirt looked less than a foot long.

SOME OF the built-in pants were short. Others were over the knee. Some were long.

For the coldest of days he showed ribbed-knit body stockings with turtle necks pulled up to the eyes.

Almost everything in the collection involved the body stocking jumpsuit —"to give the freedom a dancer feels when she's rehearsing," according to the designer. Dancer's practice shoes were on the feet.

"This is an all around kind of group —sweaters, separates, every length," he said. "Sweaters and pants or shirts and pants. I think they look best, anyway."

For those with mature or mismanaged figures he showed a group of long, full knit robes that looked like a monk's apparel —sans cowl. These were in geometrics and huge block prints in muted tones.

The body underneath is free —even when layered in yards of fabric, the designer said.

Mrs. Fred Kanter Heads Marin Chapter Of ORT

Mrs. Fred Kanter, new president of the Marin Chapter of Women's American ORT (Organization for Rehabilitation Through Training), previously served as first vice president. An ORT member for several years, she has belonged to the Marin chapter since moving to San Rafael two years ago.

ORT members raise money for vocational schools that provide training and social assistance to needy children in more than 50 countries and for special schools for the handicapped.

The local chapter plans to participate in a glue-in at the Marin Art and Garden Fair. Other fund raising and social events planned include a luncheon, game night, ORT Sabbath service, candy sales and monthly meetings with interesting programs, according to the new president.

Louise Kanter is the education chairman in Marin for the Women's Division of the Jewish Welfare Federation.

A native of Chicago, Louise was graduated from the University of Illinois with a bachelor's degree in nursing and received a master's degree in social work.

She and her husband, who is a life insurance salesman, have a daughter, Mira Rachel, 19 months old. Her interests are modern and folk dancing and tennis, and she belongs to a book club, the Brandeis University Study Group, an investment club and has taken French cooking lessons.

MRS. FRED KANTER

Other ORT officers are Mmes. Nathan Becker, first vice president; Seymour Levin, second vice president; Charles Beren, corresponding secretary; Jerry Weinnon, treasurer; and Steven Jaffee and Geral Kadish, financial secretaries.

Some Sound Advice For Men About To Take The Plunge

By DONALD E. MULLEN

NEW YORK (UPI)—It takes a while for a former bridegroom to get a sense of perspective about his own wedding. And since I've been married almost eight years, I would like to pass along some advice to those who must face a church wedding with all the accompanying ritual.

Advice No. 1 —Hazy agreement. There's nothing you can do one way or the other once the machinery for a formal wedding is underway. Your love and her mother will be babbling, fighting and crying and such. Stay out of it. Walk around with a dreamy smile on your face.

Advice No. 2 — Make sure your best man knows what to do. He's supposed to keep you reasonably sober and cue you for the right toasts, make sure your attire is correct, that you are on time for various events, and that your old friends don't do anything permanently damaging to your person before the ceremony.

Advice No. 3 —The wedding service itself is a terrifying affair. It was designed that way to impress upon you the seriousness of the step you are taking. You have two choices: 1 —Go in cold sober. 2 —Take a couple of stiff hookers before the music starts. If you go in cold sober you may faint from the overpowering sensation of what you're doing with your life. If you down a couple, you may be struck the same way only from a humorous standpoint and laugh yourself silly. Go in cold sober—at least you'll have the memory of the triumph of matter over mind.

Advice No. 4 —Don't listen to anybody except your best man. Nobody expects anything rational out of you anyway, so save your strength. Just smile and nod when they pause to take a breath. Kiss all women who appear to be over 40. Shake hands with a mature seriousness with all men over 40.

Advice No. 5 —Try not to remember who gave you the most expensive present. It colors your judgement in later life.

Advice No. 6 —Don't stay at the reception too long. Everybody is in the mood for a party and you and your bride are cramping their style. And by all means stay away from the bridesmaids.

Advice No. 7 —If any member of the family gets hysterial as you drive away, be cool. Firmly but gently pry their fingers off the car, get in and drive away. It's all part of the ritual.

Advice No. 8 — Have a great marriage.

Charcoal Fires

A hands-off policy is advisable for charcoal fires, once you've put the food on to cook. Poking and raking briquets lowers the temperature. So does adding new fuel in the center of the fire. If you need additional fuel, it should be added at the edges after it's well lit. To increase the heat, gently tap the gray ash off briquets to expose the red surfaces.

SUCCESSFUL DAY AT THE MARKET

The Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross looked like this yesterday when the Northgate Group sponsored its annual Market Day. Decorated in a Far Eastern theme, the Center almost had the look of an oriental bazaar as more than 500 shoppers visited booths and had lunch. Even though the sale started under threatening skies more people than could be accommodated attended. (Independent-Journal photo)

Davies Travel To Kona Coast Home

By MOLLY MARIN

Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Davies of Indian Valley Ranch, Novato have returned from Hawaii, where they have built a new home on the Kona Coast. Elizabeth stayed in Hawaii while Charles went on to Japan, Hong Kong, Taiwan and the Philippines on a business trip. While in Japan he attended the World's Fair in Osaka, traveling there aboard a Boeing 747.

TRUDI FERGUSON will be honored at a tea given May 27 at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Barlow Ferguson of Kent Woodlands. Trudi, who is a senior at San Domenico School, is among the 1970 Marin debutantes, and the guests will include the other debs.

LIVING IN Sherman Oaks are Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Martin Ayeroff, who were married recently at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ayeroff, in Sherman Oaks. The new Mrs. Ayeroff is the former Sandra Jewel Bellach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bellach of San Rafael.

Sandra attended College of Marin and her husband is a graduate of Woodbury College and is the owner of Bruce Enterprises. He plans to attend Southwestern Law School, in the fall.

MARINITES SAILING aboard the S. S. Canberra for Europe recently were Mr. and Mrs. Alfonse Roslmaier and their daughter Brigitte of San Rafael, who are on a year-long vacation in Cherbourg, France. Another traveler to Cherbourg was Miss Inge Reumaia of San Rafael. Also sailing was Mrs. Gladys Reams of San Anselmo, a nurse, who is taking a four month vacation in Portugal and other European countries. The ship sailed from San Francisco and visited Balboa, Cristobal, Jamaica and Nassau en route to Europe.

Tobie Nabors To Be Bride Of Frederick J. Pfeiffer

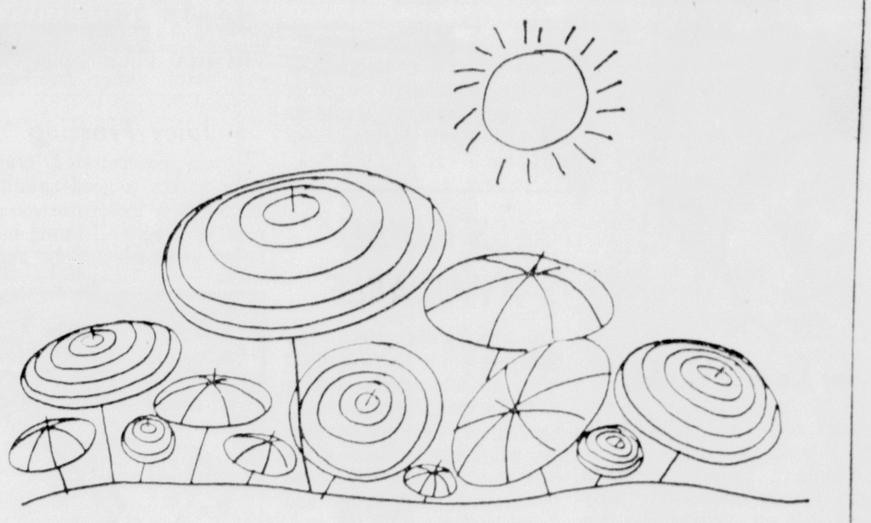
The engagement of Tobie Lynne Nabors to Frederick John Pfeiffer has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Newman G. Nabors of San Rafael.

Tobie was graduated from San Rafael High School and attended College of Marin. She is a graduate of the University of California School of Nursing and is employed at Alta Bates Community Hospital in Berkeley.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Pfeiffer of Detroit, Mich., are the future bridegroom's parents, and he is the brother of Mrs. Michael Assuma. Frederick was graduated from Cass Technical High School and attended Wayne State University, both in Detroit.

Sept. 5 has been set as the couple's wedding date.

TOBIE NABORS



This is a beach.

It has sand. And waves. And a big yellow sun that's shining this year on all kinds of new things. First, there's the Bikini Brigade — newer than ever now with long sheer things for un-covering up with. And then there are the new one-piecers. With intriguing cut-outs. And backs that dip to new lows. And sides that aren't there. And there are beachdresses. And beachsweaters. And even midi skirts to wear with sand in your toes. Planning a little time at the beach? We can't promise the sun will shine every day. But we can see that you do.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Why A Law That Says Girls Under 18 Can't Be Newspaper Boys?

DEAR HELEN:

If they allow girls to go out and sell Girl Scout cookies, why don't they drop the law that says we girls under 18 can't be "newspaper boys?"

Our state lets boys from age 12 up deliver papers, but not girls. I can ride a bike as well as my brother, and throw as straight too. And I wouldn't be out after dark.

Why the favoritism? — JOBLESS

DEAR JOBLESS:

Such rulings were made B.E. (before equality). Because few people questioned them, they have remained on the books. Stir up a dozen or so letters to your legislators and the newspaper, and you'll be surprised how fast your fight against discrimination, junior grade, becomes a cause. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

My parents fight constantly, over the smallest things. They threaten to kill themselves or leave.

Mother claims she only married Dad because she felt sorry for him. If that's the case, how come they had four children?

Dad says he would get a divorce but as a good Catholic he can't. Hooey. The only reason he goes to church is because he wants to be a part of the Sunday society squad.

We've tried to get them to a counselor but they say they don't need one. It's worse than ever now that only my brother and I (age 16) are home, and I have to bear most of the battles as he works evenings. Our two sisters are secretaries and share a nice big apartment.

I am so tired of shouting and swearing I'd almost marry the first person that asked me, just to find some quiet. But nobody has asked me. How can we make our immature parents grow up? — MARY JANE

DEARY MARY:

When you've reached the end of your rope, it's sometimes best to jump free. I'd suggest tape-recording a major battle. When your folks hear themselves as others hear them, perhaps they will either seek help or let you move in with your sisters. And the latter might be better until they shape up. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

This boy is known as a real maniac with the girls, but he's always been a perfect gentleman with me. We have dated two weeks, starting the day he broke up with his steady, who is a dog.

He told me he didn't like her but she was an easy make, s-o-o-o-. . .

Last night he said he was going back to her, because I was "too good for him." He said he liked me best, but. . .he has needs that I don't understand. He said he'd never ask me to go against my standards, so it had to be good-bye.

Helen, I don't want him dating a tramp. He even says she's one. There's a way I could save him. He loves me, so it would be different. Wouldn't it? — TOO GOOD

DEAR T.G.:

Correction: He says he loves you. But that won't keep him from describing you as a tramp to his next conquest. . .after you persuade him.

Sorry to disillusion you, T.G., but the old "You're too good for me" line is standard procedure for a guy who doesn't much care who he gets, just so he gets her to bed. — H.

PRESS GUIDE IS AVAILABLE

A new guide for press chairmen of organizations which are interested in getting news to the Marin Women's Section of the Independent-Journal is now available at the San Rafael main office and the Novato, Mill Valley and Southern Sonoma I-J offices.

The booklet, "Getting News Into Your Newspaper," is issued as a service of the Independent-Journal Women's Section to assist press chairmen for women's organizations.

Juicy Frosting

Frozen concentrated orange juice makes a good substitute for cream or milk when you are making a butter frosting using butter and confectioners' sugar.

Novato Garden Club Elects Mrs. Van Horn

A native of Canada, Mrs. John W. Van Horn has been elected president of the Novato Garden Club for the 1970-71 year. She was hospitality chairman the past year and has been a member of the club for two years. She is also membership chairman for the San Marin High School Parent-Faculty Club.

Vivian Van Horn was born on Vancouver Island, British Columbia but has been a citizen since 1959. She and her husband, a fish broker, have lived in Marin County five years. They have one son, Michael, 17, a junior at San Marin High School.

Mrs. Van Horn enjoys gardening, all hand crafts, such as sewing, knitting and stitchery and all sports.

The garden club's ultimate purpose is beautification in all areas, the new president said.

Projects for the year include a flower show on June 6, participation on the congress for community progress on May 23 at Novato High School, a Christmas green sale and the May mart next spring.

Officers to serve with Mrs. Van Horn are Mmes. Fielder A. Nordstrom, first vice president; Robert Hood, second vice president; Joseph Amato, recording secretary; John F. Yardas, corresponding secretary; Leslie Barlow, treasurer and Keith Cowan, past president.

Gift For Mom

Regardless of her social status and income, every Viennese mother receives a package from the City of Vienna upon the birth of a baby. Each package, compiled from suggestions from Vienna's leading doctors, contains 20 diapers, a blanket, three shirts, four jackets, a knit suit, a coverall, a bottle, sweater and other baby items.

Rich, Lush Look From Bill Blass

By ANN HENCKEN

NEW YORK (AP) — The fall collection by Bill Blass for Maurice Rentner has a rich, lush look—sable hats, beautifully tailored wools, gold boots, evening velvets and extravagant jewelry.

Prices range from about $325 to $2,500. Raincoats are less. So far, there's no hope of a boutique collection from Blass.

"To me, it isn't valid. To achieve that look, you have to use the most expensive fabrics. You can't translate it," he said.

Blass, who sat on a railing to narrate the show at the Plaza Hotel, said he most enjoyed doing the tailored day clothes. One dashing look was a country plaid cape over belted tunic and pants, tucked into over-the-knee boots by David Evins. Hats by Adolfo included bandage turbans and broad-brimmed felts.

Evening clothes ran the gamut from kimonos complete with Japanese wigs by Lupe to split level mini-midi chiffons. A Persian print panne velvet was worn with red snakeskin boots and wild gold necklace by William de Lillo.

At the end of the show there were "bravos" called through the hearty round of applause.

The new Molly Parnis boutique collection—$95-$250—included a nice purple broadcloth dress and shawl and a grey flannel slit-neck dress trimmed in black. The main idea was high slits on midiskirts and some low necklines for evening, like the low U-neck on a full length black velvet dress.

Clogs Date Back To Old Greece

Clogs are clip-clopping on the most fashionwise feet. The clog style goes back 2000 years to Greece. They are meant these days for wearing with all types of sportswear. They are coming out in a variety of styles, colors and fabrics — ranging from suede, leather, crinkle patent, denim, to mock tortoise. A Brooklyn, N. Y. store has set aside a "clog nook" to assist cloggers-to-be in their selections.

ON THE AGENDA

Children's Bazaar Saturday To Benefit Planned Parenthood

Planned Parenthood Auxiliary of Marin will hold its annual children's bazaar Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Corte Madera Recreation Center.

The day-long bazaar will feature used children's clothing, furniture, books, toys, new handmade boutique items, homemade jams, cookies and other foods, refreshments and a fun land to occupy children while mothers shop.

Mrs. V. Neil Fulton is bazaar chairman. Proceeds will benefit the Planned Parenthood medical clinic in San Rafael and a year-round education and counseling service.

THE SECOND annual Junior Volunteers Award Recognition ceremony will be held at Marin General Hospital tonight at 8 p.m.

Some 55 junior volunteers will be honored, and the 1970-71 scholarship award winners also will be announced. This is a program in which the Marin General Hospital Volunteers provide funds for girls to go on to college for training in some phase of the medical or health field.

After the program, to be held in the hospital cafeteria, coffee and dessert will be served. Parents of the junior volunteers have also been invited.

The program will include Mrs. Peter Behr, chairman of the Council of Volunteers; Dr. Gwen Campion, president of the board of directors of the hospital; Ray K. Bolinger, Marin General administrator, and Mrs. Harriet B. Klock, director of nursing services. Also participating will be members of the Lamplighters Branch, which provides funds for the scholarship awards program.

THREE MILL Valley women have gone to San Diego for the 49th annual convention of the American Association of University Women's California State Division to be held at the El Cortez Hotel today through Saturday.

Mrs. Elgar Hill, Mill Valley branch president, and Mrs. James Schock, chairman of the political awareness section, will be the branch delegates. Mrs. Russell Wallace will attend in her capacity as area representative for world problems of the national organization.

"Action with Purpose" will be the theme of the convention, whose purpose is to discuss AAUW study topics and adopt the state division's legislative program for the coming year.

Of special interest to delegates from Marin will be a final tally of answers to the questionnaire "Environment San Francisco Bay Area," which they have been circulating in an attempt to assess grassroots support for a Bay Area regional government with directly elected representatives.

ONE HUNDRED Junior High Camp Fire Girls will meet at Paradise Park in Tiburon at 11 a.m. on Saturday for a "Do Your Own Thing" picnic, according to Mrs. Leland Rosevear, junior high chairman. Sixth, seventh and eighth graders from San Anselmo, Kentfield, Greenbrae, Corte Madera, Larkspur, Tiburon and Mill Valley will explore various fields of interest.

THE SECOND annual Cooks and Waiters' Dinner for Women will be held on Saturday evening at the Corinthian Yacht Club in Belvedere. Having cocktails at 6:30 p.m., dinner at 7:30 p.m. and an entertainment program will be 125 couples.

STRAWBERRY POINT School will hold an International Festival from noon to 5 p.m. on Saturday at the school in Mill Valley. Special features will be the painting of the kindergarten teacher's Volkswagon bus and fortune telling, hand reading and astrology by Donald Wadley, who has performed professionally.

Chairman Mrs. Robert Victor plans a nursery for toddlers, staffed by Girl Scouts who will give a puppet show every hour, which is under adult supervision.

Included in the festival will be a white elephant sale, horse rides, a movie, a candy kitchen, outdoor market, teachers' bake sale, soft drinks, cake walks, hamburgers, popcorn, cotton candy, do-it-yourself frosting, fresh fruit, sno cones, a fish pond, darts, goldfish, bean bag, a shooting gallery, a bowling green, a ring toss, miniature golf, wet-sponge pitching, nail driving and an obstacle course.

THE PETALUMA Whirlers will hold a new dancers hoedown on Saturday at 8:30 p.m. at Kenilworth Recreation Center in Petaluma. Caller for the evening will be Ray Vierra.

A GREEK dinner will be held on Saturday at the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley for Peter Pan Chapter, Children's Home Society members and associate members. Cocktails will be served at 7 p.m. and dinner will be served at 8:30.

An array of Greek food will be served, and for those interested in learning Greek dancing, a dancer will be provided to instruct anyone willing to try.

Mrs. Robert Berg and Mrs. Robert Dunn of Greenbrae will be chairman for the evening.

THE DONALD V. Westlund Post and Auxiliary 7816 Veterans of Foreign Wars of Novato will hold their annual installation of officers in the VFW Hall in Novato at 8 p.m. Saturday.

New officers for the post will be commander, Harold Harker; senior vice commander, Ray Cooper; junior vice commander, Jake Keeley; quartermaster, James Farrington; adjutant, Steve Boyka; chaplain, Frank Rebello; surgeon, Rudy Schoenfield; service officer, Ralph Eckhardt Jr., past commander; three year trustee, Lee Kentoskiv; two year trustee, Earl Stewart; and one year trustee, Gordon K. Morse.

Mrs. Stewart appointed Mrs. Carl Rechsteiner, secretary; Harold Harker, patriotic instructor; and Grover Owen, musician.

Mrs. Geroge Scherba is chairman of the public open installation.

THE YWCA Girls Club of Marin City is sponsoring a bake sale on Saturday at Big G Supermarket in Sausalito and at the home of Miss Vera Williams, group supervisor. Mothers and daughters will bake pies, cakes, cookies, cupcakes and candies. Sales will begin at 9:30 a.m.

Members working on the fund-raising project are Leslie Brooks, Vickie Webb, Evelyn Webb, Gloria Ford, Gail Jackson, Nancy Sibbiluca, Helen Thomas, Jeannette McIntosh, Penny Thomas, Jill Thomas, Pam Carter, Kathy Grant, Presita Curry, Theresa Thomas, Valerie Thomas, Glenda Adams, Natalie Williams, Linda Griffen, Linda Hollingsworts, and Miss Ractel Shaw, volunteer assistant.

THE 16TH annual installation of officers of Marin County Legal Secretaries Association is to be held on Friday evening, at the Oakview Club, the Meadows, Terra Linda at 8:00 p.m.

The officers to be installed are Mmes. Constance Mauk, president; Bea Larson, vice president; Galen Hall, secretary; Marie Grover, treasurer; and Dorothy Hallett, governor and NALS Representative; June Brisbin, parliamentarian; and Anton Wrischnik, historian.

The installing officer will be Miss Helen E. Harney, president-elect of the National Association of Legal Secretaries, and the installing marshall will be Mrs. Kenneth West, first vice president of Legal Secretaries, Inc. (State of California). The master of ceremonies for the evening will be Lawrence E. Wright, president of the Marin County Bar Association.

Reservations chairman is Mrs. Larson.

THE PETALUMA Newcomers Club will hold its annual bake sale on Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in two Petaluma locations. The downtown area will be in front of the J. C. Penny Store and the outlying area will be in front of the Grant Store in the Petaluma Plaza.

Those wishing to assist in this endeavor are requested to contact Mrs. Lloyd Butler Jr. or Mrs. Clay Daily of Petaluma.

A "BON VOYAGE" fashion show and salad luncheon featuring styles suitable for vacations on ship, at the beach or at home will be staged by the Mt. Carmel Women's Club in Mill Valley Saturday at noon in the auditorium of the Mt. Carmel School.

Clothes of knit and stretch fabrics available at a San Rafael shop which are easy to make, pack and wash will be highlighted. An added attraction will be the showing of synthetic wigs.

Models, under the direction of Mrs. Robert Middagh, will be Mmes. James Connell, Louise Mansfield, Robert Ziegler, Timothy Leveque; Sister Nora Agnes and Sister Hannah Herlihy; teen-agers Andrea Perone and Pamela Nowell; and children Teresa and Peter Larson and Mary and Laura Rice.

Chairman Mrs. John Larson will be assisted by Mmes. John Bluth, Matthew Caughie, Keith Cramer, Louis Ferroni, Earl Miller, George Monardo, Harry Morgan, Charles Norton, Gerald Nowell, George Pavlisin, Robert Rankin and Patrick Roche.

Proceeds will go to the building fund of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Church in Mill Valley.

PETALUMA GRANDMOTHER'S Club 49 will hold a social night on Friday at 8 p.m. in honor of all grandmothers.

Dill-Beeson Wedding Held Saturday In Lucas Valley

MR. AND MRS. TERRY E. DILL

Barbara Jo Beeson of San Rafael became the bride of Terry Emmerson Dill Saturday at a 2 p.m. ceremony at Lucas Valley Community Church. She is the daughter of Col and Mrs. Walter L. Beeson.

Kathleen Medieros of Martinez was the maid of honor and Loni Dill of San Anselmo, the bridgeroom's sister, was the bridesmaid. Sheri Nystrom was also an attendent.

Rand Dill of San Anselmo, the bridegroom's brother, served as best man and ushers were Larry Beeson of Vienna, Va., the bride's brother and Gary Fritsch of Dublin.

A graduate of Terra Linda High School and the College of Marin, Barbara attended San Jose State College. She is also the sister of Mrs. Donald Warnick of Moweaqua, Ill.

Terry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Dill of San Anselmo and a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School and the College of Marin. He is stationed at Lemore Naval Air Station in the U. S. Navy.

Muppets Puppeteer Hits Hard-Sell Of Television Products To Child

By JOAN HANAUER

NEW YORK (UPI) — Jim Henson believes it is criminal to subject children to the hard sell of television commercials unless what you are selling them is reading, writing and 'rithmetic.

"I'm very upset about television's exploitation of children," Henson said. He speaks as an authority — he is the creator of the Muppet puppets — such as Kermit, the frog, and the Cookie Monster seen regularly on Sesame Street on National Educational Television.

"There are millions of dollars aimed at the 12 or younger group," he said. "It's almost criminal — no, it is criminal, getting kids to buy products.

"That's not where the networks should be making money. These kids are our country, our future, and they shouldn't be exploited.

"I have four kids of my own, ages five through nine. The two oldest already know that no product advertised on television for them is any good. They're convinced anything aimed at them is garbage — and then network officials wonder why the teen-agers turn off television."

CONCERNING sponsorship by the R. J. Reynolds Foods for one of his recent network shows, Henson says:

"'That's different — and not just because it's me. The commercials weren't aimed at children. I have no objection to commercials aimed at getting grown-ups to buy products."

Henson, 33, tall, lanky and lightly bearded, is a product of Greenville, Miss., and Hyattsville, Md., a suburb of Washington, D. C. He got into the puppet business to help earn his way through the University of Maryland, and did a puppet show for a Washington television station.

"It wasn't until I went to Europe and met some of the puppeteers there that I began to be really interested in puppets as something a man could spend his life doing," Henson said.

He and his puppets have since appeared on a wide variety of shows, from "Today" to "Tonight," from Ed Sullivan to Dick Cavett, and he also has done commercials and industrial films.

"SESAME STREET is my first time with educational television," Henson said. "It's been a lot of fun and the reception has been fantastic — five to six million kids watch it.

"It's a fascinating and challenging thing to teach kids. It's so exciting and we've only been doing it a year now — with a year before that for research — and we've hardly scratched the surface of what can be done with teaching chilren.

"On Sesame Street we use the kind of visuals used in commercials. The commercial sponsors spend millions of dollars researching what works and we're stealing all their techniques to teach the letter A and the letter B."

He predicted that educational television will be used increasingly for everything from teaching children how to read to adult courses. "applying production techniques with entertainment value."

Bay Study Hearings Scheduled

Three hearings have been scheduled in a proposed wide-ranging study of harbor development and water-borne commerce in San Francisco Bay and its tributaries, the Army Corps of Engineers has announced.

Hearings, all at 7:30 p.m., will be held June 2 in the Kaiser Center auditorium, 300 Lakeside Drive, Oakland; June 5 in the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors chamber, 651 Pine Street, Martinez, and June 11 in Sacramento County supervisors' chamber, 827 Seventh Street, Sacramento.

The study, according to the corps, will include studies of commodity flow, economic development, vessel and port facilities, employment, national defense, ecological effects and environmental factors, vessel and port facilities, and transportation.

As outlined in an accompanying map, the study area includes the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta and the Bay drainage area including much of Marin, Sonoma, San Francisco, San Mateo, Santa Clara, Alameda, Contra Costa, Solano and Napa counties.

Fall Semester Registration Set

Registration for the fall semester at Sonoma State College will be resumed Monday, the college registrar has announced.

Students who should have registered Tuesday, May 5 when demonstrators disrupted registration, should plan to enroll Monday in the Field House. Registration will also take place May 20, 21 and 22.

Two A Capella Choirs Plan Sunday Concert

The A Cappella choirs of Tamalpais High School and Analay High School, in Sebastopol, will present a free public concert featuring the mass in G Minor by Vaughan-Williams Sunday at 8 p.m. at Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church in Mill Valley.

Soloists will be soprano Clairellen Waldeck, alto Heather Pemberton, tenor Craig Bond and bass Clay Roni.

The Tamalpais choir will also do work by Weelkes, Hindemith and Greg Gavin, a junior at Tamalpais High School, whose composition "Lonely" was performed at the North Bay Choral Festival on May 2 in Healdsburg to critical acclaim.

The Tamalpais High School madrigal group will also perform works by Morley, Waldo and Bach.

Writer To Face Change On Taxes

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Louis E. Lomax, author of several books including "The Negro Revolt," was indicted Wednesday for failing to file income tax returns on $89,180 in 1964 and 1965. Lomax, 47, a former television personality now living in Long Island, N.Y., also was charged with later signing false and fradulent delinquent returns for the same year.

U.S. Attorney Matt Byrne said the former talk show host failed to file returns on incomes of $36,556 in 1964 and on $52,624 in 1965. He filed his 1964 return April 2, 1966, and his 1965 return Dec. 6, 1966, but neither included all of his earnings, Byrne said.

Car Goes

A white and turquoise 1957 two-door Chevrolet with license DVT 768 owned by Robert H. Wallace of 248 Blackstone Drive, Marinwood, and parked at the Emporium lot in the Northgate Shopping Center was stolen Monday between 1 and 4 p.m., San Rafael police have reported. The car had been parked in the lot by Wallace's son, Duane D. Wallace of the same address, police said.

Marin Burglary Suspects Named By Grand Jury

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A couple linked to more than 38 burglaries in Marin County during the last five years has been indicted by the San Francisco Grand Jury.

The couple, Henry Garrison, 21, and his common-law wife, Audrey Lee, 21, were charged Monday with nine counts of receiving stolen property, possession of amrijuana and LSD.

The couple was arrested April 24 after San Francisco and Marin law officers broke down the door to their San Francisco apartment.

Burglary Inspectors said about $30,000 in furs, jewelry, hi-fi's and other roperty were recoverdd.

Garrison has been held in lieu of $16,000 bail at San Francisco City Jail and will be transferred to Marin County Jail, according to a spokesman. Miss Lee is missing, authorities said.

Part Purloined

A $125 driveshaft was stolen between Thursday and Tuesday from a 1970 Oldsmobile parked in a fenced yard at Scripture Oldsmobile Inc. at 740 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael police reported yesterday.

Good Day For Don At Stanford Scrum

His legion of fans will be happy to know that San Anselman Don Alvarado still looks like a sure-fire all-star gridder at Stanford and could be All-American and Heisman Trophy candidate Jim Plunkett's favorite target this season.

In Saturday's game scrimmage on the Farm, Alvarado caught passes for 16, 12, 7 and 7 yards and one touchdown.

The slender former Drake High All-Northern California sensation was red-shirted last season — that is, withheld from competition to save eligbility.

AND WHILE we're on this football kick. . .

It looks like Saturday's second annual Gordon Tovani place-kicking clinic for high school football players at San Rafael High will be the last one due to lack of interest.

Tovani, a San Rafael resident who described himself as the world's greatest barefoot place-kicker and dean of American place-kicking coaches, yesterday revealed that only six prep kicking units had enrolled in his clinic. Tovani sent out invitations to 150 schools throughout Northern California and he has been overwhelmed by the disinterest.

Heart And Soul Into Project

Too bad, because Tovani has put his heart and soul and a lot of money into this project, which is more of a hobby than business to him. He has hired Jim Otto and Wayne Hawkins of the Oakland Raiders to appear Saturday, spent considerable loot on trophies and film, booklets and other literature on the art of kicking, and was planning to have extra goal posts erected at the SRHS. The latter may not be necessary.

The piddling entry fee from six schools will hardly make a dent in the expenses. Tovani planned to absorb a substantial loss with a full complement of 24 units anyway, so you can see his losses have been compounded.

Tovani is particularly bitter with coaches who have not responded to his clinic and has told the I-J he's ready to hang up his toes.

AL DAVIS, czar of the Oakland Raiders, might be interested to know that his name has been used in vain in Marin.

A local restaurant reports an interesting con game in which a fellow calls to make reservations, saying he is the one and only Al Davis of the Raiders. About two hours later the alleged Davis calls back to say that he will be late but that one of the team trainers, a fellow named Bill Collins, is coming to join him so would the restaurant give him $50 until Davis arrives?

The restauranteur's wise and quick check with Raiders revealed Davis would not be in Marin that evening, the team has no trainer named Bill Collins, and. . .good morning, Judge.

Obitz At The World Fair

HARRY "JAKE" OBITZ, the one-time San Rafael schoolboy who hit it big as a teaching golf professional back east, is appearing at the World Fair in Osaka and other Far East cities this month.

Now golf consultant to the Grand Bahama Development Co., Obitz is showing his famous "The Swing's The Thing," a show biz approach to golf. Developed 25 years ago and since shown to countless millions, "The Swing" is a precision routine performed by Obitz and six of his assistants. Their entertaining and instructional proves that a proper swing is the key to a sound golf game.

I wouldn't be surprised to see "Jake" stop in San Rafael on his way home to cut up old times with some of his old buddies.

San Marin's Bueler Wins Duel, 1-0

By DAVID EINSTEIN

Dennis Bueler, who started the year as San Marin High School's third best pitcher, yesterday became the premier hurler in the Marin County Athletic League as he outdueled Roger Smith and silenced mighty Redwood of Larkspur, 1-0 at Novato.

It was the first loss of the season for the Giants, who had won 10 games in a row.

The Mustangs, who now trail Redwood by one game with three left to play, got the game's only run in the first inning when catcher Jack Burnam bounced a single to left-field to score Steve Francis from second.

From that point on Smith, who took his first loss of the season after winning six, battled Bueler on even terms. But the win belonged to the tall right-hander who was not even considered good enough to start against Redwood the last time the teams faced each other.

That game was a near carbon copy of yesterday's affair, except that the Giants scored the winning run in the first inning and won, 2-1. Smith was the winning pitcher then.

Bueler, however, was not to be denied yesterday. In winning his seventh game without a loss, he gave up only five hits and struck out nine. Statistically he was not as good as Smith, who struck out ten and allowed only three hits. But this one wasn't won on statistics. Bueler did it by getting the Giants out when it counted. And with only one run to work on, it counted every inning.

Only once was he in trouble, in the fifth when the Giants loaded the bases with three successive singles after two were out. But he struck out Kevin Ward, and for the last three innings did not allow a hit.

In the first inning it looked as though San Marin might blow the game open. With one out Steve Francis got on when Giant third baseman Joe Caito misplayed his ground ball, Ken Gnoss, the league's leading hitter, drew a walk, and then Burnam chopped his single through the hole to left, where Frank Pomilia had a hard time handlingit. Francis scored easily on the hit and Burnam and Gnoss moved up on the error to occupy second and third.

That's where the rally died, however, as Gnoss ran headlong into a missed squeeze attempt by Bruce Holberg, who then struck out to end the inning.

A crowd of about 200 witnessed the classic contest and at the end San Marin Coach Mike Quinn summed up the Mustangs' effort with a confident nod. "I told you we'd take them" he grinned.

Bueler was not available for comment. In the excitement of the moment he managed to slip off with his girl friend.

Fuentes Really Muscles Up; Giants Vs. Dodgers Tonight

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Third baseman Tito Fuentes of the San Francisco Giants says he had his biggest night in five years as a major leaguer because he was worried.

"I hit two homers against the Mets in 1966," the little Cuban said, "but this is the first time I ever drove in five runs."

Fuentes' triple and his second home run of the season scored all the Giants' runs Wednesday night as San Francisco beat San Diego 5-1 to capture the third and deciding game of their three-game series.

"I was worried at the start of the game," Fuentes said, "when I looked at the scoreboard and saw I was hitting only .234. I wanted to be sure I stayed in the lineup until we reached Los Angeles because I have always hit well there."

The Giants open a four-game series in Los Angeles tonight sending ailing ace Juan Marichal, 1-0, against the Dodgers' young Sandy Vance, 2-1.

Rich Robertson, now 3-2, earned his third straight victory Wednesday night throttling San Diego on three hits but blamed himself for not tossing a shutout.

Third baseman Steve Huntz and second baseman Dave Campbell of the Padres committed errors in the seventh inning before Fuentes broke open the 2-1 game with his three-run homer.

Game On Television

Tonight's Giant-Dodger game will be televised on Channel 2, beginning at 8 o'clock.

The tall righthander let the Padres score their only run in the second when his two-out wild pitch let Ivan Murrell come home after doubling and moving to third on an infield tap.

A walk to Dick Dietz and a single by Frank Johnson set up two fifth inning San Francisco runs when Fuentes followed with a triple.

Patterson Sparks Patio Club Victory

The Patio Club demolished the Flintstones, 23-8 Tuesday night in a San Rafael Adult Softball League game that featured four hits by the Patio Club's Rich Patterson.

14 Horses Entered In Preakness

BALTIMORE (AP) — Dust Commander, the winner of the Kentucky Derby, and 13 other 3-year-olds were entered today for Saturday's 95th running of the Preakness, the second leg of the Triple Crown.

Other Derby horses entered for the Preakness were: Raymond M. Curtis' My Dad George ; William C. Robinson Jr.'s Admiral's Shield; Her-Jac Stable's Naskra; Dr. Richard Kuhn's and Walter Hickey's Robin's Bug; Sonny Werblin's Silent Screen; and Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs' High Echelon and Personality.

Also entered were: Riderdale Farm's Stop Time; Mrs. Merle Weisman's Oh Fudge; Rex Ellsworth's Plenty Old; James P. Mills' Buzhashi; Lawrence P. Boyce's Hark The Lark; and Nelson B. Hunt's Sir Wiggle.

If all 14 go, the gross purse will be $203,800, making it the first $200,000 race in Triple Crown history. The winner's share would be $151,300.

A's Even Record At 16-16

OAKLAND (AP)—Most managers are not happy when their baseball team wins only half its games. But John McNamara of the Oakland Athletics is.

The A's crushed the Washington Senators 8-1 Wednesday night to even their season record at 16-16.

"There were times when I didn't think we would make it," McNamara said. "Now things are starting to fall into place."

ODOM STRONG

The latest ingredient in what the A's hope will add up to a drive toward the American League West lead was a strong pitching performance by John Odom.

Odom won his third game against two defeats by limiting the Senators to three hits in six innings. Rollie Fingers finished up to earn his third save of the year.

Odom was out of action for most of the last month with a sore arm and his return gives the Oakland pitching staff the depth it has lacked.

NEEDS WORK

"I need lots of work," Odom said. "When I don't pitch I'm wild. I wanted to pitch this time

IN SELECT GROUP

A Mod Cerrudo In Colonial Golf

By JIM WILLIAMS

FORT WORTH — Ron Cerrudo, whose trademark has become flashy bell-bottoms, teed off today in select company as the 25th Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament opened with the annual threat of rain and gusty winds.

His partners in today and tomorrow's first two rounds were Gary Player, picked by the press to capture the title, and Bob Goalby.

The former San Rafael golfer, who now calls home the Silverado Country Club in Napa, checked the courts out yesterday in the opening pro-amateur, firing a very respectable one over par 71. He had a 36 on the front nine, which included two birdies, a bogey and a double bogey. He matched par on the back nine, including a birdie on the par three 15.

"With this wind, I'll be happy to settle for four rounds of 70," the easy-going Cerrudo said following the kickoff round. "But we've been playing in the wind practically every week.

"I'm driving as well as I ever have, but my iron and putting game has really been hurting. All I have to do is put together one good tournament to get it going again."

Hogan was scheduled to play today in what he has called his final tournament after the sensational effort in Houston in his first tournament in three years.

Cerrudo is currently plagued with back trouble which has kept him in a brace when not playing.

The winner of the Texas Open at San Antonio, Cerrudo has earned $35,000 so far this year.

"I'll be playing every weekend through the National Open before dropping off the tour again," he added. "I miss the quiet life at Napa; it's really great."

Dolcini's Mighty Wrist

By RALPH CHATOIAN

For a guy who entered his first wristwrestling tournament just to pay for the price of his admission ticket, Jim Dolcini has come a long way. All the way to the top.

"We were just going to the movies the night they were holding the wristwrestling tourney," said Dolcini, "and decided to drop in and watch it. They told us we would get our $3 admission back if we entered and so we did. That way we all got in free."

Well, his buddies were early losers but he made it all the way to the semifinals of the middleweight class.

"They kept telling me to hurry up and lose so we could go to the show," he grinned. Among the gang of boys he was with was Mike, his brother. The two Dolcini boys have been entering ever since.

Jim Dolcini admits he got a break by not going up against the defending champ, Duane (Tiny) Benedix, the man who won the title the two previous years. He missed the '70 tourney because of a shoulder injury.

"I don't know how I would do against him," Dolcini said about Tiny. "I knew he's real good, but I've never arm wrestled nim. I just don't know."

After that first year in the world championships, Jim returned for two more years of middleweight competition finishing second his sophomore year and then winning his junior year. As a senior at Petaluma High, the husky lad was now 215 pounds and had to compete in the unlimited class.

"I didn't do too good," he said about the 1969 tourney. "I think I lost in the second or third match."

While at Petaluma High, Dolcini was a star football player, and was named most valuable player his senior year. He played fullback, defensive end, and his senior year played linebacker and guard. H was a defensive end last season for the Santa Rosa Junior College Bear Cubs.

"I've been arm wrestling for a long time," said Dolcini. "We used to do it in grammar school and in junior high I used to arm wrestle during lunch."

When not in school, Jim helps with the chores on his father's ranch at 6970 Redhill Road, just off the Petaluma-Point Reyes road. Although within the boundaries of Marin County, it has a Petaluma mailing address and is part of the Petaluma School District.

His father, Arnold T. Jr., is a partner in Dolcini Dairy Ranches and raises beef cattle and quarter horses on the side. He's also president of the Marin County board of Education.

Coming from a large family, (four brothers and two sisters) Jim has lived all his life on the ranch, which has been in the family for 49 years.

Glover Tops Strampe To Capture Masters

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Don Glover of Bakersfield, Calif., representing the Losers Bracket, captured the American Bowling Congress Masters tournament here Wednesday night by defeating Bob Strampe of Detroit.

Glover's performance made it three years in a row that a bowler scored 5 four-game victories in the last day of competition to defeat a kegler from the Winners Bracket of the tournament.

Strampe had defeated Glover the first time they met, 898-862, to force the Californian to come back in the Losers Bracket. It was Glover's only loss during the competition.

Glover started Wednesday with an 882-723 win over John Wilcox of Williamsport, Pa., and then downed Dave Davis of Atherton, Calif., 846-756, putting away John Guenther of Seattle next, 899-834.

Guenther finished third for $2,300 and fourht went to Davis who collected $1,800. Skee Foremsky of Houston captured fifth by edging Wilcox 863-861 for $1,350 and Wilcox collected $1,300.

Final Games For Pac-8 Baseballers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The regular Pacific-8 Conference baseball season concludes this weekend with two post-season playoff spots still undecided.

The top two teams from the southern division will play in a tournament with the top two from the north May 21-21.

Southern California, 9-3, and Washington State, 8-5, have clinched playoff berths. UCLA, 8-5, and California, 8-7, are in the running for the remaining southern division position and Oregon State, 4-5, and Oregon, 4-8, are battling for the remaining northern division spot.

Baseball Groups Far Apart

NEW YORK (AP) — John Gaherin, attorney for the major league club owners, says his group is expected to meet with the Major League Baseball Players Association before the end of this week in an effort to resolve contract disagreements.

Gaherin spoke up after Marvin Miller, director of the Players Association, announced Wednesday that the players had overwhelmingly voted to reject a proposed three-year contract.

MEETING

At the same time, Miller said his group has asked for a meeting with the club owners to resolve differences of the general contract which had expired May 5 after being extended from Dec. 31.

Miller said all of the 24 major league teams, except the Philadelphia Phillies voted against the owners' proposal by a 505-89 margin.

Miller pointed out that the big differences were the 162-game schedule, which the players want shortened, disagreement about the players share of the playoff gate and dissatisfaction with termination pay.

"The sincere feeling that to freeze the over-long frantic schedule of 162 games for three years is not in the best interests of baseball, the fans, the owners or the players," Miller said.

'INEQUITABLE'

"The lack of equity in the owners' proposal to take the lion's share of the new revenue generated by adding still more games to the schedule in the form of divisional playoff series. This departure from the traditional arrangement whereby the World Series revenue has been shared with the players is considered inequitable."

Miller's statement made no mention of a one-day baseball moratorium on a Saturday when the Game of the Week is nationally televised, as some player representatives have hinted.

The major leagues have scheduled a joint meeting Friday to discuss the contract and "several matters of general interest."

SPORTS SHORTS

Arness Is Surfing Champ

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — American surfer Rolf Arness, 18, is the 1970 world surfing champion.

Olympics

AMSTERDAM — Alpine skiing and ice hockey won a reprieve from the International Olympic Committee after governing federations for the two sports pledged that rules would be rigidly adhered to.

Football

Tennis

HURLINGHAM, England — Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., reached the third round of the London Hard Court championships by defeating Richard Russell of Jamaica, B.W.I., 6-2, 6-4.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — Top-seeded Rod Laver of Australia defeated Ray Moore of South Africa, 4-6, 7-5, 6-2, in the opening round of the $50,000 Howard Hughes Tennis Championships.

Horse Racing

INGLEWOOD, Calif. — Pattee Canyon, $3.20, won the West Hollywood Handicap at Hollywood Park by three-quarters of a length over Belle O'Belgium.

Hot Competition In Pac-8 Meet

LOS ANGELES (AP) — By past performances, the Pacific-8 track and field championships this weekend at UCLA are the toughest conference competitions in the United States.

In every event, a world class athlete gets a challenge from another world class athlete.

Trials in most events and finals in four open the schedule Friday. On Saturday the meet will conclude with a spectacle few track meets can match. World records in at least two events are threatened and the meet record in all might be surpassed.

The top competitive race might be the 440 relay. UCLA, the favorite, has run 39.6 seconds this year with Southern California having a 39.8 mark, California a 39.9 and Oregon State a 40.5.

Foyt Turns In Fast Time In Indy Practice

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Don't count A.J. Foyt Jr. out in Saturday's opening time trials for the 54th 500-mile auto race May 30 at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

The Houston veteran, winner of three Indianapolis Memorial Day classics, Wednesday turned in the second-fastest lap of this year's practice session in a Coyote-Ford built in his own factory.

His speed of 169.173 was well under his piston-engine record of 171.625 for one lap on the 2½ mile track, set last year when he won the pole position.

Denis Hulme of New Zealand, whose hands were severely burned Tuesday when his McLaren caught fire, had been near 168 in practice. He said from his hospital room Wednesday that he was not in severe pain but didn't know whether he had any chance to drive before the final qualifications May 24. Doctors said chances were against him.

Strange Rules In Marin League

By DAVID EINSTEIN

The Marin County Athletic League has a few strange rules, including one that says a pitcher must work four innings to get credit for a win. Not a starting pitcher, mind you, but any pitcher.

Thus if a reliever comes in with two innings left and his team behind by three runs, and he proceeds to get the side out, pitch shutout ball the rest of the way, and hit a grand slam homer in the last inning, he doesn't get credit for the win.

What does he get? An Attaboy?

Sometime absurd situations are created not by rules, but rather by the absence of them. You will seldom see, for example, a major league player who is not a pitcher doing the pitching. In high school, however, it is commonplace for a boy to pitch one game and play shortstop the next, and possible for a player to start a game at second base, come in to pitch in relief and finish the game in the outfield.

In the big leagues there is no need to have a rule about that, since it takes care of itself. Very few pitchers can do anything but pitch, and the same holds true for other positions.

But on high school teams, where talent is not so specialized, pitchers are often the best players on the team, and therefore play other positions when they're not pitching.

It is this peculiar balance of the roster that permits mind-boggling situations to arise, as in the Tamalpais-Drake game last Friday, when the battery for Tam read: Dawson, Secor (4), Dawson (5), Secor (6) and Rudolph.

Here is a case of a coach, Tam's Al Ahlsten, carrying the flexibility of the rules to their ridiculous conclusion, and doing it to his advantage, since Tam won the game.

TERRA LINDA'S Class B swimming team and Tamalpais' "B" track and field team, in both cases composed of boys who were stars for their varsities during the regular season, seem headed for high finishes in their respective North Coast Section tournaments.

Terra Linda started last Saturday by placing qualifiers in all but one event of the NCS Division II meet at Miramonte. Trojan coach Charlie Metz was well pleased, and predicted that his team, led by Rick Demont, Keith Strange, Casey Flaherty and Jeff Grant, will finish second to Ygnacio Valley of Concord in the finals this Saturday at Alameda.

Tamalpais, which last Saturday won the class B division of the MCAL track and field championships, is thought by coach Bruce Grant to have a chance to become the first team from Marin County to ever win in the NCS. The Indians will be banking on distance runners Vian Collier and Mike Arago, who Saturday shattered league records for the mile and two miles respectively. Arago cut 13 seconds off the old mark with a time of 9:52.2.

GORDON TOVANI, the "World's Greatest Barefoot Place-kicker," will stage his second annual "Tovani Place-Kicking Clinic" Saturday at San Rafael High School.

Northern California high schools will participate in the day long affair, which will feature demonstrations and discussions of the importance of field goal kicking by Jim Otto and Wayne Hawkins of the Oakland Raiders.

As a sidelight, the A. G. Spalding Corp. will display all varieties of football equipment in the San Rafael gym, including "The World's Largest Football."

That Tovani's program has been successful is evidenced by the fact that last season the number of field goals in the MCAL increased remarkably over the previous year's total.

Manchester Soccermen Triumph

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Manchester United defeated Eintracht Frankfurt 2-1 in a hard-fought soccer game at Kezar Stadium Wednesday before 15,000 spectators.

The two teams play again Sunday afternoon at Los Angeles Coliseum.

Scoreless the first half, the game broke open in the first minute of the second half when Manchester star George Best dribbled the ball down and across the field and then shot a 30-yard grass-cutter past the off-balance German goalie.

Eintracht scored two minutes before the end on a cross by Fahrudin Jusifi of Yugoslavia headed in by Bernd Holzenbein. Eintracht then surged toward another goal but was cut off by the end of the game.

Saleme, Foust Win In Rec Softball

Jim Walker hit two home runs and Stacy Schafer pitched a three-hitter to lead Saleme Construction to an 11-2 victory over McKenzie's Bootery in the San Rafael Softball League last night at Albert Field.

In the evening's other game, Don Maddon pitched Foust Chevron to a 1-0 victory over the Mustangs in a torrid pitching battle with Stan Gilstrap. Gilstrap yielded two infield singles and Maddon gave up five singles.

BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG

with only two days rest to get my control back."

Don Mincher drove in three runs and Sal Bando two to pace Oakland.

Washington manager Ted Williams was puzzled by a hitting slump that has paralyzed the Senators' batting attack.

"Our hitting stinks," the batting master said. "The same thing happened at this time last year when we were 1-9 on a road trip."

"I'd have them out for batting practice in the morning if we didn't get home so late," Williams said. The Senators got back to Washington at 7:30 this morning.

The A's take today off before opening a four-game series in the Coliseum with the California Angels Friday night.

Redwood Tennis Team Backs Up Win No. 46

Eleven down and three to go is the record of the awesome Redwood High School tennis team following a 4-1 Marin County Athletic League victory over Marin Catholic High at College of Marin courts in Kentfield yesterday.

It was the Larkspur team's 46th straight victory, 11th this year with only 3 matches left on the MCAL schedule. The Giants were out to clinch a tie for the title against second place Tamalpais today.

Singles — Bob Knight (R) d. Bill Kinser, 8-10, 6-1, 6-4; Andy Walker (R) d. John Beritzhoff, 6-1, 6-1; Gary Walter (R) d. Tony Larkin, 6-4, 6-0; Doubles — Kevin Madera-Brian Aureguy (M.C.) d. Mark Rodnick-Mike Demartini, 9-7, 1-6, 6-3; Steve DeMartini-Jay Stokes (R) d. Etienne Rolin-John Perrone, 6-2, 6-2.

BASEBALL ROUNDUP

Gentry One-Hits Cubbies; Oliver's Slam Does Job

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The difference between 1-for-27 and 1-for-29 is four . . . runs, that is.

The Chicago Cubs went 1-for-27 Wednesday—Ernie Banks' two-out single in the eighth inning their only hit off Gary Gentry—and came out on the short end of a 4-0 score to the New York Mets.

Pittsburgh's Al Oliver is 1-for-29, but that hit was a grand slam homer that powered the Pirates past the St. Louis Cardinals and Bob Gibson 5-1.

In other National League action, Tito Fuentes drove in all the San Francisco runs with a triple and home run as the Giants whipped San Diego 5-1; Rusty Staub's single, double and homer lifed Montreal by Philadelphia 7-6 and Houston held off Los Angeles 6-5. Atlanta and Cincinnati were not scheduled.

American League scores were Minnesota 5, Baltimore 4 in 10 innings; Kansas City 1, Cleveland 0 in 12; Milwaukee 3, the New York Yankees 1; California 5, Boston 3 and Oakland 8, Washington 1. The Chicago White Sox and Detroit were rained out.

Fireballing right-hander Gentry was within four outs of the Mets' first-ever no-hitter when Banks, who hit his 500th career home run a day earlier, became the spoiler. His line drive eluded left fielder Dave Marshall, who tried to make a shoestring catch but had the ball kick off his glove.

"There's no question but that it was a hit," said the 23-year-old Gentry. "I wanted to throw him a low inside fast ball hoping he would pop it up against that wind that was coming in. But I didn't get it where I wanted. It wasn't a cheap hit and I'm glad of that."

The only other Cubs to reach base were Ron Santo, who walked in the fifth, and Willie Smith, who was hit by a pitch in the ninth. Gentry fanned seven as the Mets took the first 1970 meeting between last year's bitter rivals.

Oliver hit his tie-breaking grand slam in the sixth inning following singles by Matty Alou and Roberto Clemente and an intentional walk to Willie Stargell.

Staub drove in four runs as Montreal sent the Phillies to their seventh straight setback, despite two homers and five RBI by Don Money. Staub doubled home the tie-breaking run in the eighth and Ron Fairly followed with a decisive two-run double.

Houston, which hadn't beaten Claude Osteen since 1968, snapped a string of seven straight losses to the Dodger lefty. Joe Pepitone cracked a three-run homer and Doug Rader hit a solo shot but what proved to be the winning run scored in the eighth on four walks by reliever Jose Pena.

Tiny Lund Wins Ninth In Row

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Tiny Lund of Cross, S.C., continued his winning streak Wednesday night by winning the NASCAR Grand American 200 at the State Fairgrounds.

It was Lund's ninth consecutive victory in the Grand American division, moving him to within one victory of the record of 10 set by Richard Petty. Lund will go after the tie Sunday at Dover, Del.

The next three drivers in order were Ken Rush of High Point, N.C., in a 1968 Camaro; Jimmy Vaughn of Maryville, Tenn., in a 1068 Camaro; and Ray Hendrick of Richmond, Va., in a 1968 Camaro.

Carl Beam, Master Distiller, and his wife live in a big old home right on the grounds of the Beam distillery in Clermont, Kentucky. Carl's a nephew of the famous Col. Jim Beam, and fifth generation of the only Kentucky family that's made the same Bourbon since 1795.

Carl's just as particular about the ingredients that go into his Bourbon as his wife is about the fruits and vegetables she puts up for winter. And they're both extremely careful about the way in which their recipes are prepared.

Carl's formula goes back 175 years, all the way back to Jacob Beam, who sold his first barrel of Kentucky Straight Bourbon Whiskey in 1795. Since then, six generations of Beams have made Bourbon the way Jacob did, according to a formula that's been a Beam family secret, practiced as a family art.

So the next time you have a chance to taste Jim Beam, savor it for a moment. Notice its quality and its light taste. That's what we mean when we say it's a 175-year-old family art.

Only The Poorest Of Players Gets Miserable Slam Action

A friend of mine called up to say he had bid 99 slams the previous night. Naturally I asked him why he hadn't said he had bid a hundred, but he pointed out that he wasn't going to make himself a liar for one miserable slam. As you can imagine, several of the slams he played were pretty miserable — including the one shown here today.

LOW CLUB

West opened the ten of clubs, and my friend won with the queen. Then he led the king of spades. So far, so good.

West thought things over and decided not to take the first trump trick. Now if South led another trump West would win and lead a third trump, whereupon the hand would go up in smoke.

Declarer saw the danger of leading another trump, so he took the top diamonds and ruffed a diamond in dummy. East overruffed, and that was that. Only 98 other slams to go.

SHORTER SUIT

South needs two ruffing tricks to make sure of the slam, and he should see the danger of trying to ruff diamonds in the dummy. There is far less danger if he ruffs hearts in his own hand, partly because the suit is shorter (only six hearts, compared to seven diamonds) and partly because only the ace of trumps can overruff any of South's ruffs.

After winning the second trick with the king of spades, South should cash the top hearts and ruff a heart. West cannot gain by overruffing. If West discards a club, South overtakes the king of clubs with dummy's ace and ruffs dummy's last heart.

If West discards another club (as good a defense as any), South leads his last trump. West can take the ace of trumps, but now South can safely ruff the third round of diamonds in the dummy and draw the last trump with dummy's jack.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two diamonds. This weak raise shows about six to 10 points, counting distribution as well as high cards, without any suit that you can bid at the level of one. oDn't respond 1- no-trump when you have fine support for partner's suit.

Today is Thursday, May 14th, the 134th day of 1970 with 231 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase. The morning stars are Saturn and Mercury. The evening stars are Venus, Mars and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1904 the Olympic games were held in the United States for the first time, at St. Louis.

In 1940 Nazi planes bombed the Dutch city of Rotterdam, killing an estimated 30,000 persons.

In 1942 Congress established the WAACS, the Woman's Auxiliary Army Corps, for World War II duty.

In 1969 President Nixon proposed an all-out withdrawal of all U.S. allied and North Vietnamese troops from South Vietnam.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Teachers' Mutual Fund Doing Alright

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. We are interested in investing in a long-range growth fund and would like to know if the NEA Mutual Fund fulfills this qualification? — H.V. I would like your opinion concerning the National Education Assn. Mutual Fund. — S.S. and J.M.

A. This diversified growth fund was established in 1964 to enable members of the National Education Assn. to purchase its shares at a small fee — 2 per cent load charge. The fund's assets of $15.8 million are 70 per cent invested in common stock with a portfolio turnover rate of approximately 92 per cent. In the five years it has operated, performance has been average or above. In 1969, NEA's asset value declined only 9.4 per cent, and above - average performance; and thus far into 1970 the fund has outperformed general market averages.

Q. I have 250 shares of Curtiss-Wright, 50 of which I received from the recent split. My original per-share cost was 32. Even adjusting for the split, I have a sizeable loss. Should I hold! — A.J.

A. Curtiss-Wright management has sought to change from a prime contractor for the aerospace industry to a subcontractor specializing in high quality industrial and nuclear products.

The cost of this changeover was apparent in the first quarter 1970 earnings. Net per share slipped from 35 cents to 5 cents on an 8.2 per cent drop in sales. Market performance is currently registering some doubt as to the safety of the dividend.

Lower sales and earnings which are predicted for 1970 would delay share recovery.

Marin New Car Sales Climb; Imports Threaten To Gain Edge

New car registrations in Marin County last year were up 14 per cent.

Most spectacular performers among the vavious makes were the imports, good reason for growing concern my American manufacturers, crashing the field this year with new subcompact models in an attempt to make some recovery in this segment of the market.

Datsun led all cars with percentage gains in new registrations — 95 per cent — though the volume is still low enough not to be a major challenge. Immediate threat to American manufacturers seems to be Toyota, with the second highest percentage gain of 62.7 per cent. Last year it also progressed from sixth place among all makes in Marin to fourth place, outdistancing Plymouth and Pontiac. Volkswagen maintained its local hold on third place with 1,345 new registrations, reflecting a comfortable 15 per cent increase. But it could lose this position to Toyota in another two years if present percentage increases continue. All other imports totaled 1,549 new registrations — up 52.6 per cent from 1968.

Ford continued in the lead, with 2,172 new car registrations and a gain of 22.4 per cent. Chevrolet was in second place with its total of 1,528, but the 1969 increase was only 11 per cent.

Modest gains were made by Pontiac, Buick, Dodge, Oldsmobile, Rambler, Cadillac, Lincoln and Imperial. Down were Plymouth, Mercury and Chrysler.

IT IS UNDERSTANDABLE why Marin automotive dealer George Dexter is moving into a more vigorous operation of his Toyota dealership.

Dexter acquired the Toyota franchise from the estate of the late Hil Probert about two years ago and has conducted business at the same address in Larkspur under the name of Dexter Toyota.

He is now going ahead with plans for new showrooms at 445 Francisco Boulevard in San Rafael. In about 30 days Zoellner Construction Co. will start work here on a new three-building sales and service complex of 19,000 square feet on the two-acre site Dexter purchased from the City of San Rafael. Completion should be sometime in September.

And if Datsun should move into the big time, he has that sewed up, too — in Anne Motors.

TWO MARIN MEN have received new appointments with Arthur G. McKee Co., San Francisco.

F. G. Palancis of San Rafael has been appointed manager of petroleum and chemicals. He has been with the firm since 1961 and lived in Cleveland before being transferred to the San Francisco office.

C. F. Skinner of Larkspur, formerly assistant division manager and general sales manager, has been named assistant to the senior vice president. Before going with McKee he was with Western Machinery Co.

ROBERT J. PERSON of San Rafael, vice president and director of marketing for the Bank of America, has been named to the marketing planning council of the American Management Association, Inc. He has been with the bank since 1967 and has had more than 20 years of banking and finance experience and has served as an instructor on marketing at several universities and for seminars.

Person Sisk

WILLIAM L. SISK of Novato has been appointed a district manager for Equitable Life Assurance Society of the U.S. He joined the company in 1968 and is associated with the San Rafael agency.

Legend Of Mountain Returns

Independent-Journal
SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

ON WAY TO WEDDING — Tamalpa, played by Petra Chambers, heads for her wedding feast and the evil spirits, dancing along the path, part to make way for her in "Tamalpa," the Legend of the Mountain, by Dan Totheroh which will be presented as the 53rd annual mountain play at the Mountain Theater, Mount Tamalpais, Sunday and May 24 at 2 p.m. (Independent-Journal Photos by Bob Hax)

SACRIFICE — Bruce Gerhard, playing the hero Piayutuma, holds the dying Tamalpa, played by Petra Chambers, who poisoned herself to free him from her spell so he could continue his mission to save his stricken people.

HAPPY ENDING — Jack Williams playing the Great White Spirit announces that Tamalpa will never die as a reward for her sacrifice, and will live on the mountain top forever.

★ FRANKLY, WE'RE SPEECHLESS!

Yes, we've run out of adjectives that describe this immaculate 3,300 sq. ft. custom ranch home on a private 1/3 acre level site in Sleepy Hollow. We can't tell you about the oversized "showplace 2½ baths", the huge 4 bedrooms, plush carpets and drapes. Don't ask about the landscaping and its old oaks. They're indescribable. We can tell you that this home is extra-special & can't be duplicated at $67,-500. See it with one of our speechless representatives.

SUMMONS (MARRIAGE)
Case Number 613655

Superior Court of the State of California for the City and County of San Francisco

and

Respondent: DINA BLOCK WALKER

To the Respondent:

The petitioner has filed a petition concerning your marriage. You may file a written response within thirty days of the date that this summons is served on you. If you fail to file a written response within such time, your default may be entered and the court may enter a judgment containing injunctive or other orders concerning division of property, spousal support, child custody, child support, attorneys' fees, costs, and such other relief as may be granted by the court.

If you wish to see a lawyer for advice in this matter, you should do so promptly so that your written response, if any, may be filed on time.

RETIREMENT PREPARATIONS — Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. McKeay ready their outboard motor boat at their home in Novato. He will retire on June 30 after 38 years in education. The McKeays enjoy boating and fishing and are looking forward to the leisure time when they can boat, fish and travel without the responsiblities of work. (Independent-Journal photo)

Novato High School's Creator, Robert McKeay, Set To Retire

By THERON A. NEWELL

If anyone can be called the father of Novato High School, that man is Robert J. McKeay.

He worked for a year planning and organizing the high school in 1954 before it was opened. He was there when the first class of 96 freshmen enrolled in 1955.

Each succeeding year, one more class was added until the first class, 83 of the original 96, graduated in 1959. That class held its 10th reunion last year.

That was but one of the highlights of 38 years in public education which will come to an end on June 30 when he retires.

That length of service in public education alone is something to be proud of, but he has set another record. In all of that 38 years, he has never missed a day on the job.

What kind of a man could set two such enviable records?

McKeay, although not tall, has the build of a football player, kept in shape in spite of his 64 years. He is always friendly with a twinkle in his eye and a ready smile. He has time for everyone.

This leasurely appearance of his is deceiving, because it masks a dynamo of action. His well-organized mind always seems to get everything done when it needs to be done both on the job and in his other activities.

He was born in the little town of Montezuma, Iowa, east of Des Moines and started high school there. He completed it in Santa Cruz, then earned his bachelor's degree at San Jose State College in 1931 and his master's degree from Stanford University in 1952. He holds the general secondary teaching certificate, general junior high school teaching certificate and general administrative certificate — all life certificates.

His teaching career started in Mendocino, a small town on the Mendocino County coast in 1932 where he taught industrial arts and coached all athletics.

He became principal of Wheatland High School in Yuba County in 1941. Two years later, he took a job teaching woodshop and coaching in Albany High School in the East bay. From there, he went to Tomales High School in 1945 where he was superintendent-principal.

When the newly formed Novato Unified School District needed someone to organize and plan Novato High School, it tapped the knowledge and energy of McKeay. The first year was just planning and organizing.

"We were criticized for not offering all of the courses of a large high school, but I feel that those original students received perhaps a better education because of their close contact with the teachers," he said.

As principal of Novato High from 1955 to 1963, he guided the growth of the school until it had 1,100 students and was known as one of the best high schools scholastically and athletically in the county.

Then in 1963 he took over the adult evening high school and the work experience program. He is still head of both.

He married Martha Meyer in Santa Cruz in 1931. They have three children: Yvonne, now mrs. George Start of La Habre, Los Angeles County; Roger McKeay of Santa Rosa and Martin McKeay of Novato and seven grandchildren.

When they moved to Novato, they bought a house on half an acre at 1920 Novato Boulevard, which they still own.

Nor was school enough to keep McKeay busy. He has been a member of the Novato Lions club for 20 years. In it he helped the club develop Lions Park at Stafford Dam. It also held an annual July 4 bean feed so that families could enjoy a picnic holiday without being out on the highway.

He is a member of the Masonic Order, York Rite Bodies. On March 20 this year, he was awarded the Knight of-York Cross of Honor. He is also a member of the Novato Teachers Association, the Principals' Association, Adult Educators' Association, the California Work Experience Education Program and Adult Educators' Association.

He and his wife have three hobbies: Gardening on their half-acre, traveling and fishing. They have traveled in Europe, the United States, Alaska and Japan. The biggest fish he ever caught was a 42-pound halibut at Dillon Beach.

When asked what was the most rewarding experience in his career, he said that there were several.

"First, it was gratifying to watch the Novato High School program grow from nothing to a recognized school of 1,100 students," he said.

"Then there is the knowledge that I helped 700 to 800 potential dropouts get jobs and continue their high schooling through the work experience program," he said.

"However, I think the most gratifying is the adult program in which we have helped adults who have been denied the opportunity for years of getting an education, to get their high school diploma."

Ford Declines Soviet Bid To Build Red Truck Plant

DETROIT (UPI)—Ford Motor Co. has turned down the Soviet Unon's request to help build the world's largest truck factory in Russia, Henry Ford II, board chairman, said today.

Ford's announcement at the annual stockholders meeting came two days after Defense Secretary Melvin Laird told a meeting of the Detroit Economic Club he was opposed to "exporting American technology to the Soviet Union while they are sending trucks to North Vietnam."

However, Ford added that his company still is considering exchanging "nonstrategic technical information" with the Soviets as they had requested.

Ford also announced what had been an ill-kept secret–that his company had been working on a minicar and would put it on the market in September. The car is named the Pinto. It will be the smallest American-built car on the market, he said.

Ford made an 11-day visit to the Soviet Union in April and announced at the end of it that he was considering a proposal to build a truck factory on the Kama River in eastern Russia which would produce 150,000 vehicles annually.

"With regard to our participation in a commercial vehicle program, I have advised the Soviet government that it is not feasible for us to give further consideration to their proposal," Ford told the stockholders.

Rights Group Future On Tap

The Marin County Human Rights Commission will meet tonight to ponder its future in the wake of a recommendation that it be dissolved.

In a move to keep the tax rate from soaring, County Administrator Alan Bruce recommended last week the commission be eliminated in 1970-71 along with two other county departments.

The commission meeting will start at 8 p.m. in the planning commission chambers at the Civic Center.

The commissioners also are scheduled to elect new officers, discuss tenants' rights legislation, hear various committee reports, and meet new commissioners Dale R. Jackson and Frederick S. Mayer.

Personal Income Up Last Month

WASHINGTON (AP) — Personal income jumped a record $17.8 billion during April, but the increase was entirely the result of higher Social Secuirty payments and the 6 per cent federal pay raise, the Commerce Department reported today.

Income rose to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $801.1 billion, up from $783.3 billion in March. The rate for the first four months of this year was $784.2 billion, compared to $727.1 billion for January through April, 1969.

Without the one-time government payments, the department said, this key indicator of the nation's economic condition would have fallen.

Both the government pay raise and the Social Security increase included some retroactive payment.

Private sector wages and salaries fell $1.5 billion. Corporate dividends, however, rose slightly — to $25.3 billion from $25.2 billion in March and in February.

Personal income includes wages, earnings of farmers and self-employed businessmen, rental income, dividend payments and Social Security, minus workers' Social Security tax payments.

The April increase was the largest since income rose $15.4 billion in September 1965. The next month, October, it fell by almost $4 billion, however. That was the most recent decline.

Soviets, Chinese May Unite Over Indochina

LONDON (UPI)—The Soviet Union has proposed to Peking that they close ranks and establish a joint Indochina policy to pressure American withdrawal from Southeast Asia, authoritative diplomatic sources said today.

Moscow also asked Communist China to allow unhindered stepped up Soviet arms shipments to North Vietnam, they said.

Le Duan, the North Vietnamese Communist Party chief and virtual successor to Ho Chi Minh, has been traveling between Moscow and Peking the past 10 days, carrying the Kremlin's plan and Peking's counterproposals.

Peking's acceptance of the Soviet plan for a joint Sino-Soviet Indochina policy front could ease, at least on the diplomatic level, the festering Sino-Soviet conflict.

Failure of the Soviet initiative could signal Chinese determination to go it alone in the Far East to the detriment of Russian influence, the sources said.

Le Duan, who attended the Lenin anniversary celebrations in Moscow last month flew to Peking about 10 days ago with notes from the Kremlin urging Red China to join Russia in Indochina policy.

Le Duan brought back a message in which Peking asked Russia to follow its move and recognize the exile regime of ousted Prince Norodom Sihanouk of Cambodia, the sources said.

The sources said the Russians asked Peking to remove existing restrictions on the transport through Chinese territory of Soviet supplies to North Vietnam. Authoritative sources said China has been delaying the shipments and restricting their quantities.

Moscow promised Hanoi to resume new arms shipments in the light of new developments in Southeast Asia, notably the American push into Cambodia. The supplies now have to go around the Cape of Good Hope because of closure of the Suez Canal.

Stanford Makes 22nd Heart Swap

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — Eric Wainwright, 62, received a transplanted heart from an anonymous donor in a 4½ hour operation at Stanford Medical Center Wednesday night.

Wainwright, who had suffered from severe heart disease the past eight months, was reported in satisfactory condition today.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Australian Tries Sunburn Pill; American Doctor Pessimistic

An Australian physician has developed a simple oral therapy for sunburn. He has used the method for 5 years.

One of his patients was a 24-year-old fair-skinned housewife who fell asleep for two and a half hours on the beach.

By evening, her fiery red skin was so painful that the physician was called. He gave her Chymoral tablets (an enzyme) and Periactin, an antihistamine.

THE DOSAGE was repeated every four hours, and when she awakened 15 hours later she was feeling considerably better.

There is little rationale for these remedies and, in all probability, they will meet the same fate as vitamin A and other antihistamines.

Time will tell, but I must admit that although an oral remedy for sunburn would be welcome, it appears unlikely. Because, a burn is an injury to the skin, and although we have tablets to ease the pain and prevent infection, there is nothing we can take by mouth to replace charred tissues.

FOLLOWING OVEREXPOSURE to the infrared rays of Od Sol or a sunlamp, the individual hopes for the best. It is too late for prevention. Applying cold towels or ice packs may bring quick relief. A mild sunburn can then be covered with cold cream, petrolatum, or an anesthetic spray or ointment.

Severe burns with blistering require experienced care. They should be thoroughly cleansed with cool water and covered with ointments such as Sulfamylon, Garamycin, or silver sulfadiazine, which is being clinically tested. In some instances it is necessary to cover the sunburned area with the cleanest cloth available.

ALWAYS CALL the physician when the burn is severe and associated with chills and fever.

CHILBLAINS

A reader writes: One day while walking in below zero weather, I noticed that I had sustained some windburn. This happened in January. The pain is gone, but the marks on my legs are still there. How can I get rid of this unsightly problem.

REPLY

INACTIVE SPERM

I. P. writes: Is conception possible if the sperm is only 10 per cent active?

REPLY

Yes, but the chances are not great. Has your physician suggested any way to make the sperm more viable through the use of sex hormones, thyroid extract, vitamin E, and improvement in general health?

TV PREVIEW

Civil War Trial Offers Top Drama

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Without question the finest video drama of the season, "The Andersonville Trial," directed by George C. Scott, will be presented coast-to-coast on National Educational Television Sunday night.

The two-and-one-half hour production, in color and without commercials, is Saul Levitt's distinguished work about the trial, by a military court, of a commandant whose notorious southern prison camp in the Civil War was responsible for the death of many men.

The commandant's defense is that he was just following orders in his running of the camp and that personal moral responsibility is irrelevant in such a military situation.

Richard Basehart, with Germanic accent, portrays the Swiss-born commandant who has been shattered emotionally by the camp and his trial. William Shatner is the military prosecutor, Jack Cassidy the civilian defense attorney and Cameron Mitchell the general who heads the court.

Good courtroom drama is tough to beat. And "The Andersonville Trial" is a splendid combination of statement and theatricality. There is the harsh, moving point about how the real villain, war itself, makes even decent persons more impersonal toward death. And there is the casually informal, yet tense, atmosphere in this particular military court where the verdict is all too certain.

Finally, there is the superbly drawn relationship of the military lawyer and his civilian counterpart. And it is from this relationship that the play gains an added dimension. To wit:

The military prosecutor wants to prove the commandant's personal moral responsibility for the crimes at his camp. Yet, even though they are on opposite sides, how can one man of the military attack another for following orders? That is attacking the core of military procedure. And the court's presiding general warns his prosecutor to avoid this treacherous philosophical ground.

Doesn't this, however, put the prosecutor in the same position as the commandant — making him simply an instrument of policy, a man who is just taking orders and cannot explore the moral responsibility of the issue? In the end, the prosecutor risks his career and plunges ahead, questioning the commandant to the limit.

And the commandant wants to testify. He wants to explain himself as a man. Only he and his prosecutor are really anxious to pursue the fate of his soul. It is a powerful climax, with a theme that is pertinent whatever and wherever men fight wars.

Private Poll Shows Behr Is Leading

A private poll has shown that Peter H. Behr, GOP candidate for state senator from the Fourth District, holds a strong lead over his two closest rivals in the Republican primary June 2, his staff reported.

The staff - commissioned poll, conducted by the market research firm of Corey, Canapary and Galanis of San Francisco and Los Angeles, gave Behr, a former Marin supervisor, 33 per cent of the GOP vote in Marin, Napa and Solano counties.

Donald Pinkerton, Fairfield councilman, received 18 per cent and Marin attorney Raymond H. Shone, 12 per cent. Hugh O. Pessner of Greenbrae, lumber company owner, received 1 per cent. A total of 36 per cent was undecided.

Behr, with 41 and 29 per cent respectively, polled strongest in Marin and Napa counties, with Pinkerton's 47 per cent highest in Solano.

Behr's staff said the findings were gained from home interviews.

Jail Sentence, Fine For Pot Possession

Michael John Friel, 23, of Sausalito, has admitted in Marin Superior Court that he possessed marijuana at his apartment on Feb. 2, 1969. A similar charge against Valerie Jane Monsour, 24, also of Sausalito, was dismissed.

Judge E. Warren McGuire on Tuesday placed Freil on probation for two years, fined him $250 and sent him to jail for 45 days. He also ordered him to refrain from the use of narcotics and drugs.

GRANVILLE L. BEEDLE

Mill Valley Citizen Nominee

Beedle, 82, of 25 Renz Road, came out of retirement 10 years ago to set up the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce office on Lytton Square and has been chamber secretary-manager ever since.

He was also chosen for his activity in other civic affairs, such as the town's paint-up campaign and establishment of the city's stringent sign ordinance.

Born in Nevada City, Nevada County, Beedle worked for a weekly paper there, then worked for the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce. He held a variety of other jobs in Sacramento, San Francisco and Los Angeles, and finally retired at 65 as office manager in San Francisco for Westinghouse Air Brake Co.

Beedle and his late wife first moved to Mill Valley in 1922 and moved there for good 32 years ago.

The Baroque Consort will present its final concert of the season Sunday at 4 p.m. at the Episcopal Church of Our Saviour, Mill Valley.

Guest artists will be violist Joan Lundblad and violinist Harris Elvebak. Regular members of the consort are Dr. S. Drummond Wolff, conductor and organist - harpsichordist; Michael Gerline, violinist; Patricia Symonds, cellist; and Douglas Delaney, flutist.

Works to be performed are the Concerto "Alla Rustica" and Concerto in A Minor For Flute, Vivaldi; Quintet in G, J. C. Bach; Adagio for Strings and Organ, Albinoni; Quartet for Flute, Violin, Viola and Cello, Giordani; Concerto for Violin, Telemann; and concerto for organ, "The Cuckoo and The Nightingale," Handel.

Jazz, Classics Planned By Band

The San Rafael High School Stage Band will present classical chamber music interspersed with big band jazz and rock idioms in a program entitled "Exploration in Sound" Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Compositions and arrangements by students Charles Gray and Bert Truax will also be presented.

Proceeds will be used to purchase meals for the school marching band during a three-day stay in Disneyland this month.

SUPERVISORS CRITICAL

County Health Plan Sent To Washington

A letter from the Marin County Board of Supervisors expressing concern that authority over community health programs may be slipping away from local agencies will be forwarded to Washington along with Marin County's health plan.

Directors of the Marin Comprehensive Health Planning Council voted 12-0 last night to allow the supervisors to attach their letter to the health plan even though the two groups are at odds on the issue.

The health plan — which took more than two years to draft — lists health programs needed for Marin County as the planning council sees them. The plan, however; does not set priorities, because the health planners said they wanted to leave various local agencies free to decide these.

The report was ordered by the federal government at a prerequisite to the county being eligible for federal he alth grants.

The planning council and the supervisors clashed last week when the plan went before the board for approval, which was not necessary but deemed appropriate by the council. The supervisors, however, balked at adding their stamp of approval noting that state and federal laws seemed to be taking control of health programs from local elected officials.

While the supervisors cannot stop submission of the plan, they did ask the right to attach a letter which is critical of regional health planning. The supervisors made it clear that they were not attacking the council's plan but rather were critical of legislation at the federal level which was making regional planning mandatory.

Thomas F. Campanella of the county administrator's staff told the council that the letter would be critical of the system not of the plan itself.

The supervisors indicated they would send the letter separately if it were not attached to the health plan when submitted.

Dr. Arthur R. Ablin moved for allowing the letter to be attached noting that in this way the letter would "go all the way to the right people," and the unanimous vote followed.

The Comprehensive Health Planning Council last night also:

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation of member Dr. John McGee, who cited a lack of time as the reason for his resignation. He was chairman of the Service Committee and a vice president of the council.

PAYMENT — Authorized payment of $1,726 to the Bay area Regional Health Planning Council, Marin County's assessment for participation in the regional agency.

REVIEW — Reviewed a draft of suggested guidelines in connection with AB 1340, the recent legislation which empowered the local health planning council to pass on all new health facilities to be constructed in the county. The guidelines will be forwarded to the state for adoption by the legislature during this session.

PROGRESS — Heard a progress report on the 1971 regional grant applications.

Firm Will Pay For Telegrams

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Levi Strauss & Co. says it will pay for telegrams employes want to send to the President and congressmen expressing their views on Southeast Asia.

Walter A. Jaas Jr., president of the clothing firm, said Wednesday the company has a definite policy against engaging in political activity as a company but encourages the 15,000 employes "to participate fully in the democratic process."

Contents of the messages, composed on company time, remain private, Haas said.

San Quentin Art Show Set May 23

One of the world's best-selling art shows will be held May 23 when a thousand paintings, wood carvings, plaques and carft work will go on sale in the San Quentin Prison Art Show.

The show is scheduled from 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. at Marin Civic Center. If the audience is true to form, the art work will be snapped up as soon as the doors open.

In last September's show at the prison, $24,000 worth of work was bought by a crowd of 15,000, with $1,800 worth being sold in the first 45 minutes.

The Civic Center show was not held last year because state legislation forbade sale of prison-made goods off the prison grounds. An amendment in the law has made the show possible again this year, and the show at the prison will be held in the fall as usual, Associate Warden James W. l. Park said.

All art sales will be for cash or travelers' checks, Park said. The cash rule has been in effect for several years, since some patrons wrote phony checks to buy the inmates' art work at one show. Sale proceeds will go to the inmates, but the artists will not be at the Civic Center show, Park said.

Peevey Asks Agency To Eye Economy

Michael Peevey, Democratic candidate for state senator from the Fourth District, has proposed creation of a state advisory council to watch the economic pulse of the state and to recommend programs to safeguard its financial health.

Charging the Reagan administration with failure to deal with California's financial problems, Peevey told a group assembled at a campaign coffee in San Rafael: "California is caught in a brutal financial squeeze—we have rapidly escalating prices, that is 'inflation,' and yet unemployment is on the rise and the stocks market is in the doldrums.

Peevey noted that 2,500 workers were being laid off at Mare Island Naval Shipyard in Vallejo and "yet the Reagan administration pretends we have no serious economic problems and the Republican candidates for state Senate hardly say a word about California's economic plight."

Marin, Sonoma Aides To Milias Selected

Robert W. Elliott, a San Rafael attorney, has been named Marin County campaign chairman for Assemblyman George W. Milias, R-Gilroy, a candidate for the Republican nomination for secretary of state in the June 2 primary.

Richard B. Maxwell, a Santa Rosa attorney, has been named to run Milias' Sonoma County campaign.

Bay Area Logging Rules Near Adoption

SANTA CRUZ (AP) — The state Redwood Forest Practices Committee has put final touches on a set of rules to promote a tree-farming type logging in coastal redwood forests.

The rules provide a complex set of requirements for selective cutting of conifers, such as redwoods, to leave enough mature seed trees and small trees to regrow the forest after logging takes place.

About 50 trees per acre must remain. Other controls would prevent stream damage and govern the building of logging roads to halt erosion.

The new regulations were the subject of a hearing here Wednesday and at Portola Valley Tuesday. Formal adoption is expected after a final public hearing June 24-25 at Redwood City. Then they go to the state Board of Forestry for approval and implementation.

The rules would be for enforcement in a new Southern District which includes Marin, San Francisco, San Mateo, Santa Clara, Santa Cruz and Monterey counties.

Local loggers who attended Wednesday's session generally favored the new rules, although some complained they seemed overly strict and might hamper logging operations.

Some county government officials have called for stricter rules to control what they call destructive logging practices.

Santa Cruz, Marin and San Mateo counties particularly have pressed for tougher controls.

Some of their delegates said after Wednesday's action that there still is no means of enforcing the regulations fully because of too many loopholes favoring the loggers.

San Mateo County is backing two bills in the legislature to allow local control of logging, which now is controlled by the state. Opponents to local control have argued that each county would have a different set and that a jungle of rules would result.

Some counties proposed their own regulations, but many of their suggestions were not adopted at the meeting.

"Often we tend to require rules which are a real burden on timber operators," said committee chairman Alfred Merrill, a Georgia-Pacific official from Fieldbrook in Humboldt County.

He said such rules "are not really required for good cutting practices and not consistent with the state act covering timber operations."

Girl, 12, Booked On Heroin Count

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A 12-year-old girl has been booked for investigation of possessing heroin.

Police said the junior high school girl denied being a heroin user Wednesday and said the narcotic was given to her by a 17-year-old boy friend to hold for him.

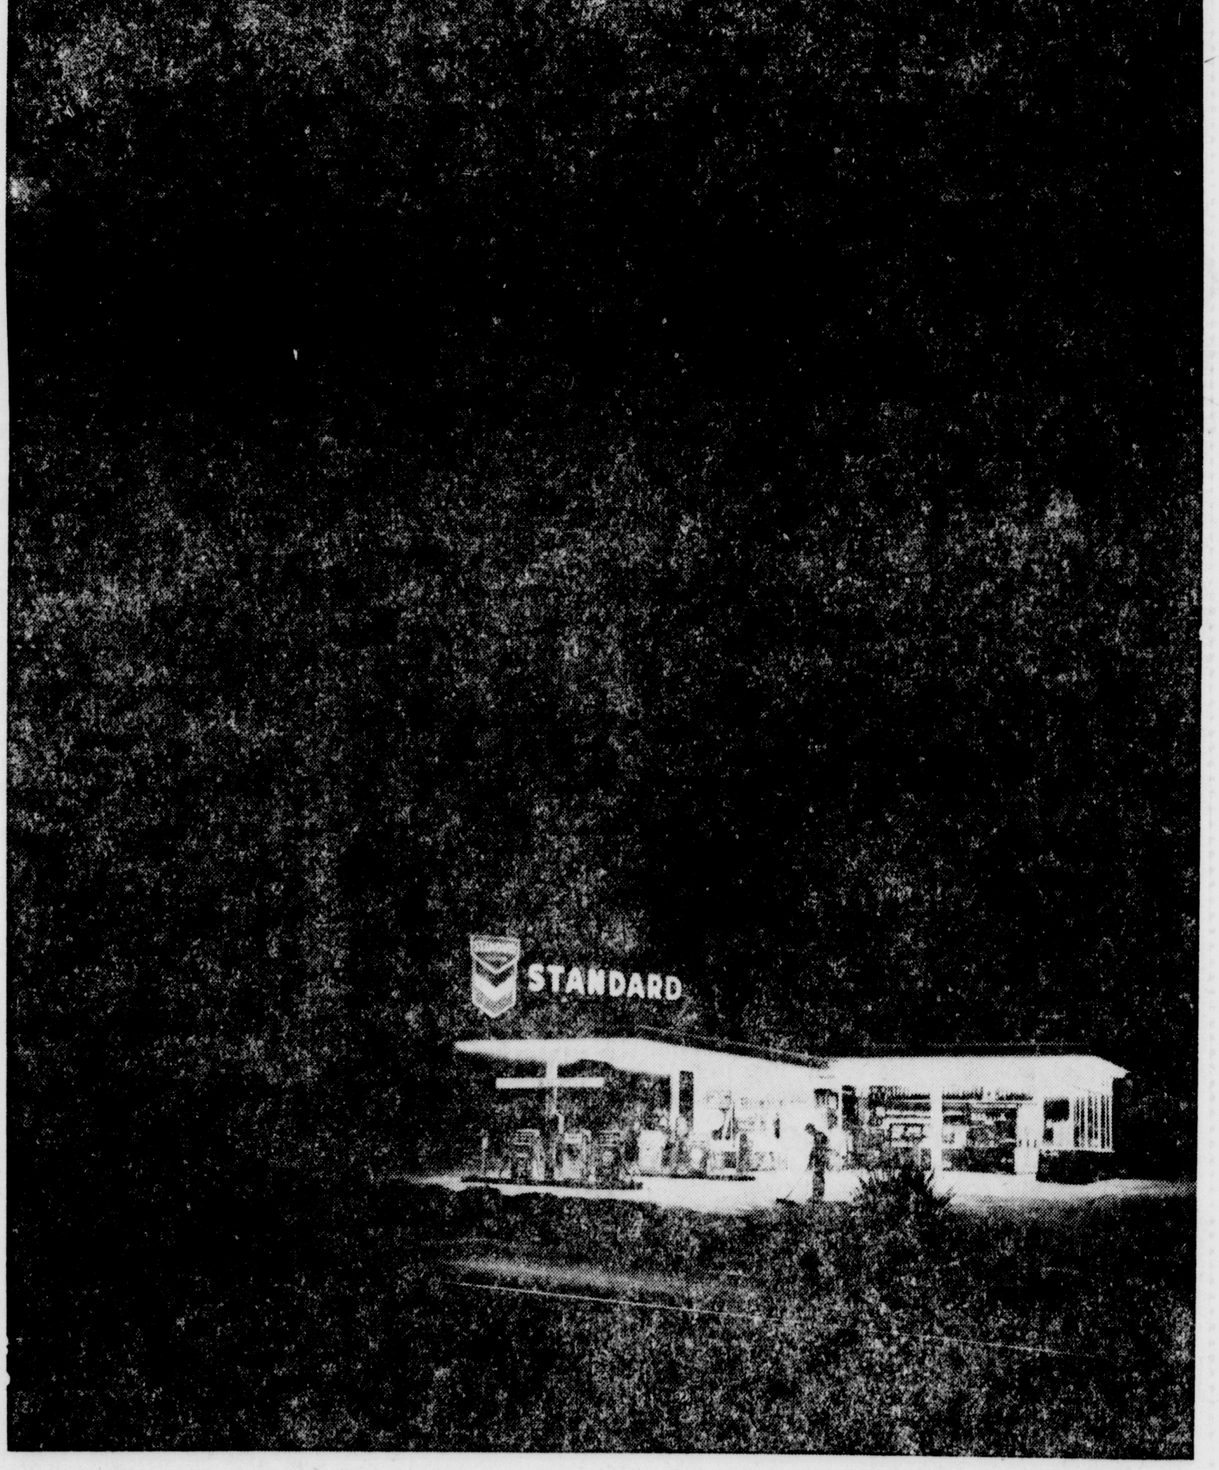
"...crime cannot be controlled without the interest and participation of schools, businesses, social agencies, private groups and individual citizens."

—from A Report by the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice



So from now on, between 10 p.m. and 6 a.m., Standard Stations will operate strictly on a no-cash-on-hand basis.

Consequently, Standard Stations open after 10 p.m. will now accept only the exact change for the amount of purchase. Or a valid credit card. Or, in an emergency, a personal check.

And all currency received after dark will be deposited—posthaste—in a tamper-proof, one-way, safe on the premises. In this way, we hope to protect not only our station employees, but our customers as well.

As the Commission's Report sums it up, ". . . society must seek to prevent crime before it happens . . . and by reducing criminal opportunities."
